
Index

- Adrian, T. 265, 267
adverse selection 233, 234, 235–6
Africa, banking competition trends 99, 101, 104 agency costs, see stochastic frontier estimation (agency costs and value of investment opportunities) aggregate demand, and conduct parameter 20, 21 aggregation bias 59, 64–6
Agoraki, M.-E.K. 98
alignment-of-interests hypothesis 218, 222
Altinoz, C. 317
Altunbas, Y. 367
Ang, J.S. 218
Angelini, P. 97
Arellano, M. 246–7
Ashcraft, A.B. 265, 267 Asia, banking competition trends 98–9, 101, 104; see also China, banking competition in asset-based finance 329, 331, 336 asset values, and agency costs, see stochastic frontier estimation (agency costs and value of investment opportunities) assets, changes due to financial crisis (2008, Europe) 120, 121–2, 127–31, 135 asymmetric information 233, 234, 235, 332
audits 329, 336
Avraham, D. 270

Bain, J.S. 58, 92
bank service line, competition and price conduct by 340–41, 356–7
 competition measure–price relationships, significance of 354–6, 360 competition measures 341–6, 361–4 prices, relationship to competition measures 347–54 banking freedom, financial stability and competition tests 190, 192, 203, 204 banks development of 273–4, 276–7
 importance of 259
 reduction in numbers 67, 71–2, 95–6, 122, 123, 238, 240, 267, 366–7 role of 268–73
 as service providers 272
 size, and service line prices 347–9
Baumol, W. 365
Beck, T. 186, 189, 238–9
Berger, A.N. 71, 72, 96, 188, 238, 239, 267, 314, 316, 319, 326, 327, 328, 331, 336, 367
Bertrand paradox 118
big bank holding companies (BHCs) 270, 271, 272, 273–4
Bikker, J.A. 12, 28, 34, 47, 97, 101, 153, 155, 160, 175, 241, 276
Black, L. 328
Black, S.E. 244–5, 334
Blundell, R. 246–7
Bonaccorsi di Patti, E. 239
Bond, S. 246–7
Boone, J. 125, 164, 165
Boone indicator 12, 14, 15, 125–6, 153, 242, 344
 advantages of 122–3
 China, banking competition in 143
 Europe, impact of financial crisis 118–19, 120, 130, 131, 133–5
 interest rate pass-through, and banking competition 309–10, 317, 318, 319
 life insurance industry (Netherlands) 164–5, 171–6
 market power and loan growth 388–90, 391, 392, 394–5, 396
 PCS model 164–5, 171–6
Boot, A.W.A. 235, 270–71, 333, 336, 385–6
Borio, C. 314, 316
borrower welfare 327
Bos, J.W.B. 68, 153
Bover, O. 246–7
Boyd, J. 52, 53–4, 55, 185, 188, 274, 275
Brambor, T. 69
Bresnahan, T.F. 12, 19–20, 21, 48, 120
Broecker, T. 234
Brook, Y. 206–7
Brunnermeier, M.K. 265
Buch, C.M. 282

Caminal, R. 235
Canada, banking competition trends 96, 97
Carbó, S. 98, 120, 135, 146, 242
Carbó-Valverde, S. 335, 386
Carter, D. 328

