

Index

- Aboriginal settlements 246–65
 entrepreneurship, see entrepreneurship and innovation
 geographic/demographic context 27,
 254–8
 Australia (remote or very remote)
 255, 256, 257
 Canada 255, 256–7
 mixed-markets 258–60
 art 259
 beyond homogeneous classifications 252–4 community researchers 259–60 rangers 258, 261, 264 place-based planning and 128–9 social enterprise in Canada
 cooperatives 260–61
 data 248, 249, 262, 264
 McMurtry and Brouard's
 taxonomy 261
 qualitative characteristics 260
 service delivery 262
 western data methods
 homogeneous classification 251
 inadequacies 248, 249, 262, 264
 and multi-disciplinary approach 249–50
 not reflecting Aboriginal laws and customs 246–8
 qualitative 'bridge' needed 262–4 theories of Homo economicus
 250–52
 see also entrepreneurship and innovation; land rights of Indigenous populations
African migrant networks 85–6
age patterns 106, 117, 188–91, 281–3, 297, 302, 305–6, 326
'ageing in place' 67
used as signifiers of 'decline' 428–9
- Alaska 25, 28
Anchorage, see Anchorage earthquake (1964) 37–8
Indigenous population demographic profile 216
land rights of Indigenous populations 207, 208–10
 claims and title 216
 claims legislation 43–4, 208–9
 comparison with Northern Territories 215–17
 employment 216
 native corporation approach 210–11
 population patterns 209, 216
 resource extraction and commerce
 40, 209, 210, 384
 transport systems 209
Nome, Kotzebue and Barrow 41–4,
 386
- Alessa, L. 390
Alice Springs 84–6, 91
Anadyr 385–6
Anchorage 25, 26, 28, 33–41
 early history 34–5
 economic diversification 38–40 government disaster rescue 36–8 military economy 35–6
 oil 40
 transport 33–5, 39–40
Appalachian Centre for Economic
 Networks 381
Arctic regional centres 25, 28, 41–4
Australia 31
 Cape York Peninsula 132–40
 Daguragu 160–61
 Darwin 26, 31, 37–8, 77–8, 211
 as LGN hub 220–21, 226, 227–30, 236–9, 241–2
 data for settlement level analyses 248
 2016 census 171, 172

- changing geographical standard
 - 158–63, 172
- frequency 154, 163–5
- funding 163, 165
- Indigenous population 156,
 - 160–61, 163, 171–2
- workforce diversity 325–7
- government boosterism-type
 - investment 354
- government response to disasters 38
- government settlements, independent
 - growth 40–41
- Gurindji people 213
- health workforce diversity 325–7
- land rights, see land rights of
 - Indigenous populations
- migration, international
 - Alice Springs case study 84–6, 91
 - employment and humanitarian workers
 - Labour Agreements 77
 - migration programmes 76–7
 - city bias mitigation 76–7
 - Regional Sponsored Migration Scheme 77
 - skill stream and family stream 76
 - visa distribution 76–8
 - 457 visas 77–8
 - onshore conversions 77, 78
- migration, regional
 - ‘grey nomads’ 188–91, 198
 - Indigenous travellers 193–6, 199
 - northern peripheries 83
 - pastoralists 211
 - transitional periods 365
- Nhulunbuy 49, 64–68, 70, 365, 368
- modelling settlement futures
 - 273–8, 280–83, 287–8
- planning and Indigenous
 - populations 132–40
 - reserves and transportations
 - 211–12
- public administration employment
 - 28–9
- Queensland community engagement
 - statement 414–15
- resource extraction and commerce
 - 135–6, 214, 365
- Timber Creek 160–61
- tourism case studies
 - Burra 190, 341
 - Peterborough and Terowie 344–50
 - Warlpiri people 212
 - Yirrkala people 212–13
 - Yolgnu people 273
- Baikalsk, Siberia 49, 59, 60–64, 68
- Bakken 50–55
- Barnes, T. 15
- Barrow, Arctic 41–4
- Berggren, Peter 320
- ‘beyond periphery’ theory 10–20, 427, 430
- Bird, Deanne 293, 298–300
- boom and bust cycles, see growth
 - strategies in mono-industrial resource towns
- Borch, Odd Jarl 379, 383
- Boyle, Alicia 75
- Brokensha, Huw 153
- Brouard, François 246, 249, 261
- business enterprise, see
 - entrepreneurship and innovation; temporary populations and local innovation
- Canada
 - Aboriginal social enterprise
 - cooperatives 260–61
 - data inadequacies 248, 249, 262, 264
 - McMurtry and Brouard’s
 - taxonomy 261
 - qualitative characteristics 260
 - service delivery 262
 - climate adaptation, Eastern Ontario
 - Highlands 301–7
 - Cree of Eeyou Istchee 394–400
 - data for settlement level analyses 324
 - Aboriginal settlements 248, 249, 262, 264
 - administrative and linked data-sets 170, 171
 - census 255–6
 - changes to mandatory long form 155, 165–8
 - under-enumeration and suppression 156–7, 158, 169
 - economic impacts post-industrial

