Index

arguing communicative action 196 crucial for social learning 205 distinguished from bargaining 201–2, 204
  in promotion of mutual understanding 197
  as social process 193–201
  see also multilateral negotiation

carbon dioxide (CO₂) deep sea or seabed storage of 214–29 disposal vs storage of, London
  Protocol and London
  Convention compared 218–19 and ocean acidification 213
  see also London Convention; London Protocol

collective culture 32
  and corporate response to consumerism and production 174–8 importance for engaging with corporations at international level 237
  and social learning 41, 48
  see also Global Compact collective knowledge 27, 39–40 and environmental protection 32–3, 40–41
collective social learning 28, 38 common knowledge 27, 32, 39–40 distinguished from collective knowledge 32–3 generated through litigation 106 intersubjective sharing of 40 through association with values vs intersubjective connectedness of actors 239
Communication on Progress (COP) see Global Compact

competition
  and social influence on corporations 191 compliance 36, 191
  and socialisation into adoption of norms 233
Convention on Biological Diversity authority over biodiversity regime 97 comparison of objectives and principles 96–8

corporate citizenship see Global Compact
corporate responsibility 157, 176–8 engagement with local communities 186–7
  see also Global Compact cultural change 155, 156 and corporations 176–8, 191 diffusion concept of 179–80
  and social influence of ideas 186–7
  socialisation of corporations 237 see also modelling; social learning;
  transnational corporations disposal of waste at sea instruments for control of 206 dumping see disposal of waste at sea ecological economics 174–6 compared with market economics 175 environmental law
discourse and paradigm 33 environmental principles abstract and open-textured 14, 16–18, 58, 61–2, 66, 203
  as cognitive framework for diffusion of ideas 183–8
context for establishing determinacy 60–61, 67–8 and corporate practices 191–2 definitions of 18
diversity of social practices through diffusion 184–5 environmental law, impact on 89–93 factors impacting on relevance 67 function and role 18, 84–100 functional potential for change in international law and politics 243–6 and Global Compact 152, 155, 163–72, 183, 190 ‘indeterminate rules’ 60–61
and International Court of Justice 112–50
as interstitial norms 94–5 legal, value based or moral norm 20, 98 list of 12
in negotiation processes 86–8, 118–20, 149 and non-state actors 91–2, 98–9 as objective, goal or idea 96–8 open and/or categorical 59 in preparing ground for creation of rules and regulatory mechanisms 247 principle of common concern 64–5 in reformulating ‘existing bodies of law’ 127 in regulation of behaviour of states 98 relationship with rules 54–6, 88–90 role of social context in assessing meaning of 58–65, 242 and scientific uncertainty 93–4 through social influence 156 and values and beliefs 167
see also Convention on Biological Diversity; corporations; International Court of Justice, sustainable development environmental responsibility and competition in the marketplace 181 vs self-interest of states 248–9 significance a open-textured norm 240
Global Compact 151–92
abstract nature of principles 164–9, 192 adoption by corporations 169 backed by states 159–60 and collective corporate culture 155, 172–8 compliance with 154, 186, 191 Communication on Progress (COP) 162–3, 178, 182, 189–90, 192, 245 derivation of principles 164–9 diffusion of ideas amongst participants 181–5, 237, 240 Global Compact Local Networks (GCLN) 161 mission and objectives 157–8 mode of operation, 158–62, 168, 174 not designed as code of conduct 168 and OECD Guidelines 168
and precautionary approach 165, 174, 192 relies on social influence 156, 158, 192 and social identity of corporations 188–9, 245 identity
and interests constituted by norms 56–7 shared characteristics and social meaning 188 and structure of international system 42
see also Global Compact International Court of Justice influence on international law 103–6, 140–47
and precautionary principle 129–32, 242–3 and protection of future generation 142–4, 146–7 and relationship with the environment 146–7 and sustainable development 138–9, 240–41 and transboundary harm principle 142–8 see also environmental principles; social learning; transboundary harm principle

International Covenant for Economic, Social and Cultural Rights 79–81 international relations English school of 31, 197 shared norms and international order 31 and transnational corporations 170–71

intersubjectivity development of 21, 48–9, 197–200, 234–5 mobilised by institutions 118 value in multilateral negotiations 23, 197–9 legal principles and legal rules, differences 54–5 lifeworld in multilateral negotiation 198–200, 221

London Convention (1972) (LC) 195, 206–10 Annex 1, 2006 amendment 217 and ocean dumping regime 208, 218 precautionary approach in 215–16, 222 role of environmental principles 210–13, 244