- Cetorelli, N. 72, 97, 236–7, 238, 239–40, 272, 385
- charter value 205, 207, 214, 215
- Chava, S. 245
- China, banking competition in 98–9, 149–50
- degree of competition, studies on 142–3
 - effects of competition, studies on 143–4
 - empirical analysis 144–9
 - market share, by type of bank 141–2
 - ownership types 147–9
 - reforms 140–41
- Chong, T. 144
- Christensen, L.R. 161
- Cihak, M. 186
- Claessens, S. 241, 242–3
- Clerides, S. 282
- Coccorese, P. 101, 240
- Cole, R.A. 71–2
- Collender, R.N. 238
- collusion 59
- critical mass model 62–3, 71, 72–6, 78–9, 86–8
- competition
- benefits of 100
 - effects of 185–6, 230, 274–5, 383
 - importance of 46
 - policy 136
 - and risk 52–6, 275
- competition efficiency (CE) frontier 344–6, 349–50, 351–2, 353–5, 360, 363–4
- competition-fragility theory 185, 187, 199, 275
- competition measures 1, 91–5, 275–6, 277; see also bank service line, competition and price conduct by; Boone indicator; critical mass model; Herfindahl–Hirschman index (HHI); Lerner index; market power measures; Panzar–Rosse H-statistic; Panzar–Rosse revenue test, empirical illustration
- competition-stability theory 275
- concentration 58–9
- and bank failure 188
 - and contestability 366
 - and credit access 334
 - and economic growth 237–40
 - Europe, trends 120–22, 135
 - four-firm concentration ratio 12–13
 - global data 101–2, 104, 105–8
 - see also* critical mass model; Herfindahl–Hirschman index (HHI); market power measures
- conduct parameter 12, 13, 19–21
- conglomerates, rise of 269–71, 273–4
- conjectural variation 47–9
- critical mass model 62–4, 67, 68–9, 72, 74, 86–8
- consolidation, banks 67, 71–2, 95–6, 122, 123, 238, 240, 267, 366–7
- constant returns to scale (CRS) assumption 45
- contestability, see internet banking and contestability
- Cornaggia, J. 245–6
- Corts, K.S. 12, 13, 20–21, 48
- Corvoisier, S. 366, 368, 375, 377
- costs 279–80, 281
- and conduct parameter 20, 21
 - and Lerner index 15–18
 - and scale 14–15
 - sunk 365–6, 368
 - see also* critical mass model; stochastic cost frontier model, banking competition and economic growth; stochastic frontier estimation (agency costs and value of investment opportunities); translog cost function/model
- Cottarelli, C. 310, 312, 314, 315, 316
- Cournot model
- biases 59
 - and critical mass model 60–66
- Cowling, K. 12, 59; see also critical mass model
- credit availability and market power, see market power, and loan growth
- credit rationing 235, 334
- credit scoring 330
- Creusen, H. 175
- critical mass model 59–60, 79–80
- collusion 62–3, 71, 72–6, 78–9, 86–8
 - conjectural variation 62–4, 67, 68–9, 72, 74, 86–8
 - critical mass in competition 60–66
 - critical mass metrics 69–71
 - data 66–8
 - empirical results 71–9, 84–6
 - estimation strategy 68–9
 - omitted variable bias 62–6, 74–5
 - validation of critical mass 71
- crowd funding 330
- Cummins, J.D. 153, 155, 156, 163, 170
- Daglish, T. 280
- Degryse, H. 239, 308, 334–5
- Deidda, L. 236, 239–40
- Delis, M. 279
- Dell’Ariccia, G. 239, 332–3
- Demsetz, R.S. 270
- deregulation 92, 95–7, 185, 273
- China 141
 - and economic growth 244–6

- and market structure 239, 240
- and risk taking 187
- derivatives 268
- Devaney, M. 366
- developing countries, banking competition
 - trends 99
- DeYoung, R. 218–19, 367
- Dinc, I. 333
- DiSalvo, D. 30, 34
- discounting 329
- diversification of banks 269–71, 273–4, 276–7
- dynamic reallocation models 71, 86–8

- e-banking, see internet banking and
 - contestability
- economic development, level of, and banking
 - competition 99–100
- economic growth, and banking competition
 - 139, 230–31, 259–60
 - banking markets and growth 232–3
 - China 149–50
 - competition measures 240–44
 - empirical assessment of link between 246–59
 - empirical evidence 237–46
 - financial markets and growth 231
 - market structure measures, empirical
 - evidence 237–40
 - regulatory measures 244–6
 - theoretical models 233–7
- economies of scale 14–15
 - and efficiency 161–2
 - life insurance industry 155, 161–2, 166–71
 - and market entry 32
- efficient structure hypothesis (ESH) 92
- Elsas, R. 333
- endogeneity 186
- entrenchment hypothesis 218, 222
- equipment lending 329–30
- Europe, banking competition trends 95–6, 101,
 - 104, 118–20
 - assets 120, 121–2, 127–31, 135
 - Boone indicator 125–6, 130, 131, 133–5
 - concentration 120–22, 135
 - financial crisis, impact of 120–22, 126–36
 - Lerner index 123–5, 127–33, 135
 - literature review 97–8, 119–20
 - loan market 131–5
 - reduction in bank numbers 122, 123
- European Monetary Union (EMU) 305,
 - 313–14, 318, 319
- expense preference hypothesis (EPH) 156, 164