- Almonte, Ontario 391, 392–3
 Iqaluit, Nunavut 391–2 migration and 393
 role of place in prosperity 391, 392–3
 Tumbler Ridge mine closure 370 federal and Aboriginal governments 255, 384 health workplace diversity 327–31
 College of Physicians and Surgeons data 328–30
 Inuit populations 399
 James Bay hydroelectric project 399
 Kuujuaq 386–7
 landmass 257
 migration programmes and settlement 79–81 literature/studies 81–3
 Manitoba 388
 Neepawa case study 86–9
 modelling settlement futures, administrative data 283–7 Nunavut 124, 126, 130–33, 136, 140–46, 386, 391–2 planning, see place-based planning and Indigenous populations 124–47
 tourism
 Cree of Eeyou Istchee 394–6
 Dawson City 350–53
 Eastern Ontario Highlands 302–3
 Yukon Territory 184–5
 Cape York Peninsula, Australia 126, 130, 131, 132–40, 146
 Carson, Dean B. 4–5, 8, 9–12, 29, 32, 153, 194–5, 229, 246, 253–4, 270, 279–82, 288, 357, 358, 362, 410, 427
 Carson, Doris A. 49, 178, 184–5, 191–2, 341, 357
 Carter, Tom 75, 80, 86–8
 casino gambling 210
 Ceduna, Australia 194–5
 Census, see data for settlement level analyses
 Charters, Brian 320
 Clapp, R.A. 358–61
 Cleary, Jen 178
 climate change 293–313
 Eastern Ontario Highlands 301–7
 adaptation to climatic variability 303–4 climatic change 304–5
 demographic change 305–6
 macroeconomic changes 306–7 regional and demographic setting 301–3 impact on livelihoods 311–12 migration and place attachment 312–13 modelling futures and ‘risk transfer’ 310–11
 Northern Norway, impact on migration 307–9
 Vík, Mýrdalshreppur, Iceland 294–300 adaptation strategies 298–301 to coastal erosion 298–9 to land use planning 300–301 to volcanic eruptions 299–300 depopulation 297 regional and historical setting 294–300 see also environmental impacts
 clustering/clusters 31, 103
 Cokley, John 405–14
 commerce, see entrepreneurship; resource extraction and commerce communications, see media for outer space settlements community ‘engagement’ and development 414–16, 429 core–periphery theory and ‘beyond periphery’ model 8–20, 427
 Cree of Eeyou Istchee settlements, Canada 394–400 cultural differences 192
 cultural protection 139, 145, 208–9
 Daguragu, Australia 160–61
 Darwin 26, 31, 37–8, 77–8, 211
 as LGN hub 220–21, 226, 227–30, 236–9, 241–2
 data for settlement level analyses 153–74, 283–7
 Aboriginal settlements and mixed markets 246–52
 homogeneous classification 251

- multi-disciplinary approach 249–50
- not reflecting Aboriginal laws and customs 246–8
- qualitative ‘bridge’ needed 262–4
- theories of Homo economicus 250–52
- administrative and linked data sets 154, 168, 170–72, 173
- Indigenous life expectancy estimates 171–2
- population-based research registry 170–71
- unit record and term linked data 170, 174
- Australia 248
 - 2016 census 171, 172
 - changing geographical standard 158–63, 172
 - frequency 154, 163–5
 - funding 163, 165
 - Indigenous population 156, 160–61, 163, 171–2
 - workforce diversity 325–7
- Canada 248, 324
 - Aboriginal settlements, data inadequacies 248, 249, 262, 264
 - administrative and linked data-sets 170, 171
 - census 165–8, 255–6
- censuses
 - breadth of information 155
 - data suppression 166–8, 169
 - and difficult to enumerate groups 154–5, 156–7, 246–8
 - frequency 154–5, 158, 163–5
 - long and short form data 155, 165–8
 - mandatory to voluntary 166–8
 - mobility and migration 155–6
 - importance of census frequency 164
 - importance of geographic scale 158–63
 - incapacities 156–7
 - non-response 167
 - online (e-Census) efficiencies 157
 - utility for small scales of
 - geography 153–4
 - small settlement level 158
- geographic scale 157–8
 - changing standard, Australia 158–63, 172
 - effects of, case studies 160–63, 172–3
 - labour mobility 162
 - division and relative growth representation 158
 - enumeration of settlements 158
- national statistical agencies (NSAs) 153–4, 157
- Norway 226, 231
- population-based surveys 154
- temporary populations 179
- time-series 76, 158, 159, 170, 172, 270
- unit record data 170
 - see also* modelling settlement futures
- Dawson City, Canada 350–53, 354–5
- de la Barre, Suzanne 178
- delicate sparsely populated areas 15–16
- Denmark 114, 116, 117–18; see also Nordic Arctic
- dependency theory 339
- dependent sparsely populated areas 14–15
- detailed sparsely populated areas 19–20
- disconnected sparsely populated areas 13–14
- discontinuous sparsely populated areas 12–13, 427
- distant sparsely populated areas 17–18
- diverse sparsely populated areas 12
- Dutch migration 184
- dynamic sparsely populated areas 16–17
- Eastern Ontario Highlands 301–7
- economic base theory 338
- economic development, see entrepreneurship and innovation; government settlements and activity; growth pole settlements (LGN plants); temporary populations and local innovation
- economic geography 29–31

