Contributors

Rosa Castro Bernieri, Università degli Studi di Bologna, Italy
Rosa Castro Bernieri is a Ph.D. candidate for the European Doctorate in Law and Economics at the University of Bologna and Erasmus Rotterdam University. She holds a law degree from Venezuela and a Master degree in Law and Economics from the University of Bologna and Hamburg University. She has been a visiting fellow at the Erasmus Rotterdam University and Max Plank Institute for Intellectual Property, Competition and Tax Law and has lectured on ‘Industrial property’ and ‘Comparative Law and Economics’ courses at the University of Bologna. She is the author of several articles and short pieces about intellectual property and investment and her current research focuses on the law and economics of patent law.

Valeria Falce, LUISS Guido Carli and Università Europea di Roma, Italy
Valeria Falce, Ph.D. in Competiton Law, LL M, London School of Economics, is Assistant Professor in Commercial Law at the Università Europea di Roma, where she teaches Commercial Law, Intellectual Property and Competition Law. Dr. Falce is Senior Research Fellow at the Intellectual Property, Competition and Communications Observatory, LUISS Guido Carli University of Rome. She has been appointed as Independent Expert of the Italian Committee for the Reform of Copyright and has extensively published in competition law, IP and regulation. Her publications include Profili Pro-concorrenziali Dell’istituto Brevettuale (Giuffrè ed., 2008).

Anne Flanagan, Queen Mary, University of London, UK
Anne Flanagan, BA, JD, LL M (Lon), is Senior Lecturer of Law at the Centre for Commercial Law Studies at Queen Mary, University of London and a licensed New York attorney. She teaches on various courses of the Queen Mary’s LL M and M.Sc. in IP Management including Information Law, Telecommunications Law, Cyberspace Law and Competition Law. She is the Chief Examiner and author of the University of London External LL M course in Telecommunications Law and Deputy Examiner and co-author of Intellectual Property on the Internet. Anne has been a Visiting Professor of Law at Università L. Bocconi in Milan, Visiting Scholar at Brooklyn Law School, NY and served as Senior
Contributors

International Expert to the EU-China Information Society Law Project. Anne has participated in law reform, research and training projects for the European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, UNCTAD and the EU. Her research interests include intellectual property, competition law, privacy and data protection, cybercrime and freedom of information law. Before coming to Queen Mary, she practiced law for 16 years in the US financial services industry.

Maria Mercedes Frabboni, Queen Mary, University of London, UK
Maria Mercedes Frabboni, Ph.D. (London), LL M (Hamburg), is the holder of a post-doctoral research position at the Centre for Commercial Law Studies at Queen Mary, University of London. Her research interests principally relate to competition and copyright legal analysis, with particular attention to the management of rights in the creative industries. She has commented extensively on the legal and economic implications of the European reforms concerning music collecting societies, both at conferences and in legal journals. Dr. Frabboni’s current research explores aspects of commercial transactions in the art markets.

Federico Ghezzi, Università L. Bocconi, Italy
Federico Ghezzi is Head of Angelo Sraffa Department of Law at Bocconi University and Professor of Commercial Law. He is a member of CREDI and Baffi research centres. His research focuses mainly on competition law and corporate law, but he has also published in the field of intellectual property law. He is co-director and editor of a Commentary on the ‘New Italian Corporate Law’ (12 volumes, Giuffré-EGEA, Milano 2005–09).

Gustavo Ghidini, Università degli Studi di Milano, Italy
Gustavo Ghidini is Professor of Intellectual Property, Faculty of Law, Milan University. He is also Professor of IP and Competition Law, Faculty of Law, LUISS Guido Carli University, Rome where he is Director of the Intellectual Property, Competition and Communications Observatory. He has been President (2006–08) of ATRIP, International Association for Teaching and Research in Intellectual Property, and founded the law review ‘Concorrenza e Mercato – Orientamenti dell’Autorità Garante’ (Giuffré publisher) of which he is currently co-director. His latest publications include Intellectual Property and Competition Law. The Innovation Nexus (Edward Elgar, Cheltenham, UK 2006).

Jerzy Koopman, Utrecht University, the Netherlands
Jerzy Koopman, LL M (Utrecht 2000), LL M (NYU 2001) is an associated Ph.D. researcher at the Centre for Intellectual Property Law (CIER), Molengraaff Institute, School of Law, Utrecht University, the Netherlands. Jerzy’s work focuses on the patentability of biotechnological inventions from both a narrow legal-technical perspective and a broad societal perspective, which involves notions of sustainability, ethicality and justice. In 2006, his article ‘Patenting biotechnological inventions and morality: law in the line of fire!’, published in Dutch in the journal B.I.E., was awarded the AIPPI/VIE prize. Jerzy also works as an independent life science law counsel for a variety of corporate, public and indigenous stakeholders in life science research and development.

Mariateresa Maggiolino, Università L. Bocconi, Italy

Mariateresa Maggiolino is Assistant Professor of Commercial Law at Angelo Sraffa Department of Legal Studies at Bocconi University. She has a LL M in Comparative Law (University of Iowa). Her latest English publication is the book Intellectual Property and Antitrust: A Comparative Economic Analysis of US and EU Law (Edward Elgar, Cheltenham, UK, forthcoming 2010). She is also widely published in Italian legal journals.

Maria Lillà Montagnani, Università L. Bocconi, Italy

Maria Lillà Montagnani is Assistant Professor of Commercial Law at Angelo Sraffa Department of Law of Bocconi University and associate faculty member of ASK Research centre. She has a Ph.D. in Competition Law and a LL M in Intellectual Property Law (Queen Mary, University of London). She has extensively published in the field of Intellectual property (in particular in copyright) and competition law. She has been a Visiting Scholar at the Centre for Commercial Law Studies, Queen Mary, University of London, August 2003, and at the Max Planck Institute for Intellectual Property and Competition Law, Winter 2007/2008.

Federico Morando, NEXA Center for Internet & Society, DAUIN, Politecnico di Torino, Italy

Federico Morando is managing director and research fellow at the NEXA Center for Internet & Society of the Politecnico di Torino and adjunct lecturer of Advanced Intellectual Property Law at Bocconi University in Milan. He is an economist (with a Master in Economic Theory and Econometrics from the University of Toulouse) with multidisciplinary research interests. He recently defended his Ph.D. dissertation concerning interoperability issues in software markets within the International Programme in Institutions, Economics and Law (Carlo Alberto, Torino).

Giovanni B. Ramello, Università del Piemonte Orientale, Italy

Giovanni Battista Ramello is Associate Professor of Industrial Economics at the Università del Piemonte Orientale, Italy and chairs the International Programme in Institutions, Economics and Law at Collegio Carlo Alberto (Torino). His research interests include industrial economics, antitrust and regulation, economic analysis of law and institutions, intellectual property, information goods and knowledge production. He is currently president-elect of the Society for Economic Research on Copyright Issues and has recently published several books and articles on the law and economics of intellectual property rights.

Sharon K. Sandeen, Hamline University, USA

Sharon K. Sandeen is a Professor of Law at Hamline University in St. Paul, Minnesota where she teaches and writes in the area of intellectual property law, with an emphasis on the law of trade secrecy. Prior to becoming a law professor, she practiced intellectual property law in Sacramento, California for over 15 years. Professor Sandeen received her LL M from U.C. Berkeley School of Law (Boalt Hall), her JD from the University of the Pacific, McGeorge School of Law, and her BA from U.C. Berkeley.