

---

Contents

---

List of contributors	vii
PART 1 FOUNDATIONS
1 Analysing creative cities David Emanuel Andersson and Charlotta Mellander	3
2 Creative people need creative cities Åke E. Andersson	14
3 The creative class paradigm Richard Florida, Charlotta Mellander and Patrick Adler	56
4 Big-C creativity in the big city Dean Keith Simonton	72
5 Clusters, networks and creativity Charlie Karlsson	85
PART 2 PEOPLE
6 The open city Peter Jason Rentfrow	117
7 The value of creativity Todd M. Gabe	128
8 Understanding Canada's evolving design economy Tara Vinodrai	146
9 Technology, talent and tolerance and inter-regional migration in Canada Karen M. King	169
10 Higher education and the creative city Roberta Comunian and Alessandra Faggian	187
PART 3 NETWORKS
11 Research nodes and networks Christian Wichmann Matthiessen, Annette Winkel Schwarz and Søren Find	211
12 Scenes, innovation, and urban development Daniel Silver, Terry Nichols Clark and Christopher Graziul	229

vi	Handbook of creative cities
13	The arts: not just artists (and vice versa) Elizabeth Currid-Halkett and Kevin M. Stolarick	259
14	The creative potential of network cities David F. Batten	284
15	Why being there matters: Finnish professionals in Silicon Valley Carol Marie Kiriakos	307
PART 4 PLANNING
16	Creative cities need less government David Emanuel Andersson	327
17	Land-use regulation for the creative city Stefano Moroni	343
18	The emergence of Vancouver as a creative city Gus diZerega and David F. Hardwick	365
PART 5 MARKETS
19	Cultivating creativity: market creation of agglomeration economies Randall G. Holcombe	387
20	The sociability and morality of market settlements Arielle John and Virgil Henry Storr	405
21	Creative environments: the case for local economic diversity Pierre Desrochers and Samuli Leppälä	422
22	Does density matter? Peter Gordon and Sanford Ikeda	435
23	Creative milieus in the Stockholm region Börje Johansson and Johan Klaesson	456
24	The creative city and its distributional consequences: the case of Wellington Philip S. Morrison	482
PART 6 VISIONS
25	Contract, voice and rent: voluntary urban planning Fred E. Foldvary	501
26	A roadmap for the creative city Charles Landry	517
	Index	537