

Contents

---

List of figures	vii
List of tables	viii
List of contributors	xi
Acknowledgements	xiv

PART I INTRODUCTION

1 Transitions in socio-technical systems and challenges of city leadership	3
Marina van Geenhuizen, J. Adam Holbrook and Mozhdeh Taheri

PART II ASSETS AND NETWORKS IN CITIES

Section II.I Energy

2 Cities and photovoltaic inventions: global leaders over time	35
Pieter E. Stek
3 University spin-offs' steps in commercialization of sustainable energy inventions in northwest Europe	59
Razie Nejabat, Mozhdeh Taheri, Victor Scholten and Marina van Geenhuizen
4 'Solar cities' in China as leaders in photovoltaic manufacturing	88
Marina van Geenhuizen and Qing Ye
5 Urban innovation or rural dedication? Contrasts in socio-technical niche development in photovoltaics in Germany	109
Martina Fromhold-Eisebith and Ulrich Dewald
6 Vancouver's fuel cell cluster: new opportunities or a genteel decline?	136
Claudia Díaz-Peréz, Brian Wixted and J. Adam Holbrook

Section II.II Transport

- |   |   |     |
|---|---|-----|
| 7 | Cities and adoption of innovation in passenger mobilityHans Jeekel   | 167 |
| 8 | Seaport development and accelerating energy transition: could Rotterdam and Shanghai take on a leadership role?Marina van Geenhuizen, Lili Song and Wim Ravesteijn | 189 |

Section II.III Health

- |    |  |     |
|----|--|-----|
| 9  | Performance of university spin-off firms in commercialization of medical technologyMozhdeh Taheri and Marina van Geenhuizen | 215 |
| 10 | Adoption of eHealth in hospitals and in cities: a myriad of influencesSander Faber and Marina van Geenhuizen                | 242 |

PART III GOVERNANCE AND POLICY APPROACHES

- |    |  |     |
|----|--|-----|
| 11 | Electric vehicles and charging infrastructure: adaptive policy making in citiesFreek Kuiperi, Marina van Geenhuizen and Jan Anne Annema                   | 271 |
| 12 | Urban intermediaries and the governance of energy transition: two case studies in AmsterdamMarloes Dignum   | 293 |
| 13 | Living labs in healthcare innovation: critical factors and potential roles of city governmentsMarina van Geenhuizen and Nick Guldemon                     | 318 |
| 14 | Enhancing public sector innovation: living lab case studies on well-being services in Lahti, FinlandSuvi Konsti-Laakso, Satu Pekkarinen and Helinä Melkas | 339 |
| 15 | Health Impact Bonds as a novel financial arrangement in healthcare transitionStephan Diek, Marina van Geenhuizen and Bart van Hulst                       | 361 |
| 16 | Roles of cities and governance in sustainability transitions: challenges in leadershipMarina van Geenhuizen and J. Adam Holbrook                          | 384 |
|    | Index   | 393 |