- factoring 329, 331, 336
- fallacy of division 72, 77
- Fattouh, B. 236, 239–40

- Fenn, P. 155
- Fernández de Guevara, J. 243
- financial crisis (2008)
 - interest rate dynamics 378
 - and market power 391, 392
 - and shadow banking 265, 267, 269, 295
- financial crisis (2008), and Europe 120–22,
 - 126–36
 - assets 127–31, 135
 - Boone indicator 125–6, 130, 131, 133–5
 - concentration and market power, low
 - correlation between 135
 - Lerner index 123–5, 127–33, 135
 - loan market 131–5
- financial markets, and economic growth 231
- financial products, difference from non-
 - financial products 48–9
- financial stability, and competition 100, 185–7
 - data and variables used in tests 192–3, 202
 - econometric methodology 189–92
 - empirical results 193–9, 203–4
 - literature review 187–9
- financial stability, and conglomerates 270–71
- financial statement lending 329, 336
- FinTech firms 365; see also internet banking
 - and contestability
- firm size and borrowing 325
- fiscal advantage 270
- Focarelli, D. 366–7
- foreign banks
 - in China 141, 142, 147, 148, 149
 - and diversification 276–7
 - financial stability and competition tests 190,
 - 195, 196, 197, 198, 203, 204
 - as market entrants, effect on competition
 - 100
- four-firm concentration ratio 12–13
- Fourier form (cost model) 17
- franchise value, of banks 185–6, 187–8, 196–7,
 - 214, 215
- Fritz, W. 314, 316
- frontier estimation, see stochastic frontier
 - estimation (agency costs and value of
 - investment opportunities)
- Fu, X. 143, 144, 146
- funding market 272–3
- Fungáčová, Z. 98–9, 144, 145, 146, 147

- Gambera, M. 238
- generalized method of moments (GMM)
 - estimator 192, 193–4, 195, 196, 197
 - banking competition and economic growth,
 - empirical assessment of 246–7, 251,
 - 257, 258–9
- Genesove, D. 12

- geographic proximity, and competition 33, 367
- Gigineishvili, M.N. 317
- global banking competition trends 95–6, 100–101, 104, 113
- Asia 98–9
 - data 102–3, 105–12
 - developing countries 99
 - drivers and consequences of differences in competitiveness 99–100
 - Europe 97–8
 - North America 96–7
- Global Finance Development Database 143
- Goetz, M.R. 270
- Goldberg, L. 153
- Gorter, J.K. 160
- Gorton, G. 265, 267
- Graeve, F. De 313, 314, 317
- Graham, S.L. 274
- Gramm–Leach–Bliley Act (1999) 96–7
- Gropp, R. 366, 368, 375, 377
- growth opportunities, measurement of 207
- Guzman, M.G. 234, 236
- H-statistic, see Panzar–Rosse H-statistic;
Panzar–Rosse revenue test, empirical illustration
- Haaf, K. 97
- Hall–Roeger method (Lerner index) 45
- Hannan, T.H. 71, 96, 314, 316, 319
- Hanoch, G. 162
- Hauswald, R. 235–6
- Hay, D.A. 12, 14–15, 153
- Hay–Liu–Boone model 14–15
- Hellmann, T.F. 185, 187
- Herfindahl–Hirschman index (HHI) 12–13, 58–9, 92
- bank service line, competition and price conduct by 340, 341–2, 350–51, 352, 353, 354–6, 357, 360, 361
 - banking competition and economic growth 238, 239
 - China, banking competition in 144
 - Europe, trends 120–22, 135
 - financial stability and competition tests 190, 191–2, 193, 194, 195–8, 203–4
 - interest rate pass-through, and banking competition 316, 317, 318
 - internet banking and contestability model 369, 370, 371–3, 374, 376, 377, 379
 - life insurance industry, Netherlands 157, 158, 159–60, 166, 170, 172
 - stochastic frontier estimation (agency costs and value of investment opportunities) 213, 214, 217, 221, 225–6
- see also* critical mass model
- Hicks, J.R. 219, 220
- hold-up problem 332, 333
- Holderness, C.G. 219, 224
- holding structure 269–71, 273–4
- Hoxha, I. 243
- Hsieh, M. 143
- Huang, R.R. 245
- Hughes, J.P. 207, 219, 220
- Hyde, C. 28, 29
- imperfect competition, reasons for 306
- industrial organization (IO) approach 28, 241, 308, 383, 384, 385, 386
- information
- acquisition, by banks 235–6
 - asymmetric 233, 234, 235, 332
 - and lending technology paradigm 327–9
 - and relationship lending 325, 328–9, 331–3
- information hypothesis 383, 385
- market power and loan growth model 387, 393–5
- information technology developments 365, 367; see also internet banking and contestability
- insider ownership 206, 216, 218–20, 221–4, 225–6
- interest-only strips 271
- interest rate pass-through, and banking competition 305–6
- competition as explanation for shortcomings of 307–10
 - empirical evidence 314–19
 - empirical issues in modeling 310–14
 - future research 320
 - measuring competition 312–14
 - modeling competition, issues in 310–12
 - pass-through as indicator for imperfect competition 306–7
- international banking competition trends, see global banking competition trends
- internet banking and contestability 365–7
- baseline results 371–4
 - data and variable definitions 369–71
 - dynamics 378–80
 - estimation approach 368–9
 - extensions and robustness 375–8
- Interstate Banking and Branching Efficiency Act (IBBEA, 1994) 78–9
- investment opportunity ratio 206, 208, 214, 215–16, 220, 221, 222, 223–4, 225, 226
- issuer, role of 272
- Japan, banking competition trends 98
- Jayaratne, J. 244

