Acknowledgments

This book presents a study that is part of a research program, ‘The Process of Growth – Organizing, Strategizing and Entrepreneurial Activities’, at Jönköping International Business School. The program contributes to the knowledge of those firms that have shown sustainable, long-term growth.

Many thanks go to Leif Melin, Professor of Strategy and Organization, Leader of the Growth Research Program, for giving me the opportunity to study business growth in Hilding Anders and to him and the other members of the research program, Leona Achtenhagen, Olof Brunninge, Jenny Helin, Anna Larsson and Lucia Naldi for their valuable comments on the drafts of my manuscript!

I also wish to thank Professor Daniel Hjorth, Copenhagen Business School, for initial encouragement in the development of a study employing a narrative approach.

With great appreciation, I acknowledge the contribution of Bengt Adolfsson, Olle Andersson, Rikard Eriksson, Lars Haux, Bertil Henningsson, Anders Hultman, Claes-Göran Jönsson, Arne Karlsson, Tomas Modén, Anders Pålsson and Mats Östergård. Many thanks for making it possible for me to gain valuable and interesting insights into a rich variety of growth activities associated with the Hilding Anders business.

Special thanks go to Karin Hedman, Norra Skåne and Kenneth Palmgren, Hästveda Servicekontor, for providing me access to archived material that brought alive past activities lived by people associated with Hilding Anders.

Moreover, I am grateful to Björn Kjellander, who copyedited my text. Many thanks, Björn!

Finally, I wish to thank Jan Wallanders and Tom Hedelius Foundation for their financial support that allowed me to carry out the study!

Mona Ericson
Jönköping, January 2010