London Protocol (LP) 208–213, 216, 244 approaches varying with LC 217–20, 221, 222 polluter pays principle in 213, 239 precautionary principle in 211–12, 222, 224–6, 229, 239 reverse listing of materials for disposal at sea 209–10, 218, 222, 229 meaning creation and development of 40, 44–5, 49, 59, 64, 67, 76, 111, 168, 170, 197, 202, 203, 212, 225, 238, 241–3, 245, 247 creation inhibited by rules 202 creation requires cultural dimension 31

modelling
by corporations in competitive global environment 180–83 distinguished from imitation 180

multilateral negotiation argument and bargaining, conditions for 193 collective identification, conditions for, 193 and international conferences, usefulness of 200 social context, effect of focus on 194 see also lifeworld, social learning

norms
adoption through socialisation and compliance 233 capacity to influence 70–71 definition 33, 56–7
determinacy of 67
developed through common understanding amongst actors 70–72 development through social learning 233 function of 60
in international law and politics 67–8, 171, 233 intersubjectively developed through social practices 64 potential for manipulation 85
principle of common concern 65
protasis and apodosis (scope and character) of 58–60 requirement for optimal legitimacy 64 social context required for meaning 59 see also environmental principle; abstract and open textured norm; progressive realisation; social practice Global governance of the environment

Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) 163

OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises: Text, Commentary and Clarifications (‘OECD Guidelines’) 158, 168

power definitions and taxonomy 108–12 institutional power 110–11 productive power 111–12
and social learning 107–12
precautionary principle constraining potential of 225–8
see also environmental principles
principles
definitions and function 55–7, 90–93 typologies of 18
see also environmental principles progressive realisation, 79–81 see also rights rational choice theory 34, 36, 43 rights meaning for states 80–81 Rio Declaration see United Nations Declaration on Environment and Development rules, ‘action-oriented’ and ‘result-oriented’ 59–60 scientific realism 29

and intersubjective beliefs 30 social constructivism approach to learning 35–6 contingent nature of reality 31 contrasted with other approaches 30, 34, 36 emphasis on culture 31, 34 in international relations 29–34, 36 intersubjectivity of social world 30–31 production of culture 31 social practices of actors 43–5 theoretical categories of 29 social learning and abstract and open-textured norms 67–83 and collective identity 41 communitarian approach 39–40 and concept of diffusion in international relations 179
definition 35
as dynamic for change 34–41, 68–83, 233–4 and emergence of meaning within groups 242 and individual actors 37–8
and International Court of Justice 139, 142, 148, 235
and intersubjectivity 49, 234–5 in multilateral negotiation 203–4, 236–7 in social constructivist and rational choice theories 36 social influence and persuasion as mechanisms for 47 and social practice of actors 43–5, 48 and social process 42–8 and structural change 40–41
see also arguing; Global Compact; power; socialisation social practice 44–7
and role and function of norms 45–6 see also social constructivism; social learning social process 46–9 engagement vs coercion 234–5 socialisation differs from social learning 38, 45–9, 82 soft law
a cognitive framework 77–9 contrasted with hard law 74 definitions 74–5
promotes social learning 76
a tool of persuasion at individual level 77 transition to hard law 75–6 use by states 78
sovereign rights of states see transboundary harm principle sustainable development 5, 8, 12, 16, 61, 65, 167 distinguished from growth 175 and equitable and reasonable use 132–9, 245 not a high standard to meet 128 productive power in court procedures 127, 138–9 in social learning of ICJ 240–41 transboundary harm principle 140–47 ICJ interaction with 243, 244
and precautionary principle 141 threat to collective environmental protection concerns 248 see also International Court of Justice
transnational corporations and collaboration within Global Compact 172–4 difficulty of directly regulating behaviour 246 and diffusion of ideas 179–88 and political activity within international order 170–72 UN Code of Conduct for 156
see also corporate responsibility; environmental principles; Global Compact; international law and politics; international relations
United Nations (UN) 151
Code of Conduct on Transnational Corporations 156 Commission on Transnational Corporations 156
Global Compact Office see Global Compact
United Nations General Assembly 151
United Nations Declaration on Environment and Development (‘Rio Declaration’) 59 common but differentiated responsibilities 61 and Global Compact principles 164–169
precautionary principle 60
United Nations Secretary General 151
Watercourses Convention (1997) 136, 137–8, 139