- economies of scale 30
- education importance of 67, 90, 100–101, 116, 192, 309, 408, 428 medical 331
 provision 18, 42, 52–3, 85–6, 109, 216, 233, 235, 278, 303, 306, 321, 365 see also employment patterns
- Edwards, Adella 131, 134, 141
- Edwards, Wayne 207–10
- Eikeland, Sveinung 220
- Eimmermann, Marco 178, 183–5
- employment patterns formal and stable jobs 63
 gender structures in Nordic countries 99–101, 108–9 gendered workforces 229–30, 239, 429 health care, see health workforce northern Australia 28–9
 temporary foreign workers 78, 80–81, 87–8, 90–91, 365
see also education; recruitment and retention of professional labour
- Ensign, Prescott C. 379
- entrepreneurship and innovation 379–401 business conglomerates, impact of 390–91 community dynamics and vision 381–3
 Hasvik, Norway, example 383 local government action 388–9 migration 393
 role of place 392–3
- Cree of Eeyou Istchee, Canada 394–400
 Chisasibi 395, 399
 Eastmain 396
 Kuujjuarapik 399
 Mistissini 396–7, 399
 Nemaska 395–6, 399
 Oujé-Bougoumo 395
 Waskaganish 397
 Waswanipi 397–8
 Wemindji 398
 Whapmagoostui 398–9
- economic conditions 389–92
- economic history, significance of 385–8
- ethnic 192
- government policy 383–5
- incentives 393–4
- migration 393
- native corporation approach, Alaska 210–11
- needs-driven 389–90
- sociological/cultural factors 380–81 cluster of factors 400–401
see also Aboriginal settlements; temporary populations and local innovation
- environmental impacts 138, 358; see also climate change
- Faroe Islands 103, 105, 106, 110, 111–12, 116–19
- Finland 103–4, 105–7, 110–12, 114–16;
see also Nordic Arctic
- Foucault, M. 416
- Garrett, Jaimee 320
- gas, see growth pole settlements (LGN plants)
- gender bias in growth pole settlements 239
- gender structures in Nordic Arctic 98–121 community service functions 102 gender as indicator of well-balanced settlements 102–3 gender balance 102
 gender differences and changing patterns 99, 107–9 larger conurbation level 108 male immigration 107 municipal level 110–11
 gender ratios 113
 working age population 111 reduction in female bias 107–8
 settlement level 111–12
 Faroe Islands 116, 118–19
 Greenland 116–19
 Torne Valley 114–16
 youth immigration 116
- life-expectancy 101, 106, 110–11
- occupational trends 99–101, 108–9
 Torne Valley 115–16

