

Figures

1.1	History of universities	4
2.1	The know-how carousel	35
2.2	The bifurcation of traditional universities	36
2.3	The third generation as a seven-pointed star	43
3.1	A classification of universities	46
3.2	Organisational structure of Institut Teknologi Bandung	47
3.3	The network of the University of Rousee	58
4.1	Breakdown of research activities in the Technology-Push regime	73
4.2	Evolution of the regimes of research management	83
5.1	The value chain between idea and innovation	90
6.1	Phases in the development of a new enterprise	102
6.2	Financing the development phases of a start-up company	103
6.3	Structure of investment fund	109
6.4	Fund-driven entrepreneurship activities	111
7.1	Traditional university organisation with faculties and cross-faculty transdisciplinary teams	118
7.2	The organisational structure of the third generation university	119
7.3	Schematic flow of finance to the medieval university	124
7.4	Schematic flow of finance to the 2GU	125
7.5	Schematic flow of finance to present universities	125
7.6	Schematic flow of finance to the 3GU	126
7.7	Universities moving from 2GU to 3GU	127
8.1	The market: the university's customers or partners and their needs	135
8.2	Patterns of collaboration and sale from the university's point of view	135
8.3	Organisation of the commercialisation of and cooperation in research	139
8.4	Support Team for technostarters	141
8.5	The four flows of 'raw materials'	144
9.1	Intervention model	154
9.2	Categories of factors comprising the 3GU	157

A1.1	The technological entrepreneur as matching agent between technology and market	166
A1.2	Summary and coherence of definitions	168
A1.3	Technologies according to their effect in the market	171
A1.4	Technological escalation	172
A1.5	Adopter categories in technology diffusion as found by E.M. Rogers	173
A1.6	The five S-curves of the innovation process	173
A1.7	Technological substitution	175
A1.8	Substitution of sail by steam ships	176
A1.9	Technological succession	179
A1.10	Innovation map of a firm	182
A1.11	The Innovation Pentagon	187
A1.12	Potential partners in innovation	189
A1.13	The technology department as innovation centre	190
A2.1	The way of the technostarter	193
A2.2	Synchronised dual education and development of the enterprise	195
A2.3	A comprehensive education programme with various options for study in entrepreneurship	206
A2.4	Summary of academic entrepreneurship courses	207