

Contents

List of contributors	vii
PART I APPRECIATION AND INTRODUCTION
1 Jane D'Arista: an appreciation Tom Schlesinger	3
2 Introduction Gerald A. Epstein, Tom Schlesinger and Matias Vernengo	12
PART II FEDERAL RESERVE POLICY
3 From Milton Friedman to Jane D'Arista: the financial crisis and the dilemma facing the central banks James K. Galbraith	25
4 Federal Reserve priorities and the influence of capital: the evolution of monetary policy in the postwar period Martin H. Wolfson	34
5 Heterodox central bankers: Eccles, Prebisch and financial reform Matias Vernengo and Esteban Pérez Caldentey	47
PART III FINANCIAL HISTORY AND INSTITUTIONS
6 Nurturing US securities firms: a century of public policy Robert N. McCauley	73
7 Lessons from the Glass–Steagall Act Ellen D. Russell	100
8 The financial trilemma and the future of American banking Gary A. DymSKI	123
9 Boulevard to broken dreams: the standards-surveillance- compliance system in the run-up to the Crash of 2008 Robert H. Wade	143

PART IV GLOBAL FINANCE

- 10 Would a North American monetary union protect Canada and Mexico against the ravages of “Dutch disease”? A post-financial crisis perspective 171
Robert A. Blecker and Mario Seccareccia
- 11 Rethinking the economics of financial capital mobility and capital controls 203
Thomas Palley
- 12 Global economic volatility and slap-dash repairs to the international financial architecture 225
Patrick Bond

PART V THEORETICAL CONSIDERATIONS

- 13 Liquidity, leverage, and financial instability 261
Lance Taylor
- 14 The decline of traditional banking and endogenous money 275
Korkut Ertürk and Gökçer Özgür
- 15 A new measure of liquidity premium 290
Perry Mehrling and Daniel H. Neilson
- 16 The last refuge of scoundrels: Keynes–Minsky perspectives on the uses and abuses of the “liquidity defense” 319
James Crotty and Gerald A. Epstein
- 17 A note on growth and distribution dynamics in an economy with population aging 351
Codrina Rada
- Index* 367