- overview 119–21
- population trends 104–7
 - birth rates 106
 - domestic and international migration flows 106–7
 - female centralisation 101–2
 - in-migrants of fertile age 106
 - increase 105
 - migration from Arctic region 105, 107
 - settlement concentrations 104
- settlement context 99–102
 - definition of settlement 110
 - dual-income households 100
 - housing 101
 - labour market 99–100
 - labour patterns 101
 - life-expectancy 101
 - social equality, effect on policy 100
- settlement structure and location 103–4
- statistical case study 109–19
 - gender ratios, municipal and settlement levels 113
 - municipal and settlement comparisons 110–12
 - Torne Valley, Greenland, Farones sub-regions 112–19
- gendered migration, Canada and Australia 82–3
- gendered workforces 230, 239, 429
- Gerrard, S. 101
- Gísladóttir, Guðrún 293
- Golebiowska, Kate 75
- government settlements
 - community engagement as control 414–16
 - planning for economic development 124–6
 - boosterism-type investment 354
 - Cape York regional plan 136–7
 - hub-and-spoke policies 41
 - Iceland, population/employment rates 297–8
 - induced growth poles 224–6
 - North Dakota allocation formula 54
 - policies and action 383–5, 388–9
 - remoteness equated to disadvantage 4
 - in sparsely populated areas 25–46
 - Anchorage 25–6, 28, 33–41
 - change to necessary city 38–40
 - disaster rescue 36–8
 - military economy 35–6
 - cities as command posts 27–9
 - as consequence of service provision 41–4
 - economic geography and location 29–31
 - cost variables 30
 - direct and indirect support 29–30
 - functional change and growth 32–3, 383–5
 - location choice 31
 - market area models 31
 - Nome, Kotzebue and Barrow 41–4
 - commercialisation and mission 42
 - new public institutions 43–4
 - service provision 43
 - whaling, trading, gold 42
 - overview 44–6
 - as passive economies 32
 - as primary cities, spread of influence 26–7, 33
 - as projection of authority 30–31
- Greenland
 - Greenlandic Home Rule agreement 117–18
 - population trends 101, 103, 104, 106–7, 108
 - gender differences, settlement level 111–12, 116–19
 - gender ratios, sub-regional differences 109–10
 - Qaanaaq 387
- growth pole settlements (LGN plants) 220–42
 - concept of growth pole settlements ‘natural’ and ‘planned’ 225–6
 - Darwin 220–21, 226, 227–30, 236–9, 241–2
 - gender bias 229–30, 239
 - Hammerfest, Norway 221–2, 226–7, 230–36, 237–8, 240, 384–5
 - housing markets 238–9
 - local content
 - Barent Sea experiences 230–36

- beneficial initiatives 234–5
- connections to extra-regional actors 233–4
- infrastructure investment 235–6
- lack of horizontal connections 232
- Statoil procurement system 234
- sub-contracting 232
- take-overs 232
- concept as important to policy 239–41
- concept of ‘local’ 224
- oil/gas industries and 222, 223–4
 - construction work 236
 - education and research 235
 - extent of benefits 221, 237
 - targeted spending on community 237–8
 - ‘thicker’ economies 240
 - vertical connections 237
- policy diversity, country to country 225–6
- stimulating growth poles 224–6
- sustaining development 223–4
- location, importance of 229, 236–7, 240–41
- multinational corporations 222, 226, 227
 - complex relationship with settlements 239–41
 - INPEX project Darwin 229–30, 238
 - male-dominated workforces 229–30
 - Statoil and Eni Norge 221, 230–31, 231, 235–6
- Norway 384–5
 - Hammerfest 221–2, 226–7, 230–36, 237–8, 240
- overview 241–2
- state government activity 225, 230, 234
- state-centric analyses of economic development 222
 - revision to 239–40
- workforce models 229–30
- growth strategies in mono-industrial resource towns 49–71
 - alternatives to mono-industrial development 61–3
 - special economic zones 61–2
 - tourism 57, 61–2, 66, 68
- Baikalsk 49, 59, 60–64
 - employment post-paternalism 60–64
 - government industrial path 60–64
 - land ownership constraints 64
 - small businesses, tourism, agriculture 61–2
- Bakken 50–52
 - adaptability, impediments to 53–4
 - boom and bust cycles 51
 - ‘double lock-in’ mechanism 55
- downside to booms/re-booms 69
- ‘double lock-in’ mechanism 55
- Nhulunbuy 49, 64–8, 70
 - local capacities 68–9
 - lock-in/temporariness/entrenchment 66–8
 - path dependence/overreliance 65–6
- North Dakota’s GDP (2004–14) 51
- path dependence 49–50, 69–70
 - attitudes towards 53
 - ‘double lock-in’ 55
- political regime and company
 - approaches and actions 69–70
 - local mitigation capacity 71
 - societal reactions 70
- Ust-Kut 49, 55–60
 - attitudes to unreliability/uncertainty 59–60
 - benefits and unpredictability 58–9
 - Soviet planning 56
 - urban development and employment 56–8
- Williston 49, 50–55
 - demographic impacts and ‘Dutch disease’ 52–3
 - embracing path dependency 53
 - funding through bonding and taxation 54
 - population growth 51
- Guenther, John 246
- Hammerfest, Norway 221–2, 226–7, 230–36, 237–8, 239, 240
- Hanrick, Phillipa 405
- Harbo, Lisbeth 98
- Harwood, Sharon 124–7

