

Contents

List of contributors	vii
Preface	viii
List of abbreviations and acronyms	x
1 Introduction and overview Dongchul Cho, Takatoshi Ito and Andrew Mason	1
PART I AGING, INDUSTRY MATURATION AND JAPANIZATION
2 Japanization: is it spreading to the rest of the world? Takatoshi Ito	17
3 GDP growth from the perspective of demographic change: will aging Korea become another Japan? Kyooho Kwon	56
4 Export dynamics of Japan, Korea and China Kyu-Chul Jung	79
PART II RESOURCE ALLOCATIONS AND TFP
5 Product market efficiencies and TFP: a comparative study of Japanese and Korean firms Keiko Ito and YoungGak Kim	99
6 Misallocation in the manufacturing sector of Korea: a micro data analysis Jiyeon Oh	121
PART III ROLES OF FINANCIAL MARKETS
7 Financial market efficiency: a comparative perspective Mitsuhiro Fukao	139

8	How to deal with the rise of zombie firms in Korea Daehee Jeong	163
PART IV MONETARY POLICY AND HOUSE PRICES
9	Deflation and monetary policy Barry Eichengreen	183
10	Is Korea's monetary policy following in the footsteps of Japan? Dongchul Cho	202
11	Aging and housing prices: the cases of Korea and Japan Inho Song	232
PART V JAPANIZATION AND FISCAL POLICY
12	Avoiding another "lost decade": what role for fiscal policy? Jerry Schiff and Ikuo Saito	263
13	Lessons for Korea from Japan's fiscal policy SeongTae Kim	288
	Index	313