

Index

---

- age
and earnings
    China 55, 58–9, 71, 77, 81
    Indonesia 208, 210, 212, 216
and health 189
and height of children 107, 111 of household head, and poverty 128
left-behind children
    China 97–9
    Indonesia 169
migrant parents 99
migrants
    China 30, 38
    Indonesia 158, 167, 204
migrated children 97–9
and migration decision 30, 34, 37, 38, 41, 44
- Batbaatar, M. 180, 190
Bilsborrow, R.E. 135–6
BMI as indicator of health
    adults 179, 182, 186–9
    children 179, 182, 186, 189
Bogin, B. 181
- Chen, S. 122
Chen, Yi 91
Chen, Y.P. 95, 181, 190
children, effect on migration decision 25, 26, 27–9, 30, 34, 38–41
children of migrants
    China 93–116
    education
        China 8, 33, 93–4, 95, 98, 103–7
        Indonesia 159, 170, 189–92
        Mongolia 180
    health
        China 93–4, 96, 107–13
        Indonesia 182–3, 186, 189
    see also left-behind children; migrated children
- China
    children of migrants 93–116
    earnings 54–72, 74–90
    housing quality 180–81
    labour market and migrants 47–72, 74–90
    migrant household characteristics 27–34 migration decision 23–44 poverty and migration 117–33 rural–urban migration 6–10
    Rural–Urban Migration surveys 3, 135–49
    urbanization 1–2
    wage structures and inequality 74–90 circular migrants, Indonesia 11–12 city variations earnings, China 65–6, 67–70, 71 migrant households, Indonesia 166–75 compensation, total, migrants and urban workers 54–8, 66–70, 71
    see also earnings and migration status
- de Brauw, A. 118
demographic characteristics, migrants,
    Indonesia 158–9
    intercity comparisons 167–70
Démurger, S. 74, 91
Deng, Q. 75
dibao (rural minimum living standard),
    China 122, 125, 128
discrimination against migrants, China 7–9, 47, 48
    children 95
    women 65
Du, Y. 119
duration of migration, China 34
    and children 101, 103
    effect on poverty 130–33
- earnings
    and the migration decision 37–8

- and migration status
  - China 50–72, 74–90
  - and gender 210–16, 65
  - in-kind benefits 49
  - Indonesia 199, 200, 201–4, 207–18
- see also* income
- education of migrant children
  - China 93–4, 95, 98–9, 103–7
  - Indonesia 170, 183, 189–92
  - Mongolia 180
- educational attainment and earnings
  - China 50, 55, 57–8, 59, 64, 71, 77, 84, 89
  - Indonesia 210–11
- females 159, 167, 176
- intercity comparison, Indonesia 169–70
- and labour force participation, Indonesia 160
- migrant children, Indonesia 189–92
- migrant parents 99
- migrants, Indonesia 159, 162, 169
- and migration decision, China 25, 33, 38
- and poverty 121, 128
- rural–urban divide, China 76
- employment
  - discrimination 7–9
  - female 170, 172, 211
  - legislation, China 9–10, 48–9, 74
  - and migration status
    - China 30, 50, 74, 76–7
    - Indonesia 159–63, 194–207
  - intercity comparison, Indonesia 170–73
  - and RUMiCI survey 241
- employment status and earnings 208–10
- expenditure, household 29, 124–5, 183, 185–6
- and children's education 192
- on children's health 112
- and definition of household member 123
- housing-related 181
  - as measure of success 184–5
  - as welfare indicator 121, 165, 182, 185–6
- family size and migration decision 27
- female migrants see women
- fertility and migration decision 30–32, 38–40
- Fields, G. 25
- firm size and remuneration 65
- Five Insurances, One Fund 49
- formal sector employment, Indonesia 199–200, 204–7
- Foster, J. 119
- Fournier, M. 91
- Garnier, D. 180
- gender
  - and age of migrants 30, 38
  - and earnings 51–8, 65, 84, 210–16
  - and education of migrants 159
  - and health 189
  - and labour force participation 160–63, 170–73
  - and migrant households 167
  - and migration decision 30, 34, 38–40
- geographic location and poverty, China 128–30
- Giles, J. 26
- government policies
  - China
    - effect on migration decision 41–4
    - guest worker system 2, 7, 24
    - household registration system see hukou
    - Labour Contract Law 9–10, 48
    - protection of migrants 9, 47, 48
    - welfare system 48–9, 53
  - Indonesia, effect on migration decision 156, 197–8
- Greer, J. 119
- guest worker system, China 2, 8–9, 24, 48
- Han, J. 95
- Hare, D. 25
- Harris, J. 25
- headcount measure of poverty 119, 128–33
- health
  - children
    - China 93–4, 96, 107–16
    - Indonesia 186, 189
  - and earnings 64–5
  - migrants
    - China 34, 38
    - Indonesia 186–9

