

Contributors

---

Daniel Bertaux is Directeur de recherches at the Centre National de la Recherche Scientifique (CNRS), France. He is the author of Destins personnels et structure de classe (PUF, 1977), and the editor or co-editor of Biography and Society (Sage, 1981); Pathways to Social Class (Oxford University Press, 1997); and On Living Through Soviet Russia (Routledge, 2003).

Julia Brannen is Professor of Sociology of the Family in the Thomas Coram Research Unit, Institute of Education, University of London, UK. Recent edited and co-edited books include The Handbook of Social Research (Sage, 2008); Work, Families and Organisations in Transition: European Perspectives (Policy Press, 2009); and Transitions to Parenthood in Europe: A Comparative Life Course Perspective (Policy Press, 2012).

John D. Brewer is Professor of Post Conflict Studies at Queens University Belfast, UK, and has published papers on Mills in the British Journal of Sociology and Sociology. He is author of C. Wright Mills and the Ending of Violence (Palgrave, 2003). His latest book is The Public Value of the Social Sciences (Bloomsbury, 2013).

Ottar Brox is Professor Emeritus at the Norwegian Institute for Urban and Regional Research at Oslo, Norway. His publications include Newfoundland Fishermen in the Age of Industry: A Sociology Of Economic Dualism (Institute of Social and Economic Research, Memorial University of Newfoundland, 1972); Nord-Norge. Fra allmenning til koloni [Northern Norway. From Common Property to Colony] (Universitetsforlaget, 1984); and The Political Economy of Rural Development (Eburon, 2006).

Krishan Kumar is a University Professor and the William R. Kenan, Jr. Professor and Chair of the Department of Sociology, University of Virginia, US. Among his publications are 1989: Revolutionary Ideas and Ideals (University of Minnesota Press, 2001); The Making of English

National Identity (Cambridge University Press, 2003); and From Post-Industrial to Post-Modern Society: New Theories of the Contemporary World, (Routledge, 2nd edn, 2005).

Kathryn Mills is the daughter of C. Wright Mills and Ruth Harper Mills. C. Wright Mills: Letters and Autobiographical Writings was edited by Kathryn Mills with Pamela Mills (University of California Press, 2000). She is Vice President Contracts, Houghton Mifflin Harcourt Trade Publishing.

Lars Mjøset is Professor of Sociology and Director of the Oslo Summer School for Comparative Social Science Studies at the Social Science Faculty, University of Oslo, Norway. Recent publications are 'The contextualist approach to social science methodology', in D. Byrne and C. Ragin (eds) Handbook of Case-based Methods (Sage, 2009); and as editor, 'The Nordic varieties of capitalism', special issue of Comparative Social Research, 28 (2011).

Michael Newman is Emeritus Professor at London Metropolitan University, UK, where he was Professor of Politics. His most recent work is Humanitarian Intervention: Confronting the Contradictions (Hurst and Columbia University Press, 2009). He is also the author of Socialism – A Very Short Introduction (Oxford University Press, 2005); Ralph Miliband and the Politics of the New Left (Merlin, 2002); and Democracy, Sovereignty and the European Union (Hurst, 1996)

Ann Nilsen is Professor of Sociology at the Department of Sociology, University of Bergen, Norway. Recent publications include co-edited books and articles, among them Work Families and Organisations in Transition: European Perspectives (Policy Press 2009); 'Comparative biographies in case-based cross-national research: methodological considerations', in Sociology (2011); and Transitions to Parenthood in Europe: A Comparative Life Course Perspective (Policy Press, 2012).

Ole Johnny Olsen is Associate Professor at the Department of Sociology, University of Bergen, Norway. Recent publications include 'Yrkesutdanning i det moderne: noen begreper til fortolkning av endringsprosesser i norsk fag- og yrkesopplæring' ['Vocational training in modernity: some concepts for interpreting evaluation processes in Norwegian vocational training'], Sosiologisk Tidsskrift (2011); and 'Erosion der Facharbeit? Fragen und Einwände zu einer deutschen Debatte' ['The erosion of skilled labour? Questions and objections regarding a German debate'], Soziale Welt (2001).

Jennifer Platt is Professor of Sociology at the University of Sussex, UK. Her publications include A History of Sociological Research Methods in America, 1920–1960 (Cambridge University Press, 1996); ‘The US reception of Durkheim’s The Rules of Sociological Method’, Sociological Perspectives (1995); and ‘Women’s and men’s careers in British sociology’, British Journal of Sociology (2004).

Mike Savage is Professor of Sociology at the London School of Economics, and was previously Professor at the University of Manchester, where he was Director of the ESRC Centre for Research on Socio-Cultural Change, and at the University of York. He has interests in social stratification, cultural sociology, and the urban. His recent books include Culture, Class, Distinction (co-authored, Routledge, 2009); and Identities and Social Change in Britain since 1940: The Politics of Method (Oxford University Press, 2010)

John Scott is Professor of Sociology and Pro Vice-Chancellor for Research at Plymouth University, UK, and has previously worked at the University of Essex, the University of Leicester and Strathclyde University, in the UK. His publications include Who Rules Britain? (Polity Press, 1991); Corporate Business and Capitalist Classes (Oxford University Press, 1997); Power (Polity Press, 2001); and Conceptualising the Social World (Cambridge University Press, 2011).

A. Javier Treviño is Jane Oxford Keiter Professor of Sociology at Wheaton College, US. He is the author of The Social Thought of C. Wright Mills (Sage, 2011) and editor of Talcott Parsons on Law and the Legal System (Cambridge Scholars, 2007); George C. Homans: History, Theory, and Method (Paradigm Publishers, 2006); Goffman’s Legacy (Rowman & Littlefield, 2003); and Talcott Parsons Today: His Theory and Legacy in Contemporary Sociology (Rowman & Littlefield, 2001).