

Figures and tables

---

FIGURES

2.1	Eugène Delacroix (1798–1863): Chasse aux lions (Lion Hunt)	54
2.2	Théodore Chassériau (1819–1856): Tepidarium	55
2.3	Henri Regault (1843–1871): Exécution sans jugement sous les rois maures de Grenade (Execution without Trial under the Rule of the Moorish Kings in Granada)	56
8.1	Similarity between Latin American constitutions and the U.S. Constitution over time	220
8.2	Constitutional similarity to the United States in Latin America and the rest of the world	221
8.3	Constitutional similarity between Argentina and the United States	222
8.4	Growth in the average number of index rights	223
8.5	Constitutional similarity between Chile and the United States	225
8.6	Constitutional similarity between Venezuela and the United States	226
8.7	Constitutional similarity between Brazil and the United States	226
8.8	Constitutional similarity between Colombia and the United States	227
8.9	Constitutional scope and detail, by region and over time	230
8.10	Extent of executive power found in constitutions, by region and over time	231
8.11	Extent of legislative power found in constitutions, by region and over time	232
8.12	Details of executive tenure, by region and over time	233
8.13	Details of executive selection specificity, by region and over time	233
8.14a	Overall level of rights protection, by region and over time	234
8.14b	Criminal procedure rights, by region and over time	235

8.14c	Economic rights, by region and over time	235
8.14d	Civil and political rights, by region and over time	236

TABLES

4.1	Constitutional models: autonomy and self-government	116
8.1	Latin America's rank in each category among all eight regions	224
8.2	Latin American constitutions ranked by similarity of rights provisions to the U.S. Constitution as of 2012	227
8.3	Regional differences in constitutional content	229