- Jensen, M.C. 218
 Jiménez, G. 185, 186, 189, 275
- k-firm concentration ratio 12–13
- Kasman, A. 155
 Keeley, M. 185, 187
 Kessides, I. 366
 Kick, T. 282
 King, R.G. 231, 232
 Kitamura, T. 317
 Kleimeier, S. 316, 319
 Koetter, M. 67, 282
 Kok Sørensen, C. 315, 316, 318
 Kolari, J.W. 68
 Kourelis, A. 310, 312, 314, 315, 316
 Kysucky, V. 335
- Laeven, L. 241, 242–3, 274
- Latin America, banking competition trends 99, 104
- Lau, L. 12, 48
- leasing 330
- Lee, C. 143
- legal rights, financial stability and competition tests 190, 193, 195, 196, 197, 198, 203, 204
- lending technologies 326–31, 336
- Lerner index 12, 13, 15–19, 36–7, 43–5, 47, 94–5, 242
 advantages of 118, 122–3
 bank service line, competition and price
 conduct by 342, 343, 346, 349–50, 351, 352, 353, 355, 357, 360, 361–2
 China, banking competition in 143, 144, 145–9
 critical mass model 61, 62, 63–6, 68, 69, 70, 74
 economic growth and banking competition
 247–51, 254–5, 256–7, 258
 Europe, impact of financial crisis 119, 123–5, 127–33, 135
 financial stability and competition tests 190, 191, 193, 194, 195–8, 203–4
 global data 103, 104, 109–12
 interest rate pass-through, and banking competition 308–10, 317, 318, 319
 market power and loan growth 384, 387–90, 391, 392, 393–4, 395–7
 and risk 52, 54–6
 shadow banking analysis 277–99
 single-product assumption 281–2
 SME finance 335
- Leroy, A. 313, 314, 315, 317, 318, 319
- letters of credit 271
- Leuvensteijn, M. van 12, 120, 126, 155, 175, 312, 313, 314, 315, 317, 318, 319
- Levine, R. 231, 232, 274
- life insurance industry (Netherlands), efficiency and competition in 152–4 challenges 152–3
 definition of output 162–3 estimation results on scale efficiencies 166–71
 life submarkets 158–60
 literature on 155–6 marginal costs versus average costs 181–2 measurement of 153, 155, 161–5 number of firms 157, 158, 159 PCS model (Boone indicator) 164–5, 171–6 product characteristics 154 production of life insurances 154–5 risk to insurers 154–5 structure of industry 156–60
 translog cost function/model 161, 163–4, 166–71, 172
- Liu, G.S. 12, 14–15, 153
- Liu, H. 275
- loan growth and market power, see market power, and loan growth
- loan market, changes due to financial crisis
 (Europe) 131–5
- loan-to-value (LTV) ratio 329–30
- Loukoianova, E. 185
- Lucas, R.E. 70
- Lucotte, Y. 313, 314, 315, 317, 318, 319
- managerial ownership 206, 216, 218–20, 221–4, 225–6
- Mandel, B.H. 271
- Manove, M. 235
- mark-up, limited measure for loans 344, 349, 350, 351, 352, 353, 354, 355, 357, 360, 361
- market entry and economies of scale 32
 foreign banks, and competition 100
 internet banking and contestability model 368
- market power, and loan growth 383–4, 397–8
 data and variables 386–93
 empirical literature 386 estimation results 393–7
 theoretical issues 385–6
- market power, and risk 52–6; see also financial stability, and competition
- market power, significance of 11, 46
- market power measures 1, 11–15, 58–60, 91–5, 186, 383–4
 conjectural variations models 47–9 and country size 308
 empirical illustration 22–3
 net present value framework 49–51