- Hasvik, Norway 383
 Hawaii 207
 health behaviours/issues 283, 286–7, 364, 367, 369 health workforce, see recruitment and retention of professional labour Heinrich, Pauline 405
 housing 52, 67, 88, 101, 194, 238–9, 275
 second-home owners 186–8
 human capital theory 83
 Huskey, Lee 6–7, 25, 28–9, 393
 hydroelectric projects 399
- Iceland 188
 farm production 384
 population trends 103, 104, 105, 106–7, 109, 110
 Vík in Mýrdal 294–300 government plans and statements 297–8, 310
 see also Nordic Arctic immigration, see international migration import substitution 32
 Indigenous travellers 193–6, 199
 information and communications technology 303 innovation, see temporary populations and local innovation institutional theory of migration 83–4
 international migration 75–92
 Australia 76–81
 Alice Springs case study 84–6, 91
 employment and humanitarian workers 77–8
 Labour Agreements 77
 migration programmes 76–7
 city bias mitigation 76–7
 skill stream and family stream 76
 visa distribution 76–8
 457 visas 77–8
 onshore conversions 77, 78
 regional visas 77
 Canada
 Canadian Experience Class (CEC) 78
 Canadian Live-in-Caregiver 78–9 economic class 78–9, 80
 family class 78
 immigrant distribution 79–80
 International Experience Canada 81
 Neepawa case study 86–9, 91
 permanent and temporary classes 78
 Provincial and Territorial Nominee Programs 79, 80 temporary foreign workers (TFWs) 78, 80–81, 82, 88 Dutch 184 education and ‘brain drain’ 90
 employment
 Alice Springs labour market 77–8, 85–6
 humanitarian workers 78
 Manitoba 91
 Neepawa, HyLife recruitment impacts 87–8 gendered nature 82
 immigrant flows 89, 91
 lifestyle migrants 183–5, 183–6, 197 literature on 81–3
 British Columbia strategies 82 characteristic/integration of immigrants 82 ‘mail-order’ brides 82
 regionalisation and TFW programmes 82 local economic development 84
 networks 83, 85–6
 refugees 191–3, 199
 retention 83, 89–90
 Alice Springs 86
 Manitoba 86, 88
 Russia to Norway 82
 state-specific regional migration 76–7, 79, 82 theories 83–4
 human capital theory 83, 89
 institutional theory of migration 83–4 migrant network theory 83
 see also regional migration
 Inuit populations 399
- Jóhannesdóttir, Guðrún 293
- Kelman, Ilan 293
 Koch, Andreas 270, 279–82, 288

- Kotzebue, Arctic 41–4
 Krasnoshtanova, Natalia 49
 Krugman, Paul 8–9
 Kuklina, Vera 49
 Kuujuaq, Canada 376–7
- land rights of Indigenous populations 207–18
- Alaska
 claims and title 216
 claims legislation 43–4, 208–9
 employment 216
 population patterns 209, 216
 resource extraction and commerce 40, 209, 210, 384
 transport systems 209
- Australia (Northern Territory) 211–15
- Aboriginal Land Rights (Northern Territory) Act (1976) 213–14
- claims and title 212–13
 barriers to 217
 economic base 215
 housing 215–16
 map 256
 Native Title Act (1993) 213–14
 ‘terra nullis’ 213
 Northern Territory Aboriginals Act (1910) 211–12 population profile 215
 reserves and transportations 212
 resource extraction 214
 water rights 214–15
 white settlers’ impact 211
- Baikalsk, Siberia 64
- comparisons between Alaska, Lower 48 and Northern Territories 215–18
- land use
 casino entrepreneurship 210
 marijuana cultivation 210
 native corporation approach 210–11
 resource extraction 40, 209, 210, 214, 216
 reservation lands 208–9, 210–11, 212, 213, 216–17
 United States (Lower 48) 207–9 financial leverage 216–17
 reservation lands 208–9, 216–17
 resource extraction and commerce 210, 216
see also Aboriginal settlements
- liquid natural gas, see growth pole settlements (LGN plants)
- local economic development 84
- local economy size 30
- Lovell, Judith 156, 158–60, 246, 249, 251, 252–3
- Macdonald, S. 227
- Manitoba 86–7, 88, 91
- marijuana cultivation 210
- Marjavaara, Roger 178, 180–81, 187–8
- Matunga, H. 128–9
- McAuliffe, Marisha 405
- McLeman, Robert 293
- McMurtry, J.J. 246, 249, 260, 261
- media for outer space settlement 405–23
- astronaut characteristics 412, 417
- colonists based on historical precedents 406–7 research and taxonomy 409–12, 417–18
- consultation processes 422
- Internet service provision 412–13, 418
- media businesses, background 408
- media theory framework 418–19
 matrix 420–21
 mining and tourism cohorts 419
- motivational considerations community engagement 414–16 sustainability 414
 tourism 418
- Outer Space Treaty 405
- media stereotyping 364
- migrant network theory 83
- migration, see international migration;
 regional migration; temporary populations
- migration theories 83–4
- mobility, see temporary populations
- modelling settlement futures 270–88
 agent-based modelling 272, 278–83 application 288
 birth/death and ageing 278–9, 282

