

Figures and tables

FIGURES

7.1	Informal solidarity with different societal groups (national averages) in 1999	131
7.2	Ten ways redistribution from citizens to immigrants can be diminished	133

TABLES

6.1	Overview of main lines of argument in debates over family immigration	108
7.1	Welfare chauvinism (percentage of respondents agreeing, or tending to agree with, statement)	132
8.1	Share of foreign-born in population (in per cent) and attitudes towards immigrants and immigration in different welfare models	159
8.2	Perceptions of 'welfare magnetism' in different welfare models	160
8.3	Perceptions of 'fiscal leakages' in different welfare models	161
8.4	Attitudes towards immigrants' social benefits/services in different welfare models	165
8.5	Attitudes towards the responsibilities of government among the immigrant and native populations in different welfare models	167
11.1	Social mechanisms generating inequalities: the example of care	241
11.2	Social mechanisms generating inequalities: the example of pensions	245