

Contents

---

List of contributors	vi
1 Introduction Daniela Tavasci and Luigi Ventimiglia	1
2 Integrating history of economic thought into introductory economics Constantinos Repapis	10
3 Teaching economic theory based on the history of economic thought Joseph Halevi	32
4 From teaching history of economic thought to teaching and learning with historical perspectives Daniela Tavasci	49
5 Eleven theses on political economy and ‘rethinking economics’: The role of the history of economic thought in the ‘Italian tradition’ Riccardo Bellofiore	65
6 Introducing institutional microeconomics through the study of the history of economic thought Gerald Friedman	75
7 Teaching money and banking with regard to the history of economic thought Louis-Philippe Rochon and Sergio Rossi	91
8 Teaching financial economics with historical perspectives Luigi Ventimiglia	108
9 Teaching and learning with historical perspectives Stephanie Fuller	129
Index	145