- 'bubbles and craters' patterns 279, 283
- equation-based approaches 271, 278, 281
- linked agents (and external agents) 280–81
- Nhulunbuy settlement 280–83
 - rates of events 278
 - sex ratios 280, 282
 - suicide/pregnancy/outmigration clusters 279
- applying administrative data 283
 - age-standardised mortality rates 286
 - data linkage 283–4
 - geographic methodology 284
 - health outcomes analysis 286–7
 - limitations 283
 - threshold limitations for same-group populations 284–6
- 'black-swan' events 270
- climate change complexity 310
- law of diminishing accuracy 271
- overview 287–8
- scenario modelling 271–8
 - applications 271–2
 - deterministic scenario models 272–3
 - draw-backs and benefits 287–8
 - future population scenarios 273
 - Nhulunbuy settlement 273–8
 - boarding house revelation 277–8
 - composite of all scenarios 276, 277
 - housing and out-migration projections 275
 - initial refinery suspension impacts 273, 275
 - opportunities and threats modelling 276
 - private sector losses 276, 277
 - scenarios for modelling 276
 - 'what-if' 287
 - tacit knowledge datasets 270–71
 - see also* data for settlement level analyses
- mono-industry, see growth strategies in mono-industrial resource towns
- multinational corporations (MNCs) 221–3, 226, 227, 229–30, 357–73
 - relationship with settlements 239–41, 390
 - resource economies, see resource economies
- Næss, Marius Warg 293, 307, 308, 309
- national statistical agencies (NSAs) 153
- natural disasters 36–8
- natural resources, see growth strategies in mono-industrial resource towns; resource economics and local demography; resource extraction and commerce
- Neepawa, Manitoba 86–9, 91
 - HyLife Foods and population increase 87–8
- New Regionalism 5
- Nhulunbuy, Australia 49, 64–8, 70, 368
 - modelling settlement futures 273–8, 280–83, 287–8
- Nilsen, Trond 220
- Nilsson, Lena Maria 357
- Nome, Alaska 41–4, 386
- Nordic Arctic 98–121
 - gender balance and social patterns 98–103
 - changing trends 107–9
 - gender ratios, sub-regional differences 109–19
 - municipalities 109–10
 - population trends, register data 104–7
 - settlement structure 103–4, 110
 - see also* Denmark; Finland; Iceland; Norway; Sweden
- Northern Territory, Australia, see Australia
- Norway 82, 103
 - climate change impacts on Saami migration 307–9
 - community dynamics and economic initiatives 383
 - migration and local government 388–9
 - growth pole settlements 220, 221–2, 223, 225–7, 231–6, 384–5

- innovation processes and
 - community benefits 237–8
 - overview 241–2
 - population trends 104, 105–8, 110
 - gender differences 111–12
 - see also* Nordic Arctic
- Nunavut, Canada 124, 126, 130–33, 136, 140–46, 386, 391–2
- oil 40, 50–55, 223–4, 309
- Ontario 301–7, 327–31, 391, 392–3
- out-migrations 38
- outer space communities, see media for outer space settlement
- Pacific Steam Whaling Company 42
- passive economies 32, 36
- path dependence 49–50, 53, 55, 60–61, 64–5, 65–8, 69–70
- Payer, H. 238, 239
- Peterborough, Australia 344–50, 354
- Peters, Paul 153, 171, 270
- Petrov, Andrey 49, 54, 70, 380
- Pétursdóttir, Guðrún 293
- place-based planning and Indigenous populations 124–47
 - case study method 130–32
 - Indigenous planning activities 130
 - case study: Cape York Peninsula 132–40
 - Cape York Regional Plan 136–40
 - cultural protection 139
 - economic growth and distribution 138
 - environment quality 135, 138
 - implications of 139–40
 - land tenure and resource ownership 135–6
 - political autonomy and advocacy 138
 - social cohesion 138
 - location 131, 132, 134
 - socio-demographic descriptors 132, 133
 - case study: Nunavut, Canada 140–46
 - decentralised model 142
 - location and population 131, 140, 141
 - natural resource income 142
 - Nunavut as a territory 140–41
 - Nunavut Land Claims Agreement Act (1913) 140, 142
 - Nunavut Land Use Plan 142–5
 - cultural protections 145
 - economic growth and distribution 145
 - environmental quality 144
 - goals 143
 - implications of 145–6
 - land use designations 145–6
 - political autonomy and advocacy 145
 - social cohesion 145
 - Nunavut Planning Commission
 - funding 142–3
 - socio-demographic descriptors 132, 133
 - exclusionary zoning practices 146–7
 - planning theory 124–6
 - definition and function of planning 124–6
 - Indigenous planning 128–9
 - location/concept of place 127–8
 - non-urban areas 126
 - regional planning homogeneity 126–7
 - remote regions 126–7, 128
 - urban settings 126
 - within public domain 125
 - Prideaux, Bruce 337, 339–41
 - production costs 30
 - professional labour, see recruitment and retention of professional labour
 - Qaanaaq, Greenland 387
 - racism 195, 211
 - Rankin, William 405, 412
 - recruitment and retention of
 - professional labour 320–34
 - community attitudes 321–2
 - diversity of professionals 321, 325–7, 333
 - and motivation 322
 - diversity of settlements 322
 - EU Recruit and Retain project 331
 - location importance
 - draw of location, ‘general truths’ paradox 320–21

