

Contributors

Muin Boase is a Senior Teaching Fellow at the School of Oriental and African Studies (SOAS) University of London, where he lectures in Public International Law and International Human Rights Law. He holds an LLM and a PhD from SOAS, a BSc from the London School of Economics, and has been called to the Bar of England and Wales. He worked for two years as a Research Assistant to Sir Bernard Rix of 20 Essex Street (2014–2016) and has carried out research on a number of public international law cases.

Heather L. Bray is a PhD Researcher at the University of Amsterdam. Her PhD research is part of the Lex Mercatoria Publica Project directed by Professor Stephan Schill. She is a barrister and solicitor of the Law Society of Upper Canada. She holds an LLM in Business Law and Taxation from the University of Western Ontario, an LLB from the University of New Brunswick, and a BA in Justice Studies from Royal Roads University.

Yuliya Chernykh (LLM (Stockholm)) is a PhD candidate at the University of Oslo where she is working on contractual interpretation in investment arbitration. Yuliya has extensive practical experience as an arbitrator, expert and counsel in international arbitration proceedings under a number of European and Asian arbitration rules. She is a Chartered Arbitrator and a Fellow of the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators. Yuliya is admitted to the Ukrainian bar.

Jean Ho is Assistant Professor of Law at the National University of Singapore. A graduate of New York University, l'Université de Paris I (Panthéon-Sorbonne), and Cambridge University, she convenes a course on Arbitration of Investment Disputes and supervises undergraduate, graduate, and doctoral research on diverse aspects of international investment law. Prior to academia, she practised international investment law at Shearman & Sterling LLP. Her principal research areas are the law of state responsibility, the law of treaties, and state contracts. She is fluent in French and Mandarin and divides her time between Singapore, London, Paris, and Washington, DC.

Rainer Hofmann is Professor of Public Law, International Law, and European Law, and Co-Director of the Wilhelm Merton Centre for European Integration and International Economic Order at the University of Frankfurt/Main. He is Member of the Advisory Board on International Law of the German Ministry for Foreign Affairs and President of the German Branch of the International Law Association (ILA). He sits on the Executive and the Management Board of the European Union Agency for Fundamental Rights, representing the Council of Europe.

Jörg Kammerhofer (Mag. iur., Dr. iur. (Vienna), LL.M. (Cantab)) is a Senior Research Fellow at the Faculty of Law, University of Freiburg, Germany, and a Visiting Lecturer at the University of Economics and Business, Vienna, Austria. He has written widely on international law and legal theory and is Chair of the European Society of International Law Interest Group on International Legal Theory and Philosophy.

Andreas Kulick (Dr. iur. (Tübingen), LL.M. (NYU)) is Senior Research Fellow at the Eberhard Karls University Tübingen, Germany. His research focuses on public international law and on German and comparative constitutional law and theory. He has advised and represented states in various matters of public international law before international courts and tribunals, including the European Court of Human Rights and the International Tribunal for the Law of the Sea, and in ICSID proceedings, as well as before domestic courts. He is a Member of the ILA Study Group 'Content and Evolution of the Rules of Interpretation in International Law'.

Kate Miles is a Fellow and Lecturer in International Law at Gonville and Caius College, Cambridge. She is the author of a monograph, The Origins of International Investment Law: Empire, Environment and the Safeguarding of Capital (Cambridge University Press 2013).

Mona Pinchis-Paulsen is a Senior Fellow for the California International Law Center and a Visiting Lecturer at the UC Davis School of Law for the 2017/2018 academic year. She is a Canadian lawyer (qualified in 2007) and holds a PhD in International Economic Law from The Dickson Poon School of Law, King's College London, and an LL.M. in International Law from The George Washington University Law School. Her research focuses on international arbitration, international trade, and international investment law. She is Assistant to the Editor-in-Chief of the Journal of International Dispute Settlement.

Stephan W. Schill (Dr. iur. (Frankfurt), LLM (NYU), LLM (Augsburg)) is Professor of International and Economic Law and Governance at the University of Amsterdam, and Principal Investigator of the ERC-project on ‘Transnational Private–Public Arbitration as Global Regulatory Governance’. He is admitted to the Bar in Germany and New York and is a Member of the ICSID List of Conciliators. He serves as Editor-in-Chief of The Journal of World Investment & Trade.

Taylor St. John is a Postdoctoral Research Fellow at the PluriCourts Center of Excellence, University of Oslo, and a Senior Research Associate at the Global Economic Governance Programme, University of Oxford. She holds an MSc and DPhil from the University of Oxford. Her book, The Rise of Investor-State Arbitration: Law, Politics, and Unexpected Consequences, will be published with Oxford University Press in 2018.

Christian J. Tams is Professor of International Law at the University of Glasgow, where he directs the Law School’s LLM in international law. He is a German lawyer (qualified in 2005) and holds an LLM and a PhD from the University of Cambridge. He is an academic member of Matrix Chambers, and over the past decade has acted in cases before the International Court of Justice, the International Tribunal for the Law of the Sea, the Iran-United States Claims Tribunal, and arbitral tribunals.

Jason Webb Yackee is Professor of Law at the University of Wisconsin-Madison (USA). He received his law degree from Duke University and his PhD in political science from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. He has published a number of articles examining the relationship between investment flows and international investment law. His current research project is a historical examination of the protection of French investors in post-colonial Africa.