

Contributors

Gry A. Alsos is Professor of Innovation and Entrepreneurship at Nord University Business School, Norway, where she also acts as Program Director of the PhD program. Her research interests include entrepreneurial behavior and new venture start-up processes, entrepreneurship policy, as well as family and gender perspectives to entrepreneurship. She is particularly interested in how different types of entrepreneurs develop their ventures and how they acquire and utilize knowledge and other resources in these processes. She is Field Editor of Entrepreneurship in the Scandinavian Journal of Management and is on the editorial board of Entrepreneurship Theory and Practice.

Gaël Bertrand received his PhD from the University of Montpellier, France, in 2010. He is currently Associate Professor at the Paris School of Business. His research interests are entrepreneurship and outcomes of newly founded firms and, more generally, SME success and survival.

Malin Brännback is Professor of International Business and also the Dean at Åbo Akademi University, Finland, where she received her doctoral degree in Management Science in 1996. She has also held a BSc in Pharmacy from Åbo Akademi University since 1986. She has been visiting Professor in Entrepreneurship at Stockholm Business School, Sweden, from 2012 to 2014. She has published widely on entrepreneurship, biotechnology business, and knowledge management. She has co-authored several books with Alan L. Carsrud, including: Understanding the Entrepreneurial Mind – Opening the Black Box (2009) Springer Verlag; Handbook of Research Methods and Applications in Entrepreneurship and Small Businesses (2014) Edward Elgar; Revisiting the Entrepreneurial Mind – Inside the Black Box (2017) Springer Verlag. She is on the review board of the Journal of Small Business Management. Her current research interests are in entrepreneurial intentionality, entrepreneurial cognition and entrepreneurial growth and performance in technology entrepreneurship, as well as social media use.

Candida G. Brush is the Vice Provost of Global Entrepreneurial Leadership and a Full Professor at Babson College, MA, USA, and is holder of the Franklin W. Olin Chair in Entrepreneurship. She is well known for her pioneering research in women's entrepreneurship. She is a Visiting Adjunct Professor to the Bodø Graduate School, Nord University, Norway. Professor Brush is a founding member of the Diana Project International and holds an honorary doctorate from Jönköping University, Sweden, for her contributions to entrepreneurship research. Her research investigates nascent entrepreneurial ventures, women's entrepreneurship and financing of growth-oriented ventures. She is an active angel investor and serves on the boards of several companies.

Alan L. Carsrud is Visiting Research Professor and Docent at Åbo Akademi University, Finland and Visiting Research Professor, Paris Business School, France. His prior academic positions include the Loretta Rogers Chair in Entrepreneurship at the Ted Rogers School of Management at Ryerson University in Toronto, ON, Canada; Clinical Professor of Entrepreneurship, Professor of Industrial & Systems Engineering, Professor of Hospitality Management, and Executive Director of the Eugenio Pino & Family Global Entrepreneurship Center at Florida International University, FL, USA; Senior Lecturer and Academic Coordinator of the Price Center at the Anderson School at University of California Los Angeles (UCLA) and Senior Lecturer in Electrical Engineering at UCLA, CA, USA. He has also been on the graduate faculties of the Australian Graduate School of Management, Bond University (QLD, Australia); Anahuac University (Mexico); Nanyang Technological University (Singapore); University of Southern California (CA, USA); Pepperdine University (CA, USA) and The University of Texas at Austin (TX, USA). He is a Fellow of the Family Firm Institute. He is Associate Editor of the Journal of Small Business Management, and co-founded Entrepreneurship and Regional Development. He founded the UCLA Venture Development and Global Access Programs, which help create new, technology-based ventures in Australia, Chile, Finland, France, Italy, Mexico and the USA. In addition, he created the Family and Closely-Held Business Program at UCLA. He has published over 200 articles and chapters on entrepreneurship, family business, and psychology, and has co-authored with Dr. Malin Brännback several books on entrepreneurship and family business.

Rony Germon received his PhD from the University of Technology of Troyes, France, in 2013. He is currently Associate Professor at the Paris School of Business. His research interests include crowdfunding, big data, digital transformation, and entrepreneurship.