- ‘place–workforce–workplace’ fit
 - 320, 323
 - relocation officers 332
 - work placements/coordination 331–2
- policy making and local conditions 322–3
 - ‘one-size-fits-all’ 327
 - recognising diversity 333–4
- ‘rural’ and ‘remote’ differentiation 322–3
- rural settings variability 327, 328–30
- McGill University’s remote sites scheme 399
- Ontario, north–south variability 327–30, 333
 - hours worked 328–9
 - medical practice structures 328, 333
 - patient numbers 329–30
- overview 332–4
- Southern Australia, Mid-North,
 - workforce diversity 325–7, 333
 - age and sex 326
 - correlated to settlement 325
 - origins and clustering 326–7
 - and ‘sticky’ characteristics 327, 333
 - within professional disciplines 325
- Sweden 331–2, 333
 - see also* employment
- refugees 79, 85–6, 191–3, 199
- regional migration 393, 411
 - Australia
 - ‘grey nomads’ 188–91, 198
 - Indigenous travellers 193–6, 199
 - northern peripheries 83
 - pastoralists 211
 - transitional periods 365
 - Canada, recruitment and retention 388
 - census enumeration for flows 155–7
 - data integrity 157
 - descriptive limitations and adjustment factors 156
 - climate change impacts, Norway 307–9
 - direct/indirect effects to Indigenous population 308
 - on industry and transport 307
 - ‘effective’ youth out-migration 428–9
 - in-/out- and social capital 210, 393
 - modelling potential migration 280–81
 - impacts of continued population ageing 281–2
 - see also* gendered migration, Nordic Arctic international migration; temporary populations and local innovation
 - regional planning, see place-based planning and Indigenous populations
 - renewing settlements, see tourism
 - reservation land 208–9, 210–11, 212, 213, 216–17
 - ‘resource cycle’ 358–70
 - resource economies and local demography 357–73
 - age-sex classes 364, 367, 369
 - fertility and mortality rates 363
 - communities’ transition
 - developments
 - population fluctuations and 370
 - tourism projects 370
 - communities/settlements 360
 - expansion 360
 - Indigenous 362–3
 - Karratha 365
 - Laver 365
 - Nhulunbuy 365, 386
 - Pajala 368
 - population fluctuations and 370
 - Roxby Downs 365
 - demographic ‘paths’ and change 357
 - health behaviour/issues 364, 367, 369
 - Indigenous populations 362–3, 366–7, 369
 - industrial projects
 - different types factors 372
 - education 366–7
 - environmental and social impact assessments 357–8, 372
 - labour efficiencies 368
 - life-cycle capacity 366
 - transition developments 369
 - migration/mobility patterns 372–3
 - population dynamics
 - between long-term and short-term populations 363

- boomtown effects on social
 - behaviour 364, 367, 372
 - strategies to mitigate 364–5
- decline, different patterns 368–9, 370
- effects of nature of resource 360
- effects of resource activity 361–2, 365
- effects of resource location 360
- family formation dynamics 371
- flow-on effects 366
- positive implications of
 - development 365–6
- separation and crowding out 360–61, 364
- ‘settler’ populations 362–3
- ‘sticky’ characteristics 367
- temporary populations 362, 365
- research paucity 358, 371–2
- ‘resource cycle’ (Clapp’s) 358–71
 - attractive (post-extractive) industries 360, 370
 - decline periods 368–9
 - demographic implications 361–2
 - early periods of activity 363–6
 - middle periods of activity 366–8
 - pre-development 362–3
 - as a series of states 358–60
 - transition periods 369–71
 - previous transition theories 361
- see also* growth strategies in mono-industrial resource towns; resource extraction and commerce
- resource extraction and commerce
 - Alaska 40, 209, 210, 384
 - Australia 365
 - Cape York Peninsula 135–6
 - Northern Territory 214
 - corporations, see multinational corporations
 - liquid natural gas, see growth pole settlements (LGN plants)
 - Nunavut, Canada 142
 - oil 40, 50–55, 223–4
 - United States 50–55, 210, 216
 - Yukon gold 352
 - see also* resource economies, demographic ‘paths’
- retention of labour, see recruitment and retention of professional labour
- Robards, M. 390
- Roto, Johanna 98, 104, 110
- Russian migrants 82
- Russian settlements 29–30, 49, 370
 - Anadyr 385–6
 - Baikalsk 49, 59, 60–64
 - Ust-Kut 49, 55–60
- salaries 59
- Salmon, Jan 207
- Saxinger, Gertrude 58, 364 371–2
- Scandinavia 168, 170, 173–4, 187–8
- Schoo, Adrian 320, 321–2
- second-home owners 186–8, 197–8
- settlement level analyses, see data for settlement level analyses; modelling for settlement future
- Sköld, Peter 357, 363
- Sorsele, Sweden 191–3
- sources of data, see data for settlement level analyses; modelling for settlement futures
- Soviet settlements 29–30
- staples theory 338
- Storuman, Sweden 331–2
- Sweden
 - gender balance 103–4, 105, 106–7, 110, 111–12, 114–16, 120
 - health work 331–2
 - international lifestyle immigration 183–5, 187–8
 - refugee immigration, Sorsele 191–3
 - see also* Nordic Arctic
- Taylor, Andrew 3, 14, 15, 19, 25, 28, 29, 75, 83, 90, 153–5, 220, 227, 229, 230, 238, 239, 271, 362, 410
- temporary foreign workers 78, 80–81, 87–8, 90–91, 365
- temporary populations (impact on local innovation) 178–202, 431
 - analysing impacts 181–3
 - data deficiencies 179
 - diverse characteristics 179
 - mobility characteristics 181–2
 - temporal and motivational characteristics 196–200

