

Figures

---

1.1	Job creation by I3P start-ups, by year of incorporation	28
1.2	Public expenditure per job created at I3P	29
3.1	Organizational structure of the Center for Entrepreneurship	68
4.1	Munich's innovation cluster	79
4.2	Structure and ecosystem of UnternehmerTUM	80
4.3	Core competence of UnternehmerTUM	83
4.4	Incubation program KICKSTART	86
4.5	The new TUM and UnternehmerTUM entrepreneurship building	91
6.1	Fraunhofer's position between university and research	110
6.2	Fraunhofer locations across Germany	111
7.1	Development stages and funding of technology-based start-up projects	126
7.2	Venture capital investment in start-ups in Germany	129
7.3	Total venture capital investment (seed-, early- and late-stage) in relation to the GDP of the specific country in 2012	130
7.4	The incubation process	130
7.5	Structure of LSI: the public-private partnership combines management, research and finance	134
8.1	Seed capital investment cycles in Germany	145
9.1	Gaps between academic research and industrial application as well as the positioning of FAs	156
9.2	Investor categories differentiated by the time of investment (before vs. after foundation) and source of investment (own vs. foreign money)	157
9.3	Process phases of FA engagements	160
10.1	Number of submissions and supported incubation projects (2004–2015)	172
10.2	Origin of iStart projects (cumulative, 2011–2015)	172
11.1	Flowchart of a student's entrepreneurial journey and the choices a student makes while interacting with SVAA	187
11.2	SVAA's program design	188
11.3	Kanda ApS start-up	195