

Contents

List of contributors	ix
Foreword	xv
Preface	xxii
Acknowledgements	xxiii
Introduction	xxiv

SECTION A FRAMING THE DISCOURSE

1	Democratic theories and potential for influence for civil society in spatial planning processes Lillin Knudtzon	3
2	Landscape democracy: more than public participation? Michael Jones	16
3	Landscape architecture and the discourse of democracy in the Arab Middle East Jala Makhzoumi	29
4	Exploring the concept of 'democratic landscape' Benedetta Castiglioni and Viviana Ferrario	39
5	Shatter-zone democracy? What rising sea levels portend for future governance Charles Geisler	50
6	Making the case for landscape democracy: context and nuances Shelley Egoz, Karsten Jørgensen and Deni Ruggeri	61

SECTION B CONTEXTUALISING LANDSCAPE DEMOCRACY

7	Towards democratic professionalism in landscape architecture Paula Horrigan and Mallika Bose	73
8	Landscape assessment as conflict and consensus Andrew Butler	85
9	Invisible and visible lines: landscape democracy and landscape practice Richard Alomar	96

10	Enacting landscape democracy: assembling public open space and asserting the right to the city Joern Langhorst	106
11	Public space and social ideals: revisiting Vienna's Donaupark Lilli Lička, Ulrike Krippner and Nicole Theresa King	119
12	Storytelling as a catalyst for democratic landscape change in a Modernist utopia Deni Ruggeri	128
13	Democracy and trespass: political dimensions of landscape access Tim Waterman	143
14	Rural landscape governance and expertise: on landscape agents and democracy Jørgen Primdahl, Lone Søderkvist Kristensen, Finn Arler, Per Angelstam, Andreas Aagaard Christensen and Marine Elbakidze	153
15	Managing cherished landscapes across legal boundaries Morten Clemetsen and Knut Bjørn Stokke	165
16	Landscape as the spatial materialisation of democracy in Marinaleda, Spain Emma López-Bahut and Luz Paz-Agras	178
17	Planning the cultural and social reactivation of urban open spaces in Greek metropolises of crisis Eleni Oureilidou	189
18	Landscape democracy in the upgrading of informal settlements in Medellín, Colombia Eva Schwab	200
19	Learning from Occupy Gezi Park: redefining landscape democracy in an age of 'planetary urbanism' Burcu Yiğit-Turan	210
20	Democracy and the communicative dimension of public art Beata Sirowy	222
	List of reviewers	234
	Index	235