- foreign workers 78, 80–81, 87–8, 90–91, 365
- global forces 178–9
- international lifestyle migrants 183–6, 197
 - degree of resource spread 185–6
- local innovation capacities 180–81, 196
 - barriers to 180
 - bridging agents and networks 180–81, 188
 - Indigenous visitors 195
 - refugee connections 193
 - unrecognised 189–90
 - community capitals framework 181–2
 - demand linkages 200
 - dependence on government 195–6, 200
 - ethnic entrepreneurship 192
 - local response to visitors 196–7
 - social, cultural and economic distance 200
- overview 201–2
- refugee migrants 191–3, 199, 200
 - culture differences 192
- second-home owners 186–8, 197–8
 - economic linkage and knowledge exchange 187–8
 - repeat visitors 187
 - zone variables 186–7
- travellers
 - ‘grey nomads’/ageing travellers 188–91, 198
 - Indigenous travellers 193–6, 199, 200
- see also* entrepreneurship and innovation; regional migration
- Terowie, Australia 344–50, 355
- Thompson, Michelle 337
- Timber Creek, Australia 160–61
- Timony, Patrick 320
- Torne Valley 114–16, 120
- tourism 337–55
 - Australia
 - Burra 190, 341
 - ‘grey nomads’ 188–91, 198
 - Peterborough and Terowie 344–50, 354, 355
 - ‘booms’ effect on local prices 369–70
- Canada
 - Cree of Eeyou Istchee 394–6
 - Dawson City 350–53, 354–5
 - Eastern Ontario Highlands 302–3
 - Yukon Territory 184–5
- comparative advantages 340–41
 - external and local demands 338
 - necessary contributions from tourism 339–40
- dependency 66, 339, 354–5
 - industrial path-dependency 61
- ‘growth cycle of ghost towns’ 339
- life-style migration and 184–5
- models and theories 338–41
- outer space tourism 410–11, 418
 - as piggy-back on engineering 413
- periphery drawbacks 67–8
 - and uniqueness 340–41
- public policy and investment 333–5
 - boosterism-type investment 354
- research models
 - action pathway model 341–2, 354
 - steps 342, 343
 - tourism area life cycle 342
- Siberia, Baikalsk 61–2
- staples trap 338
- Swedish Värmland 184
- Townsville 31, 37, 45
- transport
 - Alaska 209
 - Anchorage 33–5, 39–40
 - Arctic 43
 - costs 30
 - Nordic Arctic 103
 - Ust-Kut 56
- United Kingdom of Great Britain 385
- United States of America
 - Appalachian Centre for Economic Networks 381
 - General Allotment Act (1887) (Dawes Act) 208
 - land rights of Indigenous population 207–9
 - reservations 208–9, 216–17
 - resource extraction and commerce 210
 - national census 154–5, 157
 - North Carolina revitalisation 389
 - North Dakota, GDP (2004–14) 51

- resource extraction and its effects
 - 50–55, 210, 368, 369, 370
 - Williston 49, 50–55
- Ust-Kut 49, 55–60
- Vík in Mýrdal, Iceland 294–300
- Vuin, Ana 320, 327
- Wenghofer, Elizabeth 320, 327–8
- Wensing, Ed 124, 135
- White, Daniel R. 320
- Winter, J. 230, 238
- Wylie, J. 381–2
- Zoellner, Don 246