Patricia G. Greene is the Paul T. Babson Chair in Entrepreneurial Studies at Babson College. Dr. Greene served as the founding National Academic Director of Goldman Sachs 10,000 Small Businesses and currently serves as the Global Academic Director of the 10,000 Women program. Greene is a founding member of the Diana Project, a research group dedicated to studying women business owners and their businesses. She is a former federal appointee to the national advisory board for the Small Business Administration's Small Business Development Centers. Her latest entrepreneurial endeavor is as a co-owner of Artworks, a specialty store in Gettysburg, PA, USA.

Diana M. Hechavarría is an Assistant Professor of Entrepreneurship in the Muma College of Business at the University of South Florida, FL, USA. Hechavarría investigates the various dynamics confronted by founders during the start-up process. Her research interests tend to focus on how various social processes and institutional factors influence individuals differentially when aiming to establish a new firm. Hechavarría's research has been published in journals such as Entrepreneurship Theory & Practice; Small Business Economics; International Journal of Gender and Entrepreneurship; Journal of Business and Entrepreneurship; International Journal of Entrepreneurial Behavior & Research; International Journal of Entrepreneurship and Innovation; and International Entrepreneurship and Management Journal. Hechavarría has a PhD in Business Administration from University of Cincinnati (OH, USA), an MA in Liberal Studies from Florida International University (FL, USA), and a BA in Sociology from University of Florida (FL, USA).

Amy Ingram is an Assistant Professor of Strategy and Entrepreneurship at Clemson University, SC, USA. She received her doctorate from the University of Cincinnati, OH, USA, in 2011. Her research focuses on the intersection of non-market strategy, entrepreneurship, paradox, linguistics, and gender.

Inmaculada Jaén has a PhD in Economics (2014) from the University of Seville, Spain, with international mention. Inmaculada is an Assistant Professor of Economics at the Department of Applied Economics, University of Seville, and a member of the research group "SMEs and Economic Development". She has participated in several research projects, funded by the regional and national administrations. Dr. Jaén is taking part in the ELITE project (Ref.: ECO2016-75655-P) financed by the Ministry of Economy and Competitiveness in Spain. Dr. Jaén has published a number of contributions in academic journals and edited books.

Fredric Kropp is a Professor Emeritus at the Middlebury Institute of International Studies at Monterey, CA, USA, and is a Professor of Entrepreneurship, Innovation and Creativity at the Entrepreneurship, Commercialisation and Innovation Centre at the University of Adelaide, SA, Australia. Over the last decade his research has focused on the motivation of social entrepreneurs, including entrepreneurial passion, identities and compassion, and necessity-based entrepreneurs. Prior to entering academia, Fredric worked for consulting firms that specialized in strategic design, policy analysis, and forecasting, and also as committee staff for the Washington State Senate Energy Committee. He enjoys living in Monterey and traveling.

Norris Krueger received his doctorate from Ohio State University in 1989. A mentee of the late Al Shapiro, he often describes himself as a recovering entrepreneur turned entrepreneurship scholar and educator. Today his interests have turned to social entrepreneurship, in particular building entrepreneurial communities. He continues to balance his entrepreneurial bent with highly cited cutting edge academic work in entrepreneurial cognition to grow entrepreneurial mindsets and growing entrepreneurial ecosystems. Currently, he works in entrepreneurial economic development through his consulting firm, Entrepreneurship Northwest, located in Boise, ID, USA. He formerly served on the faculty of Boise State University, but now maintains his academic research in entrepreneurship through multiple outlets, including as a Research Fellow with the Center for Global Business Research, School of Advanced Studies, AZ, USA.

Francisco Liñán is Professor of Entrepreneurship and Innovation at Anglia Ruskin University, UK, and the University of Seville, Spain. Professor Liñán's research interests include entrepreneurship, entrepreneurial intentions and entrepreneurship education, leading to several publications in well-known academic journals. He has participated in projects funded by the Spanish National Government, EU and OECD, and is the Main Researcher in the ELITE Project (Ref.: ECO2016-75655-P). Professor Liñán is Regional Editor at the Journal of Organizational Change Management and is an editorial board member at the International Entrepreneurship and Management Journal, Journal of Global Entrepreneurship Research and the International Journal of Management Science and Information Technology.

Adnane Maalaoui is Head of the Chair for Entrepreneurship and Diversity at the Paris School of Business. His research mainly focuses on issues of entrepreneurship, and in particular disadvantaged entrepreneurs (elderly, immigrant, disabled entrepreneurs, etc.). He works on topics such as entrepreneurial intention and the cognitive approach to entrepreneurship. He mainly applies questions to cases of diversity and social entrepreneurship. Maalaoui is the author of over 20 articles published in academic journals, and has also authored articles published in professional journals and edited books. Maalaoui is the author of a series of French speaking MOOCs on entrepreneurship.

