

Contents

---

Acknowledgements	vii
List of contributors	viii
Introduction Stathis Arapostathis and Graham Dutfield	1
PART I INNOVATION CULTURES AND KNOWLEDGE MANAGEMENT
1. 'Claim the earth': Protecting Edison's inventions at home and abroad Paul Israel	19
2. Managing invention: Setting the boundaries of ownership Andrea R. Maestrejuan	44
3. The photographic paper that made Leo Baekeland's reputation: Entrepreneurial incentives for not patenting Joris Mercelis	62
4. Software piracy: Not necessarily evil – or, its role in software development in Greece Theodore Lekkas	85
PART II INDIVIDUALS, INSTITUTIONS AND THE MANAGEMENT OF INTANGIBLE ASSETS
5. Collective invention and patent law individualism, 1877–2012 – or, the curious persistence of the inventor's moral right Graham Dutfield	109
6. Something in the air: The Post Office and early wireless, 1882–1899 Elizabeth Bruton	127
7. Contested inventors: British patent disputes and the culture of invention in the late nineteenth century Stathis Arapostathis	145

8. From colour TV war to non-aggression pact: Patents as actants of techno-political diplomacy in a European standardization process Andreas Fickers	162
 PART III KNOWLEDGE MANAGEMENT AND THE INDUSTRY-STATE-ACADEMIA NEXUS
9. Commerce and academe: American universities as hosts of entrepreneurial science, 1880–1920 Susan W. Morris	183
10. Managing knowledge in ‘systematised plant breeding’: Mendelism and British agricultural science, 1900–1930 Berris Charnley	200
11. Patenting the atom: The controversial management of state secrecy and intellectual property rights in atomic research Simone Turchetti	216
 PART IV TECHNO-SCIENCES AND GLOBAL IP REGIMES: FROM HISTORY TO PRESENT CONCERNS
12. The international patent system and the ethics of global justice Henk van den Belt and Michiel Korthals	235
13. Intellectual property rights in the plant sciences and development goals in agriculture: An historical perspective Niels Louwaars, Bram de Jonge and Peter Munyi	252
14. Business TRIPS: American corporations and patents head to the global South, 1950–2010 Eda Kranakis	273
 Index	 293