
Contributors

Julie Ayling is a Research Fellow in the School of Regulation and Global Governance (RegNet) in the College of Asia and the Pacific at The Australian National University, Canberra, Australia.

Lieselot Bisschop is a Postdoctoral Research Fellow of the Research Foundation Flanders at Ghent University, Belgium and Assistant Professor at Erasmus University Rotterdam, the Netherlands.

Giovanni Broussard is Regional Coordinator of the UNODC global programme on combating wildlife and forest crimes in Southeast Asia and former coordinator of the UNODC programme on border control to tackle transnational organized crime (PATROL Initiative), Bangkok, Thailand.

Antonio Cardesa-Salzmann is Juan de la Cierva Postdoctoral Researcher in the Department of Public Law at the Universitat Rovira i Virgili, Tarragona, Spain.

Michael Cassidy is a doctoral candidate in criminal justice at Michigan State University, East Lansing, USA.

Daniel W.S. Challender completed his PhD at the Durrell Institute of Conservation and Ecology at the University of Kent and now works on sustainable use and wildlife trade in the Global Species Programme, International Union for Conservation of Nature and Natural Resources, Cambridge, UK.

Ezra Clark is a Programme Officer in OzonAction, United Nations Environment Programme Division of Technology, Industry and Economics, Paris, France.

Margarita África Clemente Muñoz is Professor of Agricultural and Forestry Botany in the Department of Agricultural and Forestry Sciences and Resources, Cordoba University, Spain and Chair of the CITES Plants Committee, 1997–2016.

Eve de Coning is a Senior Advisor with the Norwegian Advisory Group on Organised Fisheries Crime and IUU Fishing (FFA) at the Norwegian Ministry of Trade, Industry and Fisheries and the fisheries crime liaison to the INTERPOL National Central Bureau Oslo at the National Criminal Investigation Service, Norway.

Rosaleen Duffy is Professor of International Politics in the Department of Politics at the University of Sheffield, UK.

Lorraine Elliott is Professor and ANU Public Policy Fellow in the Department of International Relations, Coral Bell School of Asia Pacific Affairs, in the College of Asia and the Pacific at The Australian National University, Canberra, Australia.

Carole Gibbs is an Associate Professor at Michigan State University with a joint appointment in the School of Criminal Justice and the Department of Fisheries and Wildlife, East Lansing, USA.

David Humphreys is Professor of Environmental Policy at The Open University in the United Kingdom and an Honorary Fellow of the Institute of Chartered Foresters.

Yunbo Jiao is a doctoral candidate in the Department of International Relations, Coral Bell School of Asia Pacific Affairs, in the College of Asia and the Pacific at The Australian National University, Canberra, Australia.

Ning Liu completed his PhD in the Environment, Development and Sustainability Programme of Chulalongkorn University and works at the United Nations Environment Programme Regional Office for Asia and the Pacific, Bangkok, Thailand.

Douglas C. MacMillan is Professor of Conservation Economics at the Durrell Institute of Conservation and Ecology, University of Kent, UK.

Carl Middleton is Lecturer and Deputy Director for International Research in the Center for Social Development Studies of the Faculty of Political Science at Chulalongkorn University, Thailand.

Rob Ogden is a Director of TRACE Wildlife Forensics Network, Edinburgh, United Kingdom and a Visiting Professor at Kyoto University Wildlife Research Center, Japan.

Grant Pink is Director, Regulatory Capability and Performance Section, Australian Government's Department of the Environment, Adjunct Research Fellow, School of Law, University of New England (UNE) Australia and doctoral candidate, School of Behavioural, Cognitive and Social Sciences, UNE.

Gregory Rose is Professor with the School of Law at the University of Wollongong, Australia, where he is Discipline Leader in Law and a member of the Australian National Centre for Ocean Resources and Security (ANCORS).

Vinciane Sacré is the EU–TWIX Project Manager based at TRAFFIC's Brussels Office, Belgium.

Sophie Saydan is a doctoral candidate in the Department of International Relations, Coral Bell School of Asia Pacific Affairs, in the College of Asia and the Pacific at The Australian National University, Canberra, Australia.

William H. Schaedla is an Environmental Science Instructor with the United States Bureau of Indian Education and manages Ecolloquium, a non-governmental forum for environmental problem-solving.

Samir Sinha is a member of the Indian Forest Service, presently Chief Conservator of Forests and Director of the Corbett Tiger Reserve, Ramnagar, Uttarakhand, India.

Vira Somboon is Associate Professor in the Department of International Relations of the Faculty of Political Science at Chulalongkorn University, Thailand.

Tatiana Terekhova is a Programme Officer in the Secretariat of the Basel, Rotterdam and Stockholm Conventions, United Nations Environment Programme, Geneva, Switzerland, where she coordinates training and capacity-building activities for the implementation of the three conventions and work related to the Sustainable Development Goals.

Edward van Asch is a doctoral candidate at the University of Sheffield, UK and works at the CITES Secretariat to support the development and coordination of the ICCWC.

Tanya Wyatt is a Reader in Criminology at Northumbria University in Newcastle, UK.

