

About the editor

Julien Chaisse is Professor in the Faculty of Law at the Chinese University of Hong Kong (CUHK). Julien Chaisse is an award-winning specialist in international economic law with particular expertise in the regulation and economics of foreign investment. His research also covers other relevant fields, such as the law of natural resources, energy law and World Trade Organization law. Before joining the Chinese University of Hong Kong (CUHK) Law Faculty in 2009, Julien Chaisse served in the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of France, and started his academic career in Europe. Professor Chaisse is frequently invited as a guest lecturer to many academies and universities around the world, including the Academy of International Investment and Trade Law, Boston University (US), Yokohama National University (Japan), Passau University (Germany) and Melbourne University (Australia) where he is a Senior Fellow to the Law School.

Julien Chaisse has authored a broad body of well-regarded and widely-cited articles on topics such as the rise of sovereign wealth funds, the regulation of foreign investment and decision-making challenges facing the WTO, which have been published in the top refereed journals of international law. In recognition of his outstanding scholarly achievements, Professor Chaisse received the CUHK Research Excellence Award in 2012 and has been Director of the Centre for Financial Regulation and Economic Development of the Faculty since 2013.

In addition to scholarly work, Professor Chaisse has wide experience as a practitioner, and has been engaged as expert, counsel and arbitrator in transnational dispute settlements. As well as being frequently interviewed by local and international media on current events and legal issues, Professor Chaisse is also regularly invited to provide legal advice and training courses on cutting-edge issues of international economic law for international organizations, governments, multinational law firms and private investors, including Ernst & Young, Deloitte US, Maxwell Stamp, the United Nations ESCAP and ITC, World Trade Organization, ASEAN Secretariat, European Commission, Asian Development Bank, and many European countries and ASEAN member states. Professor Chaisse currently advises the E15 Task Force on Investment Policy, sponsored jointly by the World Economic Forum (WEF) and the International Centre for Trade and Sustainable Development (ICTSD).
