

Contents

List of figures	vii
List of tables	viii
List of contributors	ix
Preface	xi
1 Introducing ageing policy: challenges, ideas and responses in Europe Rune Ervik and Tord Skogedal Lindén	1
2 Active ageing: rhetoric, theory and practice Alan Walker and Liam Foster	27
3 Ageing policy ideas in the field of health and long-term care. Comparing the EU, the OECD and the WHO Nanna Kildal and Even Nilssen	53
4 Powerless observers? Policy-makers' views on the inclusion of older people's interest organizations in the ageing policy process in Ireland Martha Doyle and Virpi Timonen	78
5 Pension policy recommendations of governmental commissions in Norway, Denmark, Germany and the UK Tord Skogedal Lindén	98
6 Did the transition to a market economy and EU membership have an impact on active ageing policy in Poland? Anna Ruzik-Sierdzińska, Jolanta Perek-Białas and Konrad Turek	124
7 Catching up with the pioneers – Germany's new activation compromise Christof Schiller	148
8 Policy paradigms and ideological frames in British and Norwegian ageing policy processes Rune Ervik and Ingrid Helgøy	179

9	Ageing and long-term care in Poland and Italy: a comparative analysis	205
	Zuzanna Drożdżak, Maria Gabriella Melchiorre, Jolanta Perek-Bialas, Andrea Principi and Giovanni Lamura
10	Strategies to meet long-term care needs in Norway, the UK and Germany: a changing mix of institutional responsibility	231
	Rune Ervik, Ingrid Helgøy and Tord Skogedal Lindén
11	The making of ageing policy: framing, conceptual ambiguities and national policy developments	257
	Rune Ervik and Tord Skogedal Lindén
	Index	279