József Mezei is currently a Research Fellow at the School of Business and Management at Lappeenranta University of Technology, Finland. He obtained his DSc in 2011 from Åbo Akademi University, Finland. His recent work has focused on decision making under uncertainty, analytics, soft computing, and fuzzy logic. He has over 60 papers in conference proceedings and journals, including Information Systems Journal; International Journal of Approximate Reasoning; Decision Support Systems; and IEEE Transactions on Fuzzy Systems.

Shahrokh Nikou is a Docent of Business Administration, especially in Information Systems at the Åbo Akademi University, Finland. Nikou is currently a Senior Lecturer and Researcher at the Åbo Akademi University. He has also studied at the Royal Institute of Technology (KTH) in Sweden and the University of Technology (TU Delft) in the Netherlands. Nikou received his PhD (Econ) from the Department of Information Technologies, Åbo Akademi University, Finland, in 2012. He is a member of the editorial board of Electronic Markets; International Journal of Electronic Business Research (IJEER); and International Journal of Web Engineering and Technology (IJWET), and has been a member of program committees in several IEEE and international conferences. His current research interests include Information Systems theories, digital economy, and entrepreneurship. Nikou has over 40 articles in journals and conference proceedings.

Tadeu F. Nogueira is a PhD candidate at Nord University, Norway. His research focuses on entrepreneurial learning, entrepreneurial opportunities, new venture creation, and technology-based entrepreneurship. He is especially interested in research questions that explore the opportunity development process from a learning perspective. Nogueira has published research on the ethical dimension of innovation, business ethics, and corporate responsibility. He holds an MSc in Economics and Business Administration, with specialization in innovation and entrepreneurship, from Aalborg University, Denmark. He also holds a bachelor's degree in Business Administration from Santo Andre Foundation University, Brazil.

Charles Perez received his PhD from the University of Technology of Troyes, France, in 2014. He is currently Associate Professor at Paris School of Business. His research interests include social network analysis, big data, data mining, and entrepreneurship.

Myriam Razgallah is currently a second year PhD student in the University of Carthage, Tunisia, and the University of Grenoble, France, under the co-supervision of Olfa Zeribi (Pr, University of Carthage) and Alain Fayolle (Pr, EM Lyon). Her doctoral researches focus on resource acquisition process in social entrepreneurship. Her major research interests include entrepreneurship, entrepreneurial process, and entrepreneurial intentions.

Leon Schjoedt is a Professor of Entrepreneurship and Management at Mahasarakham University, Thailand. His research focuses on entrepreneurial behavior. He has published more than 40 articles and book chapters. Schjoedt's work has appeared in journals, including Entrepreneurship Theory and Practice; International Journal of Entrepreneurial Behaviour & Research; and Small Business Economics, and has been featured in the Wall Street Journal. Schjoedt serves on the editorial review boards of several journals, including Entrepreneurship Theory & Practice; Journal of Business Venturing; and Journal of Small Business Management, and he serves as an Associate Editor of Small Business Economics.

Kelly G. Shaver is Professor of Entrepreneurial Studies at the College of Charleston, SC, USA. He is a Fellow of the American Psychological Society, a Justin Longenecker Fellow of the United States Association for Small Business and Entrepreneurship, and past Chair of the Entrepreneurship Division of the Academy of Management. Shaver's previous appointments include the College of William & Mary, the Entrepreneurship and Small Business Research Institute in Stockholm, and the National Science Foundation. He has won a teaching award from the Entrepreneurship Division of the Academy of Management, a Best Paper Award from the National Federation of Independent Businesses, and the Distinguished Research Award from College of Charleston School of Business. His internationally recognized entrepreneurship research has been supported by the Ewing Marion Kauffman Foundation and the National Science Foundation. He has served as Editor of Entrepreneurship Theory and Practice and is currently an Associate Editor of the Journal of Small Business Management. He is the founder of MindCette, LLC, an entrepreneurship testing and consulting company.

Ronit Yitshaki is an Assistant Professor at the Department of Economics and Business Administration at Ariel University, Israel. Her research interests include start-ups' accelerations processes, social entrepreneurship, entrepreneurial motivations and opportunity recognition, entrepreneurial identities, and psychology of entrepreneurship.