

Contributors

---

Kevin Au is Associate Professor of Management at the Chinese University of Hong Kong. He also serves as the associate director of the Center for Entrepreneurship. His research interests are international management, entrepreneurship, family business, social network, and cross-cultural research methodology.

Shyh-Jer Chen is Professor of the Institute of Human Resource Management of National Sun Yat-sen University, Taiwan.

Wenting Chen was Teaching Assistant of School of Business of Sun Yat-sen University, China, and is now with School of Business Administration, Dongbei University of Finance and Economics, China.

Hsi-Mei Chung is Associate Professor of Department of Business Administration of I-Shou University. His research interests are organizational theory, strategic management and international business management.

Justin B. Craig is a co-director of the Australian Centre for Family Business and Associate Professor (global strategy, entrepreneurship and family business) in the Business Faculty of Bond University. His research interests are family enterprising and entrepreneurial behavior.

Mimi Fu was a student at the Sun Yat-sen University, China. She is now a Lecturer at Guangdong University of Foreign Studies, China.

Wayne Irava is a Research Associate at Australian Centre for Family Business at Bond University.

Rachna Jha is a Research Assistant at the Indian School of Business, Hyderabad.

Weiwèn Li is Assistant Professor of the Department of Business Administration, Sun Yat-Sen University, China. His research interests are international entrepreneurship, corporate government, family business and CEO succession.

Ya Li is Associate Professor at the Institute of Modern Management (IMM) at Business School of Nankai University.

Xinchun Li is Professor at Department of Business Administration at Sun Yat-sen University, China, and was formerly the Dean of the Business School. His research interests include theory of the firm, family business, entrepreneurship and strategic alliances.

Danming Lin is Vice President of Shantou University. He is also professor at the Shantou University Business School, China. His current research focuses on strategic issues on the applications of information technology in China.

Yuan Lu is Professor of Management at the Chinese University of Hong Kong. His research interests include international strategic alliance and decision-making in Chinese enterprises.

Ken Moores is Professor in Management (Family Business) and Director of the Australian Centre for Family Business in the Faculty of Business of Bond University. His research interests include management accounting, finance, strategic planning, corporate governance, and leadership development in family businesses.

Mervyn Morris is a Lecturer in Management at the Queensland University of Technology Business School. He has worked in administrative and managerial roles in the public and private sectors across a variety of industries. His research interests include entrepreneurship, gender, and structure and agency in management.

Kavil Ramachandran is Thomas Schmidheiny Chair Professor of Family Business and Clinical Professor of Wealth Management at the Indian School of Business. His research interests include family business governance, challenges of professionalization of family business, growth strategies and new enterprise management.

Bing Ren is Associate Professor of Department of Business Administration of Nankai University.

Sachin Waiker is a writer at the Kellogg School of Management, Northwestern University.

John Ward is Clinical Professor at the Kellogg School of Management, Northwestern University. He is an active researcher, speaker and consultant on family succession, ownership, governance and philanthropy. He is the author or co-author of several leading texts on family business, including Keeping the Family Business Healthy, Strategic Planning for the Family Business, and Perpetuating the Family Business.

Bin Yang is Professor in the Human Resource Department of Nankai University. His research interests include strategic human resource management, labor relations, enterprise evolution, corporate governance, business history and comparative business.

Kuang S. Yeh is Professor of Organization Management in the Department of Business Management at National Sun Yat-sen University, Taiwan. He also serves as a deputy minister of the Research, Development and Evaluation Commission of the Executive Yuan. His research interests include organization theory, business ethics, corporate governance and economic sociology.

Hang Zhu is Associate Professor in the Department of Tourism and Hotel Management at Sun Yat-Sen University, China.