Tables

2.1 Room for advice in different decision contexts 37
3.1 Probability of an agent acquiring Trait 1 or Trait 2 given a particular model and the cultural variant held by the agent 50
5.1 Correlation matrix 86
5.2 Ordered probit and probit analysis of scientists’ open science identity 89
5.3 Ordered probit and probit analysis of scientists’ perceived reputational reward from commercializing research 93
6A.1 Parameter settings 122
8.1 Learning forms and creativity development factors 172
8.2 Management modes of division of labor and knowledge 177
9.1 Possible events resulting from a product innovation 188
10.1 Average firm size for spin-offs and other entrants, classified by age 207
10.2 Share of firms with positive, negative and zero growth, respectively, of spin-offs and other entrants, classified by age 210
10.3 Job creation and job destruction of spin-offs and other entrants, classified by age 211
10.4 Share of job creation and job destruction of spin-offs and other entrants, classified by age 214
10.5 Yearly average of total employment for spin-offs and other entrants, classified by age 215
10.6 Total employment per 100 start-ups 216
11.1 Descriptive statistics of the networks of technological overlap 227
11.2 Descriptive statistics of the interpersonal networks 229
11.3 Network regression 232
11.4 Cooperation: mean degree 235
11.5 Scientist mobility: mean degree 236
11.6 Internal and external relations in the network 237
11.7 Cooperation network and a firm’s innovative capacity 238