PART I CONCEPTS AND FOUNDATIONS

1. Introduction: the regulatory challenges for nanotechnologies	3
Graeme A. Hodge, Diana M. Bowman and Andrew D. Maynard
2. Philosophy of technoscience in the regime of vigilance	25
Alfred Nordmann
3. Tracing and disputing the story of nanotechnology	46
Chris Toumey
4. The age of regulatory governance and nanotechnologies	60
Roger Brownsword

PART II FRAMEWORKS FOR REGULATING NANOTECHNOLOGIES

5. Nanotechnology captured	83
John Miles
6. The scientific basis for regulating nanotechnologies	107
David Williams
7. The current risk assessment paradigm in relation to the regulation of nanotechnologies	124
Qasim Chaudhry, Hans Bouwmeester and Rolf F. Hertel
8. Regulating risk: the bigger picture	144
Karinne Ludlow and Peter Binks
9. Producing safety or managing risks? How regulatory paradigms affect insurability	163
Thomas K. Epprecht

PART III CASE STUDIES IN REGULATING NANOTECHNOLOGIES AND NANO-PRODUCTS

10. The evolving nanotechnology environmental, health, and safety landscape: a business perspective	177
Oliver Tassinari, Jurron Bradley and Michael Holman

11. Regulation of carbon nanotubes and other high aspect ratio nanoparticles: approaching this challenge from the perspective of asbestos 205
Robert J. Aitken, Sheona A.K. Peters, Alan D. Jones and Vicki Stone
12. Approaching the nanoregulation problem in chemicals legislation in the EU and US 238
Markus Widmer and Christoph Meili
13. A good foundation? Regulatory oversight of nanotechnologies using cosmetics as a case study 268
Geert van Calster and Diana M. Bowman
14. Therapeutic products: regulating drugs and medical devices 291
Rogério Sá Gaspar
15. Regulatory perspectives on nanotechnologies in foods and food contact materials 321
Anna Gergely, Qasim Chaudhry and Diana M. Bowman
16. Regulation of nanoscale materials under media-specific environmental laws 342
Linda K. Breggin and John Pendergrass
17. Military applications: special conditions for regulation 372
Jürgen Altmann
18. Regulating nanotechnology through intellectual property rights 388
Gregory N. Mandel

PART IV THE FUTURE REGULATORY LANDSCAPE

19. The role of NGOs in governing nanotechnologies: challenging the ‘benefits versus risks’ framing of nanotech innovation 409
Georgia Miller and Gyorgy Scrinis
20. Voluntary measures in nanotechnology risk governance: the difficulty of holding the wolf by the ears 446
Christoph Meili and Markus Widmer
21. The role of risk management frameworks and certification bodies 462
Thorsten Weidl, Gerhard Klein and Rolf Zöllner
22. Risk governance in the field of nanotechnologies: core challenges of an integrative approach 484
Ortwin Renn and Antje Grobe

23.	International coordination and cooperation: the next agenda in nanomaterials regulation	508
	Robert Falkner, Linda K. Breggin, Nico Jaspers, John Pendergrass and Read Porter
24.	Transnational regulation of nanotechnology: reality or romanticism?	525
	Kenneth W. Abbott, Douglas J. Sylvester and Gary E. Marchant
25.	From novel materials to next generation nanotechnology: a new approach to regulating the products of nanotechnology	545
	J. Clarence Davies
 PART V CONCLUSION
26.	Conclusions: triggers, gaps, risks and trust	573
	Andrew D. Maynard, Diana M. Bowman and Graeme A. Hodge
	Index	587
