

Acknowledgments

A book project of this magnitude and complexity requires the contributions of many people. We would like to acknowledge and thank them all. Our collaborating authors – all busy leaders of university-based entrepreneurship ecosystems (U-BEES) – delivered thorough and thoroughly inspiring chapters. Thank you Jose Manuel Aguirre Guillén, Kathleen Allen, Janice Byrne, Alain Fayolle, Arturo Torres García, Karla Giordano, Yuen-Ping Ho, Mark Lieberman, Annette Singh and Poh-Kam Wong. Lindsay Evans, our writing and editing partner, did a phenomenal job, improving the language and formatting of the chapters while also retaining the flavors of the contributing authors. Thank you, Lindsay, and also Deepti Tomar who provided vital support in formatting references, tables and figures. The two host universities of the editors – Babson College and The University of Texas at Austin – provided vital support. The IC² Institute and the McCombs School of Business at The University of Texas at Austin hosted our workshop in May 2009, and Babson College provided research funds. Thank you to Alan Sturmer, senior acquisitions editor, Edward Elgar Publishing, for his support. We salute all the sponsors, champions and leaders of U-BEES worldwide and hope that our book helps you enhance and accelerate your U-BEE development process.

Finally, and most importantly, we would like to thank our families for their love, understanding and support:

Michael Feters	Linda, Seth and Zach
Mark Rice	Lisa, Lia, Mark and Katie
Patricia Greene	Ken, Kenny, Kevin and Shaun
John Butler	Rosemary Griffey Butler.
