Tables

2.1 Structure of Latin American trade, 1970 and 1994 .................................................. 16
2.2 International trade and growth ................................................................. 18
2.3 Latin America's revenue gains from manufacturing exports, 1970–94 .................. 20
2.4 Sub-regional comparative advantage in manufactures by factor intensity category ........................................................................................................... 28
2.5 Major manufacturing exports of Latin America .................................................. 32
2.6 Import demand functions of total manufactures and growth and instability of imports ................................................................. 44
3.1 Types of non-tariff measures imposed by individual industrial countries on Latin America, 1994 ................................................................. 51
3.2 Non-tariff measures imposed by industrial countries on Latin America, 1994 ........................................................................................................... 52
3.3 Non-tariff measures imposed by individual industrial countries on Latin America and others, 1994 ................................................................. 53
3.4 Tariff escalation on industrial products by developed countries from developing countries ................................................................. 55
3.5 Latin American tariff commitments on industrial products in the Uruguay Round ........................................................................................................... 58
4.1 Latin America: trade policy episodes by analytical periods and exchange rate regimes, 1965–94 ................................................................. 69
4.2 Latin America: trade policy episodes, trade regime changes and the exchange rate, 1965–94 ................................................................. 71
4.3 Latin America: trade policies and ratio of current account balance (CAB) to GDP ........................................................................................................... 77
4.4 Latin America: panel data regressions of current account and trade policies ........................................................................................................... 78
4.5 Latin America: trade policies and trade tax revenues ........................................ 80
4.6 Latin America: trade policies and import growth ........................................ 81
4.7 Latin America: trade policies and output growth ........................................ 82
4.8 Latin America: trade policies and growth of manufacturing exports ............... 83
4.9 Latin America: regression results of export equation ........................................ 84
5.1 Technology-intensive exports from selected Latin American and East Asian countries, 1970–94
5.2 Latin America’s and East Asia’s trade performance in technology-intensive products, 1994
5.3 Selected technology input indicators
5.4 Technology-intensive imports of selected Latin American and East Asian countries
6.1 Argentina: total exports, 1980–94
6.2 Argentina: revealed comparative advantage indices
6.3 Argentina: trade policy measures, 1980–94
6.4 Argentina: export promotion indicators, 1991–94
6.5 Argentina: exports by destination, 1992–94
6.6 Argentina: trade liberalization indicators, 1992–93
7.1 Exports of MERCOSUR member countries, 1980–93
7.2 Intra-MERCOSUR trade, 1980–92
7.3 Argentina: total and foreign investment of selected sectors, 1990–97
7.4 Argentina: export coefficients of selected sectors, 1990–97
7.5 Argentina: imports of vehicles and autoparts, 1984–93
7.6 Argentina: foreign trade of motor vehicles, 1990–97
7.7 Argentine–Brazilian trade in motor vehicles and autoparts industry, 1985–93
8.1 Brazil: evolution of exports by product class, 1974–93
8.2 Brazil: indicators of industrial competitiveness
8.3 Brazil: RCA indices of natural resources
8.4 Brazil: geographic distribution of exports by product group, 1984–90
8.5 Brazil: export coefficients by industry type, 1970–90
8.6 Brazil: export destination of selected industries, 1989 and 1993
8.7 Brazil: nominal tariffs by industry, 1990–93
8.8 Brazil: geographic origin of industrial imports, 1989 and 1993
8.9 Brazil: sectoral impact of the trade liberalization programme, 1994
9.1 Composition of exports from Argentina, Brazil, Chile and Mexico by product type, 1970 and 1990
9.2 Brazil: annual export growth rate and trade balance by product group, 1970–90
9.3 Brazil: export market composition by product type, 1993
9.4 Brazil: export composition by geographic destination, 1993
9.5 Brazil: intra-industry trade relative to bilateral trade of manufactures, 1970 and 1987
9.6 Brazil: distribution of industries with IIT greater than 0.5 in trade 155
9.7 Brazil: importance of intra-firm exports in total exports of selected countries, 1980 and 1990 156
10.1 Brazil: key indicators of industrial activity, 1974–94 164
10.2 Brazil: industry wages relative to production, 1985–92 166
10.3 Brazil: direct costs of industrial operations relative to production, 1985–92 167
10.4 Brazil: markup of industries, 1986–92 168
10.5 Brazil: financial earnings of industries relative to total earnings, 1986–92 169
10.6 Brazil: overall indebtedness, 1986–92 170
10.7 Brazil: index of fixed assets relative to total assets, 1986–92 171
10.8 Brazil: hourly industrial productivity index, 1986–94 172
10.9 Brazil: industrial employment index, 1986–94 174
11.1 Quantity of microcomputers produced in Brazil 179
12.1 Mexico: indicators of import restrictions, 1980–93 196
12.2 Mexico: real exchange rate movements, 1967–93 200
12.3 Mexico: gross domestic product and exports, 1950–93 202
12.4 Mexico: regression results for manufacturing export relationship 204
13.1 Trade restrictions in Mexico by economic activity, 1985 and 1988 215
13.2 Mexico: relative producer prices of manufactures, 1990 216
13.3 Mexico: economic performance of manufactures by major division, 1985–90 218
13.4 Mexico: resource allocation of manufactures by major division, 1990 219
13.5 Mexico: factor rewards of manufactures by major division, 1985–90 220
13.6 Mexico: productivity of manufactures by major division, 1985–90 221
13.7 Mexico: sectoral performance and capital intensity of manufactures, 1985–90 222
13.8 Mexico: producer prices and factor rewards, 1985–90 223
14.1 Mexico: export composition of non-traditional high-tech products 229
14.2 Mexico: key indicators of maquiladora industries 233
14.3 Mexico: trade and maquiladoras, 1980–90 235
14.4 Mexico: structural evolution of manufacturing industry 240
15.1 Chile: restructuring indicators of manufacturing industries, 1967–89 249
15.2 Chile: exports by sector, 1989–94 254
15.3 Chile: composition of exports, 1989–94 256
15.4 Chile: change in exports by major group and destination, 1992–94 258
15.5 Chile: composition of exports by geographic destination, 1986 and 1993 259