

Contents

---

List of contributors	vi
Preface	viii
1. Litigating in Korea: a general overview of Korean civil procedure Youngjoon Kwon	1
2. Why do we pursue 'oral proceedings' in our legal system? Hyun Seok Kim	31
3. The reformed criminal procedure of post-democratization South Korea Kuk Cho	58
4. The role of the public prosecutor in Korea: is he half-judge? Heekyoon Kim	87
5. The admissibility of suspect interrogation record in the new era of Korean criminal procedure Yong Chul Park	103
6. The structure and basic principles of constitutional adjudication in the Republic of Korea Jongcheol Kim	115
7. Democratic legitimacy of law and the constitutional adjudication in the Republic of Korea Woo-young Rhee	135
8. Korean Constitutional Court and the due process clause Jibong Lim	160
9. Administrative litigation in Korea: structures and roles in judicial review Hee-Jung Lee	175
10. Korean administrative cases in 'law and development' context Daein Kim	199
11. Principles and structure of patent litigation Sang Jo Jong	219
Index	237