The editors thank Tom Byers and Tina Seelig of the Stanford Technology Ventures Program who set up and foster the Accel Roundtable of Entrepreneurship Education (REE) conferences. Your energy and encouragement have made a real difference in promoting entrepreneurship education throughout the world. We also thank the professors, researchers, staff and students at the many universities throughout the world who promote and support REE each year. REE Asia 2009 was made possible by our co-organizers and supporting organizations, whose names are listed in the REE Asia 2009 conference proceedings.¹ Special thanks go to Mr Chien Lee, Member of the Council of The Chinese University of Hong Kong and Director of the Lee Hysan Foundation, our conference's first sponsor, who expressed his wish that we record the deliberations of REE Asia 2009.

The papers which correspond to Chapters 3 through 6 and 8 through 11 were selected from 40 papers submitted for double blind review. We extend our sincere thanks to all of those who submitted and presented papers and who attended the conference. We also thank the professors who helped us in the review process: David Alstrom, Kevin Au, Florence Ho, Kaman Lee, Leung Kwok, Janny Leung, Louis Leung, Liu Sun Wing, Lo Wai Shun, Thomas Man, Maurice Tse and Yang Jun.

We thank the staff of the Center for Innovation and Technology and Center for Entrepreneurship, especially Professor K.F. Wong, Rosanna Lo and Samuel Tam on whose shoulders it fell to organize funding for and organizing of REE Asia 2009, and to Eric Leung who assisted in preparing this manuscript.

Without the support of Tim Williams, Publisher, and Alan Sturmer, Editor, Edward Elgar Publishing, this book would not have been possible. And finally we would like to thank Joanna, Larry, Kira and Jada for their patience and support. You make it all worthwhile!
