Editors

S. Jayakumar was Singapore's former Deputy Prime Minister and Senior Minister. Professor Jayakumar has held various portfolios such as Minister for Home Affairs, Minister for Foreign Affairs, Minister for Labour, and the longest Ministership as Minister for Law, some 26 years. He served as Singapore's Permanent Representative to the United Nations, was the High Commissioner to Canada from 1971–1974 and was a member of Singapore's delegation to the Third Law of the Sea Convention. In addition, he oversaw the Pedra Branca case before the International Court of Justice as well as the Land Reclamation case before the International Tribunal for the Law of the Sea. Professor Jayakumar is the author of several books, the most recent being Pedra Branca – The Road to the World Court and Diplomacy – A Singapore Experience, and has written more than 30 articles on topics of constitutional law, international law and legal education. He served as Dean of the National University of Singapore (NUS) Faculty of Law. He now serves as the Chairman of the Law Faculty's Advisory Council and Chairman of the International Advisory Panel of the Centre for International Law (CIL). Professor Jayakumar is also the Co-Chairman of the International Advisory Panel on Transboundary Pollution appointed by the Government of Singapore in 2014.

Tommy Koh is Ambassador-At-Large at the Singapore Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Chairman of CIL and Rector of Tembusu College at NUS. He is the Co-Chairman of the China-Singapore Forum, the India-Singapore Strategic Dialogue, the Japan-Singapore Symposium and the International Advisory Panel on Transboundary Pollution. Professor Koh was the President of the Third United Nations Conference on the Law of the Sea and chaired the Preparatory Committee for and the Main Committee at the Earth Summit. He was Singapore's Permanent Representative to the United Nations for 13 years, Ambassador to the United States for six years, and served as the United Nations Secretary General's Special Envoy to Russia, Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania. He was also Singapore's Chief Negotiator for the US-Singapore Free Trade Agreement and has chaired two dispute panels for the World Trade Organization. Professor Koh acted as Singapore's Agent in the case concerning Pedra Branca before the International Court of Justice and in the Land Reclamation case before the International Tribunal for the Law of the Sea. He is a renowned expert on international law and in particular on law of the sea. Professor Koh was recently named the recipient of the 2014 Great Negotiator Award, an award given out by an inter-university consortium comprising Harvard University, the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Tufts University and the Future of Diplomacy Project at Harvard Kennedy School.

Robert Beckman is the Director of CIL. He is also an Associate Professor at the NUS Faculty of Law, where he has taught for more than 36 years. He is a member of the Governing Board and a lecturer at the Rhodes Academy of Oceans Law and Policy. Professor Beckman is an expert on issues of law of the sea. He served for several years as a regional resource person in workshops on Managing Potential Conflicts in the South China Sea. As a member of the National Executive Committee of the Council for Security Cooperation in the Asia Pacific (CSCAP) Singapore, he has represented Singapore in various CSCAP meetings on maritime security and has worked on legal issues relating to the Straits of Malacca and Singapore. He is an Adjunct Senior Fellow in the Maritime Security Programme at the S. Rajaratnam School of International Studies, Nanyang Technological University. He has written extensively on issues of law of the sea, including a recent publication Beyond Territorial Disputes in the South China Sea: Legal Frameworks for the Joint Development of Hydrocarbon Resources and contributed to the Agora on the South China Sea that appeared in the January 2013 issue of the American Journal of International Law.

Hao Duy Phan is a Senior Research Fellow at CIL. He received a BA from the Institute for International Relations of Vietnam, an LLM summa cum laude from the University of Notre Dame Law School, and an SJD from the American University Washington College of Law. He is the author of A Selective Approach to Establishing a Human Rights Mechanism in Southeast Asia: The Case for a Southeast Asian Court of Human Rights (Martinus Nijhoff, 2012) and several articles on various issues of international law. Prior to joining CIL, he worked as Assistant Director-General of the Department of International Law and Treaties, Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Vietnam, and a visiting fellow at the East-West Center in Washington DC and the Institute of Southeast Asian Studies (Singapore).