- and migration decision, China 24–5, 26, 34, 38
- health care, migrant families 96
- health indicators 182–3, 186
- health insurance, China 49, 50–53, 96
  - children 112
- height
  - of children, as health indicator 107, 111, 112–13
  - and earnings 64
- household characteristics
  - and income, China 123–5
  - Indonesia 158–9, 164–6, 167–70
  - and migration decision, China 25–6
- household expenditure see expenditure, household
- household income see income
- household listing, Rural–Urban Migration in Indonesia survey 228–30
- household members, definition 123–6
- household registration system see hukou
- household size, China 101, 123–4
  - and migration decision 38
  - and poverty 128
- household welfare, Indonesia 173–5
- housing quality, China 180–81
- Huan, W.Y. 95
- hukou* (household registration system), China 7, 48, 72, 74, 94–5, 195
  - and labour market 48, 74
  - and social welfare 94–5
  - and survey data 26–7, 123, 138, 223
- illness, children, effect of migration 107, 112
- in-kind benefits
  - China 49, 54
  - Indonesia 199
- income
  - and child migration 103
  - Indonesia 16, 175
  - and migrants' perceptions of success 184–6
  - and migration decision, China 25, 29, 37–8
  - and migration status, China 124–5
  - see also* earnings; poverty
- Indonesia
  - characteristics of migrant households 158–9, 164–6, 167–70
  - history and patterns of migration 2–3, 154–7, 178–9
  - household welfare 173–5
  - labour market and migrants 159–64, 170–73, 194–218
  - migration 10–13
  - regional distribution of migrants 225–7
  - Rural–Urban Migration in Indonesia (RUMiI) project 3, 6, 222–42
  - socio-economic and health status of migrants 178–93
- inequality see wage inequality
  - see also* discrimination against migrants; gender and earnings
- informal sector employment, Indonesia 199–201, 204–7
- institutional constraints and migration decision 41–4
- insurance
  - discrimination against migrants 7–8
  - health insurance 96, 112
  - as part of remuneration package 49, 50–54, 66
- Jia, H. 91
- job allocation and migration status 204–7
- job tenure and earnings 55, 59
- Kennan, J. 25
- Knight, J. 91
- Labour Contract Law, China 9–10, 48
- labour force participation
  - China 50
  - Indonesia 159–64, 170–73
- labour market and migrants, Indonesia 195–207
- left-behind children
  - China 93–4, 95, 96–116
  - education 98–9, 103–7
  - health 103, 107–16
  - Indonesia 156, 169
- Levhari, D. 25
- Liang, Z. 95, 181, 190
- lifetime migrants, Indonesia 10–11
  - demographic and social characteristics 158–9, 167–70
  - education 159, 160, 169–70
  - household welfare 164–6, 173–5

- labour force and employment
  - characteristics 159–64, 170–73
  - and RUMiI study 228–33
- long-term migrants, Indonesia
  - earnings 200, 201–4, 207–18
  - employment 200–201
  - job placement 204–7
- MacVean, R.B. 181
- Makassar, Indonesia 158, 166–75
  - demographic and social patterns 167–70
  - employment patterns 170–73
  - household welfare 173–5
- Maloney, P. 197
- Manning, C. 154
- marital status
  - and earnings, China 65, 84
  - migrants, Indonesia 158
  - and migration, China 30, 38
- Medan, Indonesia 158, 166–75
  - demographic and social patterns 167–70
  - employment patterns 170–73
  - household welfare 173–5
- Meng, X. 74, 75, 91
- migrants
  - definitions 10–11, 122–3, 157, 198–9, 224–5, 228–30
  - geographic distribution, Indonesia 225–7
  - listing of migrant households, Indonesia 228–30
  - listing of migrant workers, China 138–43
  - perceptions of success 184–6
  - see also* children of migrants; lifetime migrants; long-term migrants; recent migrants
- migrated children 95–116
  - age 98–9
  - education 95, 103–7, 159, 170, 189–92
  - health 96, 107–13, 182–3, 186, 189
  - household characteristics 96–8
- migration
  - China 1–2, 6–10
  - Indonesia 2–3, 10–13, 154–7, 178–9
- migration decision, China 23–44
  - and age 30, 34, 37, 38, 41, 44
  - and children 25, 26, 27–9, 30, 34, 38–41
  - and education 25, 33, 38
  - and family responsibilities 27, 30, 34–6, 37, 38–41
  - and gender 30, 34, 38–40
  - and health 24–5, 26, 34, 38
  - and household size 38
  - and income 25, 29, 37–8
  - and institutional constraints 41–4
  - and marital status 30, 38
  - and risk aversion 25
- migration surveys
  - China 3, 135–49
  - Indonesia 3, 6, 222–42
  - Rural Household Survey, China 26–7, 121, 135
  - Rural–Urban Migration in China and Indonesia (RUMiCI) 3–6
  - Rural–Urban Migration in Indonesia (RUMiI) project 222–42
  - Urban Household Survey, China 75, 135
  - Urban Migrant Survey, China 26–7, 135, 136–49
- Mincer, J. 25, 41
- minimum wage, China 49
- Mongolia, migrated children 180
- Mu, R. 26
- Murray, J. 95
- Oberai, A.S. 136
- occupational mobility, Indonesia 196–7
- occupations, migrants 50, 74, 76–7, 143–4
  - and earnings
    - China 84–5
    - Indonesia 108–10, 200–201, 208–10
    - Indonesia 160–63, 170–72, 195–6, 206–7
- Park, A.F. 119
- perception paradox 184–6
- policy see government policies
- poverty
  - China 117–19, 126–33
  - and education 181
  - Indonesia 154–5, 165–6, 174–5
- poverty gap 119–20
- poverty measures 119–22
  - China 121–2
  - Indonesia 182

