Editors

Fergus Lyon is Professor of Enterprise and Organizations in the Centre for Enterprise and Economic Development Research, Middlesex University. His research interests include trust and co-operation in networks and clusters, enterprise behaviour, social enterprise and entrepreneurship, market institutions, social enterprise and economic development policy. He has published widely, including in Organization Studies, Cambridge Journal of Economics, Society and Space, World Development and Human Organisation. He has carried out research in the UK, Ghana, Nigeria, India, Pakistan and Nepal. Recent work involves trust in business science relationships and he has established a five-year ESRC funded research programme on the Third Sector and Social Enterprises in the UK. This will involve research on trust in relationships between public, private and third sector organizations.

Guido Möllering is Associate Professor of Organization and Management at Jacobs University Bremen. He was previously a Senior Research Associate at the Max Planck Institute for the Study of Societies in Cologne, Germany. He received his doctorate in Management Studies from the University of Cambridge, UK, and his habilitation in Business Administration from Freie Universität Berlin, Germany. His research is mainly on trust and/or inter-organizational relationships. He has published widely in this area, with some articles in leading journals such as Organization Science, Journal of International Business Studies and Sociology. He serves on a number of editorial boards, for example as an Associate Editor of the Journal of Trust Research. He is the author of the book Trust: Reason, Routine, Reflexivity (Elsevier, 2006).

Mark N.K. Saunders is Professor in Business Research Methods at the University of Surrey, Surrey Business School. He was formerly Assistant Dean (Director of Research and Doctoral Programmes) and Professor of Business Research Methods at Oxford Brookes University Business School. He is a Visiting Professor at Newcastle Business School, Northumbria University and Worcester Business School, University of Worcester. His research interests include human resource aspects of the management of change, in particular trust, and research methods. He has published in management journals including Personnel Review, European Journal of Work and Organisational Psychology, Journal of Personal
Handbook of research methods on trust