Tables

2.1 Shifting interpretation of key elements of the social enterprise definition 27
2.2 Legal status by social enterprise 31
2.3 Analysis of 2008/09 National Survey of Third Sector Organisations: questions related to social enterprise 33
3.1 Number of organizations in SOI data set by size of total expenses (1982–2002 aggregated) 44
3.2 Number of organizations in panel and original data sets, 1982, 1985–96 (unweighted, excluding hospitals and higher education institutions) 47
3.3 Percentage of nonprofits with absolute commercial revenue growth as a share of those with losses and gains in government grants and private contributions (excluding hospitals and higher education institutions) 50
3.4 Results of ordinary least squares regression to predict increases in commercial activity 52
3.5 Percentage of arts and culture nonprofits with absolute commercial revenue growth as a share of those with losses and gains in government grants and private contributions 54
3.6 Percentage of human service nonprofits with absolute commercial revenue growth as a share of those with losses and gains in government grants and private contributions 58
6.1 Three understandings of myth and demystification, as well as paradigmatic theorists and illustrative studies from the realm of social entrepreneurship studies 102
6.2 Results from the analysis of interpretive repertoires 113
7.1 A reframing of the social entrepreneurship myth following Lakoff (2004) 130
12.1 Social entrepreneurship’s impact on nonprofit contributions to civil society 216
14.1 Beit Issie programmes and their impact 246