Preface

The initial idea for this book was born when we coordinated a research project in 2011–13 for the Nordic Committee of Senior Officials for Labour of the Nordic Council of Ministers: ‘Social Regulation in Nordic Welfare States: The Impact on Employment among Youth from Ethnic Minorities and Youth with Disabilities’ (Project No. 11143). Chapter 3 by Martin Seeleib-Kaiser and Thees F. Spreckelsen is based on research findings from the project ‘Strategic Transitions for Youth Labour in Europe’ (STYLE), funded by the European Union’s Seventh Framework Programme for Research, Technological Development and Demonstration Activities under Grant Agreement No. 613256.

We would like to thank the contributors for their enthusiasm in writing their chapters. During our work with editing the book, we have benefited from support from several people. In particular, we would like to mention Ed Berendsen (Dutch National Social Security Administration), Jan Monsbakken (Rehabilitation International), Roy Sainsbury (University of York, UK), Kolbeinn Stefánsson (University of Iceland), and Mandana Zarrehparvar (Danish Institute for Human Rights).

The information and views set out in Youth, Diversity and Employment are those of the authors and do not necessarily reflect the opinion of any of the bodies that have provided financial support for the research reported on in the book.