- Rothschild–Bresnahan conduct index 19–21 summary of commonly used 12–15, 47, 241–2, 275–6 unidirectional causality assumption 308
see also Boone indicator; critical mass model; Herfindahl–Hirschman index (HHI); Lerner index; Panzar–Rosse H-statistic; Panzar–Rosse revenue test, empirical illustration
- market share
China, by type of bank 141–2 measures 12–13, 92
see also critical mass model; Herfindahl–Hirschman index (HHI)
- market structure measures, banking competition and growth 237–40
- market-value inefficiency 205, 206, 208–12, 213, 215–16, 219, 220–27
- market value of firms, see stochastic frontier estimation (agency costs and value of investment opportunities)
- Marquez, R. 235–6, 332–3
Martinez-Miera, D. 56, 275
Mason, E.S. 92
Matutes, C. 235
Maudos, J. 101, 243
McConnell, J.J. 207
Meckling, W.H. 218
Mehrling, P. 266
Mercieca, S. 274
mergers 58–9, 70, 76, 78, 238, 341, 350, 357
Mester, L.J. 219
Metrick, A. 265, 267
Middle East, banking competition trends 104
Mitchener, K.J. 240
Mohanty, S.K. 97
Mojon, B. 316, 319
monopoly model 233–4, 236
monopsony power 55
Monti–Klein model 307, 385
moral hazard 54–5, 188, 233, 234, 235, 268
Morck, R. 218, 219
Mullin, W. 12
- Nagore, A. 101
Nathan, A. 366
Neave, E. 366
net present value framework 49–51
Netherlands, life insurance industry, see life insurance industry (Netherlands), efficiency and competition in
- New Empirical Industrial Organization (NEIO) approach 91, 119, 243–4, 308, 310
Nickell, S. 246
Nicolò, G. De 52, 53–4, 55, 185, 188, 275
non-price competition 293
Norden, L. 335
North America, banking competition trends 96–7, 104
- Oceania, banking competition trends 101, 104 off-balance sheet items (OBS), and output proxy 280–81 oligopoly, equilibrium concepts 11 omitted variable bias (critical mass model) 59, 62–6, 74–5 Ongena, S. 239, 334–5
online banking, see internet banking and contestability operational advantage 270
Ozdemir, N. 317
- Panetta, F. 366–7
Panzar–Rosse H-statistic 1, 12, 13–14, 47, 93–4, 120, 241–2, 276
bank service line, competition and price conduct by 342–3, 350, 351, 352, 353, 355, 356–7, 360, 362–3
China, banking competition in 142–3
economic growth and banking competition 242–3 and interest rate pass-through 309–10
see also Panzar–Rosse revenue test Panzar–Rosse revenue test, empirical illustration 27–8 conclusions 38–9
data 29–33
Lerner index 36–7, 43–5
literature review 28–9
results 22–3, 34–8, 43–5
sample choice 29–30
see also Panzar–Rosse H-statistic
- Pedersen, L.H. 265
peer-to-peer (P2P) lending 330
Peretto, P.F. 236–7, 385
Peristiani, S. 272
Perloff, J.M. 20, 28, 29
Petersen, M.A. 219, 220, 224–5, 234, 237–8, 325, 332, 334, 385 physical capital costs 280
Popescu, A. 175
Pozsar, Z. 268
pricing equation, bank retail rates 306
Prieto, E. 282
private-benefits hypothesis 219, 224 profitability, after change to contestability of market 92 profits, inadequacy as measure of competition 16 property-based lending 330

