

Contents

---

List of contributors	vii
1 Globalization, international spillovers and sectoral changes: an introduction Charlie Karlsson, Andreas P. Cornett and Tina Wallin	1
PART I GENERAL ASPECTS OF GLOBALIZATION
2 Does culture matter? The role of board efficacy, growth and competitiveness in Western and Asian corporate governance Ossi Pesämaa and Martin Svensson	25
3 The impact of technology spillovers and international knowledge flows on the productivity and innovativeness of UK multinationals Gary Cook, Yevgeniya Shevtsova and Hans Lööf	64
4 How does distance determine multinational location choice? A literature review Trudy-Ann Stone	97
PART II SECTOR-SPECIFIC TRANSFORMATIONS
5 Yanagiya: one of the best-practice manufacturing SMEs in Japan Makoto Hirano, Mitsuhiro Kurashige and Kiyonori Sakakibara	131
6 ICT as a driver of innovation: a life-cycle approach Ola Olsson	154
PART III IMPLICATIONS FOR REGIONS IN GENERAL
7 Knowledge-based strategies and sources of growth in small and medium-sized cities: a lesson from the literature Amjad Naveed	177

vi	Globalization, international spillovers and sectoral changes
8	Location, location, location: place-specific human capital, rural firm entry and firm survival Georgeanne M. Artz, Zizhen Guo and Peter F. Orazem	198
9	Succeeding generations, changing trajectories: influences of generational transition on local development experiences Ozan Hovardaoğlu	214
10	The Swedish commuting pattern: a gravity model of commuting, with housing-expenditure and income constraints Michael Olsson	250
PART IV IMPLICATIONS FOR CROSS-BORDER REGIONS
11	Employment and economic activity in different Swedish border regions Tobias Arvemo and Urban Gråsjö	265
12	Identifying potential human capital creation within the cross-border institutional thickness model in the Rhine-Waal region Nino Javakhishvili-Larsen, Andreas P. Cornett and Martin Klatt	291
	Index	329