Working in the field of not-for-profit law, I have the great good fortune to be part of a truly remarkable community of scholars, practitioners, regulators and others. To all those fellow travellers in Australia and around the world, thank you for your support in this project, and for your commitment to deepening our understanding of not-for-profit law and making the world a better place. Particular thanks are due to Luke Adams from Edward Elgar for his enthusiastic support for this handbook, to Deans past and present, Carolyn Evans, Jenny Morgan and Pip Nicholson, for generous and much-needed financial support, to Jordonne Colley and Chenez Dyer Bray for simply outstanding editorial assistance, and to Jill McFadyean for helping me to finish the editing and for running my life generally. And, as always, thanks to my wife Clare and my children Isabel and Charlie for their patience, support and love.
