Acknowledgements

As editors, we first of all want to thank the Ewing Marion Kauffman Foundation which sponsored the Fall 2013 Forum that brought the authors and manuscripts together. The Forum provided opportunity for the authors to share their multiple perspectives and research domains. It goes without saying that each of us appreciates the influence, either directly or indirectly, that Ewing Marion Kauffman has had on significant dimensions of our professional lives, initially through his company, Marion Labs, and beyond his lifetime through the investment he made in the Ewing Marion Kauffman Foundation.

We also wish to thank our support team. First, Jared Konczal, Senior Analyst in Research and Policy at the Ewing Marion Kauffman Foundation, brought considerable logistics and planning skills to the Forum. He, along with Michelle St Clair, Executive Assistant in Research and Policy at Kauffman, assured the success of the Forum. More recently Alyse Freilich's editorial skills have been a defining factor in bringing this volume to fruition. We also want to thank Alan Sturmer, Executive Editor at Edward Elgar Publishing, who saw the potential for our venture into this domain and has encouraged us in various ways to see the original vision come to fruition.

Marilyn L. Taylor, Robert J. Strom and David O. Renz