

Contents

List of contributors	vi
Preface	viii
Acknowledgments	x
Introduction	1
Julian Maxwell Hayter
1 The arc of racial stereotyping, prejudice and discrimination: social psychological perspectives	10
Steven Fein
2 How the enemies of Reconstruction created Reconstruction	31
Edward L. Ayers
3 Urban Black Protestants and the predicament of emancipation	43
Charles F. Irons
4 Never get over it: night-riding's imprint on African American victims	59
Kidada E. Williams
5 Veteran, author, activist: Joseph T. Wilson of Norfolk and black leadership in the Civil War era	84
Elizabeth R. Varon
6 The post-emancipation city of the dead	99
Thomas J. Brown
7 To end divisions: reflections on the Civil Rights Act of 1964	130
Julian Maxwell Hayter
8 What about us? African American workers and the struggle for economic justice in the age of diversity	143
Claudrena N. Harold
9 Forging a unified proletariat: relocating working class agency	158
J. Phillip Thompson
Conclusion. Reconstructions: lessons for racial (in)justice in America	174
Eric S. Yellin
Index	179