
Acknowledgments

We are grateful to a number of individuals and institutions for making this book possible. Our thanks go above all to the authors in the volume for their superb individual chapters and for their many insights concerning the overall content of the book. Initial versions of the chapters were presented at a conference that was funded jointly by The GWU Law School and the Wharton School, Zicklin Center for Business Ethics Research. We are thankful to Dean Paul Berman and Zicklin Center Director William Laufer for supporting the project at its early stages. Sara Westfall provided excellent assistance with the conference organization, our students Ipek Guney, Jenny Lin, Theresa Socash, and Jane Trueper helped with completing the manuscript, and Cammy Brothers advised us on the book cover design. We are especially grateful to the many scholars and colleagues who gave us valuable feedback on the chapters, including Richard J. Pierce, Jr., William E. Kovacic, Mathias Reimann, Abraham L. Newman, Steven J. Balla, Paul R. Verkuil, Peter L. Lindseth, Neysun Mahboubi, Fernanda G. Nicola, Hugh Stevenson, and Stephen F. Williams.