- questionnaires
 Rural–Urban Migration in Indonesia 240–41
 Urban Migrant Survey 146–8
- Ravallion, M. 122
- recent migrants, Indonesia 10–11, 198
 demographic and social characteristics 158–9, 167–70
 earnings 200, 201–4, 207–18
 education 159, 160, 169–70
 household welfare 164–6, 173–5
 job placement 204–7
 labour force and employment characteristics 159–64, 170–73, 199–201
 and RUMiI study 228–33
 regional distribution of migrants, Indonesia 225–7 remuneration see earnings
- Roberts, K. 41
- Rosenzweig, M. 25
- Rozelle, S. 118
- rural household characteristics 27–9
 Rural Household Survey, China 26–7, 121, 135 rural minimum living standard (dibao), China 122, 125, 128 rural–urban migrants see migrants rural–urban migration see migration
 Rural–Urban Migration in China and Indonesia (RUMiCI) 3–6, 135, 222–3
 Rural Household Survey, China 26–7, 121, 135
 Urban Household Survey, China 75, 135
 Urban Migrant Survey, China 26–7, 135, 136–49
- Rural–Urban Migration in Indonesia (RUMiI) project 222–42
 city selection 223–4
 definition of migrant status 224–5, 228–30
 distribution of migrants 225–7
 listing of households 228–30
 organization and timeline 233, 240
 questionnaire 240–41
 sampling 230–33
- Samarinda, Indonesia 157–8, 166–75
 demographic and social patterns 167–70
 employment patterns 170–73
 household welfare 173–5
- sampling
 Rural Household Survey 26
 Rural–Urban Migration in Indonesia 230–33
 Urban Migrant Survey, China 26–7, 146
- sampling frame
 Rural–Urban Migration in Indonesia 223–30
 Urban Migrant Survey, China 137, 138–43
- Sangraula, P. 122
- Sato, H. 180–81
- schools fees 105
 for migrants 95 quality 103
see also education of migrant children
- self-employment
 and earnings, China 84
 migrants, Indonesia 163
- Senegal, migrants 180
- Shorrocks, A.F. 88
- single-generation families and migration decision 41
- size of households, China 123–4
 and migration decision 38
 and poverty 128
- small businesses and migrants, Indonesia 204–7
- social welfare system and migration restrictions, China 6
- socio-economic success indicators 182
 migrants, Indonesia 184–6
- Song, L. 91
- squared poverty gap 120, 130, 132
- Standing, G. 136
- Stark, O. 25, 41
- students, Indonesia 167, 169–70, 175
- survey design
 Rural–Urban Migration in Indonesia (RUMiI) project 222–42
 city selection 223–4
 definition of migrant status 224–5, 228–30
 distribution of migrants 225–7
 listing of households 228–30
 organization and timeline 233, 240

- questionnaire 240–41
- sampling 230–33
- Urban Migrant Survey
  - listing of migrant workers 138–43
  - questionnaire 146–8
  - sampling 146
  - tracking 148–9
- Tangerang, Indonesia 157, 166–75
  - demographic and social patterns 167–70
  - employment patterns 170–73
  - household welfare 173–5
- Taylor, E.J. 118
- Thorbecke, E. 119
- Todaro, M. 25
- tracking, Urban Migrant Survey, China 148–9
- two-generation families and migration
  - decision 41
- United States, success of migrants 181
- Urban Household Survey 75, 135
- urban labour market and migration
  - Indonesia 195–207
  - see also* labour force participation
- Urban Migrant Survey, China 26–7, 135, 136–49
  - listing of migrant workers 138–43
  - questionnaire 146–8
  - sampling 146
  - tracking 148–9
- urbanization
  - China 1–2
  - Indonesia 10, 178
- wage inequality, China 85–90
- wage structures, migrants and urban workers, China 74–5, 77–85
- Walker, J. 25
- Wang, S. 119
- Weber, B. 181
- weight as indicator of health
  - adults 179, 182, 186–9
  - children 179, 180, 182–3, 186, 189, 190
- welfare of households
  - Indonesia 164–6, 173–5
  - measurement 121
  - see also* poverty
- welfare system, China 6, 48–9, 53–4, 94–5
- women
  - earnings 54–5, 59, 65, 210–16
  - education 159, 167, 176
  - employment 170–72
  - fertility and migration 30–33, 38–40
  - as head of household 167
  - migration probability 38–40, 42
  - migration trends 30
  - reasons for not migrating 34–6
  - see also* gender
- working hours
  - China 50, 58, 70, 72, 77, 85
  - Indonesia 163, 202
- World Bank poverty measure 122
- Ye, J. 95
- Zahniser, S. 25
- Zhang, J. 74, 75, 91
- Zhao, Y. 7, 25, 26
- Zhu, N. 25