- public guarantees 265, 270
 Puller, S.L. 20–21
- q* ratio (Tobin) 206–7, 208, 210–16, 220–21, 223, 224, 225, 226
- Rai, A. 153
 Rajan, R.G. 219, 220, 224–5, 234, 237–8, 325, 332, 334, 385
 Ratnovski, L. 136
 re-hypothecation 272–3
 real estate-based lending 330 regulation 244, 383
 and shadow banking 265, 267, 269, 270
 regulatory advantage 270
 Reichert, A.K. 274 relationship lending 233, 235, 238, 325–7, 328–9, 330–36, 385–6 rents, and market power 77, 78
 repo (repurchase agreements) 265, 272–3
 Repullo, R. 56, 275
 rescue financing 333
 Riegle–Neal Act (1994) 96, 245 risk 52–6, 185–7
 big bank holding companies (BHCs) 270
 China 143–4
 and competition 275
 conglomerates 270–71, 274
 to life insurers 154–5
 and relationship lending 332, 333
 see also financial stability, and competition
- Robbins, E. 33
 Rosse, J., see Panzar–Rosse H-statistic;
 Panzar–Rosse revenue test, empirical illustration
- Rothschild–Bresnahan conduct index 12, 13, 19–21
 Rubio-Misas, M. 155
- Sander, H. 316, 319
 Saving, T.R. 12, 238
 scale economies, see economies of scale
 Schaeck, K. 185, 186, 188–9
 Schlueter, T. 317
 Schumpeter, J. 231
 securitization 268–9
 securitized lending 271–3
 security financing market 272–3
 Servaes, H. 207 service line, competition and price conduct by, see bank service line, competition and price conduct by servicer, role of 272 shadow banking 264–8
 definition 264–6
 and development of modern banking system 273–7
 empirical analysis 277–99
 limitations of empirical analysis 299 origin and determinants 266–8 results of empirical analysis 287–99 role of banks 268–73
 Shaffer, S. 12, 21, 22, 27, 28–9, 30, 34, 38, 94, 238, 241–2, 276, 366 shared-benefits hypothesis 219, 224
 Shen, E.Z. 20
 SME (small and medium-sized enterprises) lending 238, 325–7
 banking market size structure 336–7
 competition measures 335
 empirical evidence 334–7
 lending technology paradigm 327–31 survey data, credit access 335, 336 theory 331–4
 Smith, R.T. 236
 Soedarmono, W. 243
 Spearman rank correlation test for perfect competition 22–3
 Spierdijk, L. 27, 28–9, 30, 34, 38, 94, 101, 241–2, 276 stability, see financial stability, and competition
 State Bank of Eagle Butte 31, 32
 Stein, J.C. 326
 Stigler, G.J. 59, 62–4
 Stiglitz, J. 188
 Stiroh, K.J. 71, 87
 stochastic cost frontier model, banking competition and economic growth 248–50, 251
 stochastic frontier estimation (agency costs and value of investment opportunities) 205–6 asset size, controlling for 218 blockholder ownership, performance incentives of 224, 225
 data 207–8, 209–10
 definitions, data 208
 estimation results 220–21
 financial performance and agency costs 216–27
 literature review 206–7
 market concentration, controlling for 220 ownership structure, controlling for 218–20 performance equations 216–17, 220–21 performance incentives 221–7 techniques 208, 210–16
 value of investment opportunities, controlling for 220 Strahan, P.E. 71, 72, 87, 240, 244–5, 270, 334 structure–conduct–performance (SCP) framework 92, 118, 153, 308

- subordinated securities 271 sunk costs 365–6, 368
- Tan, Y. 143–4
Ten Kate, A.T. 62
Ten Kate Sr, A. 62
Thakor, A.V. 235, 270–71, 333, 336, 385–6
Tobin's q ratio 206–7, 208, 210–16, 220–21, 223, 224, 225, 226 too-big-to-fail (TBTF) 270 trade credit 330, 331, 335 transaction-based business lending 326–8, 329–30, 333, 336
translog cost function/model 17, 44–5, 94–5, 124, 161, 163–4, 166–71, 172, 277–9
 banking competition and economic growth 247–8, 249
 multi-output models 282–3
 shadow banking analysis 283–5, 287, 290, 291
trustee, role of 272
Turgutlu, E. 155
- Udell, G. 326, 327, 331
underwriter, role of 272
- United States, banking competition trends 95, 96–7
- Wall, L.D. 274
Waterson, M. 12, 59; see also critical mass model
Weber, B. 366
Weill, L. 98, 146
Weiss, A. 188
Weiss, M.A. 153, 155, 163, 170
Werner, T. 315, 316, 318
Western Dakota Bank 31, 32
Weston, J.F. 218
Wheelock, D.C. 240
Wolfram, C.D. 12
- Xu, B. 143
- Yermack, D. 207
Yildirim, H.S. 97
Yuan, Y. 142–3
Yuengert, A. 162
- Z-index 185, 186, 189, 190, 193, 194–6, 203
Zarutskie, R. 245
Zervos, S. 232

