

Contents

List of contributors	vii
Preface	viii
List of abbreviations	ix
Introduction: exclusion and inclusion – the role of IP laws in a shared knowledge environment Dana Beldiman	1
PART I THE INTERSECTION OF STANDARDS, FRAND AND COMPETITION LAW
1. Coopetition: the role of IPRs Gustavo Ghidini and Andrea Stazi	15
2. FRAND, hold-up and hold-out Thomas Vinje	23
3. Standardization, IPRs and open innovation in synthetic biology Timo Minssen and Jakob B. Wested	34
PART II PRIVATE ORDERING IN A SHARED KNOWLEDGE ENVIRONMENT
4. Openness in trademark law: a viable paradigm? Annette Kur	69
5. Managing the risks of intellectual property interdependence in the age of open innovation Jacques de Werra	91
6. Expressive dimensions of design: a question of incentive? Dana Beldiman	104

PART III ALLOWING FOR CREATIVE SPACE TOWARDS AN OPEN ENVIRONMENT

7. A positive status for the public domain Séverine Dusollier	135
8. Why protecting Internet service providers from liability for users' copyright infringement has been a policy success Michael W. Carroll	169
9. Exhaustion of rights: a concept for the digital world? Ansgar Ohly	188
Index	199