

Contents

List of figures	vii
List of tables	viii
List of contributors	ix
Acknowledgements	x
Before and beyond the global economic crisis: an introduction Mats Benner	1
1. Crisis, structural change and new conditions for growth Lennart Schön	19
2. Responding to economic crisis: macroeconomic revolutions in the 1930s and 1970s Roger E. Backhouse	38
3. The efficient-markets hypothesis after the crisis: a methodological analysis of the evidence Fredrik Hansen	55
4. Macroeconomics after the crisis: bringing finance back in Robert Boyer	72
5. Discursive strategies in economic texts Jan Svensson	94
6. Regulating the family in times of economic crisis: Sweden in the 1930s and the 1990s Åsa Lundqvist	112
7. Economic crises as political opportunities Johannes Lindvall	132
8. The ‘new new deal’ as a response to the euro-crisis Bengt-Åke Lundvall	151
9. A cultural political economy of crisis responses: the turn to ‘BRIC’ and the case of China Ngai-Ling Sum	173
10. The metaphor challenge of future economics: growth and sustainable development in Swedish media discourse Anna W. Gustafsson	197

11. Macroprudential supervision and regulation – lessons for the next crisis Lars Jonung	218
12. Recovered imaginaries, imagined recoveries: a cultural political economy of crisis construals and crisis management in the North Atlantic financial crisis Bob Jessop	234
Index	255