

Contents

List of figures and tables	vii
List of contributors	ix
Series preface	xiii
Introduction: reconsidering European citizenship Sandra Seubert and Oliver Eberl	1
PART I MODELS AND CONSTRUCTIONS OF EU CITIZENSHIP
1 EU citizenship and the puzzle of a European political union Sandra Seubert	21
2 The historical origins of local–national citizenship combinations in Western Europe and the implications for EU citizenship Marcel Hoogenboom and Maarten Prak	42
3 EU citizens’ duties: preventing barriers to the exercise of citizens’ rights Jan Komárek	64
PART II CONTRADICTIONS AND CONSTRAINTS OF EU CITIZENSHIP
4 Market or polis ? Sources of different rights and conflicting social logics in the dynamics of European integration Frans van Waarden	89
5 EU citizenship and ‘work’: tensions between formal and substantive equality Hartley Dean	108
6 A ‘rights revolution’ in Europe? The ambiguous relation between rights and citizenship Christoph Strünck	133

7	Shifting borders and contested identities: the quest for republican EU citizenship and polity Vít Hloušek and Viktor Koska	152
PART III PROSPECTS FOR EU CITIZENSHIP
8	EU citizenship: integrating multi-layered identities? Francis Cheneval and Mónica Ferrín	177
9	EU citizenship and prospects for cosmopolitanism Sandra Seubert	198
10	Transnational European civic solidarity Oliver Eberl	219
11	Justifying Europe Philippe Van Parijs	242
	Conclusion: from protection to empowerment Sandra Seubert	254
	Index	261