

Acknowledgments

Many people made valuable contributions to this book. The book would not have been possible without the exceptional submissions from our distinguished cast of contributing authors. The editors are also deeply grateful for the tireless efforts of their research assistants on this project: Crystal Anderson, Talasi Brooks, Dana Cheng, Nick Claridge, Shayonee Dasgupta, Edward Gonzalez, Drew Horowitz, Ashley Juchawski, Betty Kuo, Ann Leitch, Jamison Martin, Nicole Martin, Cassandra Mesa, Kaylan Minor, Danielle Murray, Matthew Newman, Victoria Orero, Kaila Randolph, Alexandra Ritucci-Chinni, Morgan Rosinia, Megan Seward, Katherine Van Dam, Lindsay Walton and Joanna Wymyslo.

Furthermore, the editors are exceptionally grateful for the tremendous efforts that Melinda Moore and Celia Westbrook put into preparing the final manuscript of this book prior to submission. Without their valuable participation, timely submission of this book would not have been possible.

The contributing authors would like to acknowledge the following individuals for their assistance and inspiration in preparing their chapters: Jolyane Boivin, Joshua Boom, Lauren Channell, Jane Chigiyal, Robert Tim Coulter, Jason J. Czarnezki, Daniel Eyre, Jason Fox, Ashley Geary, Lindsey Golden, Sébastien Grammond, Warwick Gullett, Aaron Kangisser, Siu Tip Lam, Zhe Liu, Jeem Lippwe, Beatriz Matus, Edwin R. McCullough, Nathan Milner, Tara Mospan, Masao Nakayama, Leroy Newton, Jaycob Newton, Gregory Rose, Kathy Tevis, Arturo Torres and Jon Van Dyke.

The editors also would like to extend a special word of gratitude to Professor Zygmunt Plater and his students in the Advanced Environmental Law Current Topics seminar at Boston College Law School for their outstanding substantive, organizational, and stylistic feedback on 18 chapters of the book during the Spring 2012 semester. The students in the seminar were Julia Bramley, Diana Cuff, Katelyn Homeyer (Boston University School of Law), Heather Lacey, Jennifer Scro, Eric Skeffington and Matthew Todaro. The book benefited greatly from their thoughtful and probing review.

Professor Abate would like to thank his wife, Nigara, and children,

Tania and Alek, for their love, support, and inspiration. Professor Kronk would like to thank Professor Abate for his seed of an idea that has blossomed into this book. She is also eternally grateful to Connor Warner for his unwavering support and love.
