Index

abuse of rights doctrine 295
access to justice 57–75 see also Aguinda v. ChevronTexaco (2012); parallel proceedings and overlapping jurisdictions 67–68 and parallel proceedings 66–75 declining jurisdiction 68–70
lessons from Chevron/Ecuador 70–74 overlapping jurisdictions 67–68 recognition prognosis 73–74 transnational access-to-justice gap 72–73 US-Ecuador BIT, denial of justice under breach of Ecuador’s obligation 58–59 effective means 56
interpretation/ misinterpretation 57, 62–64
non-renewal of BIT by Ecuador 63 Act of State doctrine, injunction by analogy 150 actor sequitur forum principle 71 adhesion, contract of 189 adjudication, international see also litigation
global supply chains as catalysts of new adjudication strategies 252–254 and Mestizo trajectories 371–380 Petrobras saga and Mestizo international law 371–380 politics of 378–380
shift from judicial to arbitral adjudication 57
agribusiness sector, transnational human rights litigation in 244–254 see also Doe v. Nestle (2014); global supply chains; human rights corporate liability for aiding and abetting under ATS 246–248 overcoming presumption against the extraterritorial application of ATS 248–250 role of international law in context of ATS litigation 248 uncertainties surrounding ATS litigation in US, following Kiobel 238, 246–250, 318 Aguinda v. ChevronTexaco (2012) 55–75 see also Ecuador
access to justice 55–66
denial of justice under US-Ecuador BIT 56, 57, 58–59, 62–64 ‘authentic’ interpretation by State Parties to treaties 57, 65 Chevron and Texaco dressed up as investors 58–62 concreteness requirement 64–65 consistency, need for 65 decisions of arbitral tribunal to interfere in a national court case where only one party in proceedings involved 61–62 ecological harm allegedly caused by exploiting oil-rich area 55–75 Ecuador
alleged violation of obligations 57, 62 attempting to take control over treaty interpretation 62–66 challenging of arbitral awards by 59 compared to other Latin-American countries 55 delay in adjudicating breach-of-contract claims 58–59 ICSID Convention, denouncing 63
non-renewal of BIT 63 Treaty between the United States of America and the Republic of Ecuador concerning the Encouragement and Reciprocal Protection of Investment (1993) 57, 60 and US involvement in litigation 62–66 effective system for authoritative interpretation of investment treaties, need for 65 expert witnesses, use of 64 forum shopping issues 3, 69
Free Trade Commissions 65 gap in enforcement regime of foreign arbitral awards and judicial decisions 62 Interim Awards on Interim Measures 60
Interim Measures Order 59–60

Horatia Muir Watt, Lucia Biziková, Agatha Brandão de Oliveira and Diego P. Fernandez Arroyo - 9781788119238
Downloaded from Elgar Online at 07/16/2019 11:12:39AM via free access 568  Global private international law

Investor-State Dispute Settlement (ISDS)
complex nature of 57
encouraging investigators to rely on, to influence judicial on-going proceedings in host State 59 failures of judicial system, solving 58–59
as remedy against State courts’ decisions 59–62
and Lago Agrio case 58, 60, 61 legal battle of measures and countermeasures 8
lessons from 70–74
_lis pendens_ (pending legal action) 61
paradox 72
Partial Award on the Merits 63 Permanent Court of Arbitration (PCA)
involvement 57
plaintiffs 55, 60, 61, 66, 68–73 pollution caused by Texaco’s drilling activities 58 powers of arbitral tribunals to adopt interim measures 61
_res judicata_ 61
shift from judicial to arbitral adjudication 57
State involvement and adjudicating public interests by private means 56–66
United States 57, 62–66
substantial aspect of dispute 63–64 summary of facts of case and judgment 55–56
tracks I to III of proceedings 60 and Treaty between the United States of America and the Republic of Ecuador concerning the Encouragement and Reciprocal Protection of Investment
(1993) 57, 60
UNCITRAL arbitration proceedings 57, 60, 65
US-Ecuador BIT, denial of justice under breach of Ecuador’s obligation under 58–59
effective means 56
interpretation/misinterpretation 57, 62–64
non-renewal of BIT by Ecuador 63
aiding and abetting
under the Alien Tort Statute 246–248 supply chain capitalism 239–241
Alien Tort Statute (ATS), US see also Doe, _v._ Nestle (2014); _global supply chains; Kiobel v. Royal Dutch Petroleum Co._ (2013) complexities of US law and European simplification 303–304
 corporate liability for aiding and abetting under 246–248
modern history and _Filartiga_ 305 moral and hegemonic dimension of ATS
litigation 305–306
overcoming presumption against the extraterritorial application of 248–250 personal ambit and international law 311–312
rise of human rights litigation in US courts 304–305
role of international law in context of ATS litigation 248
scope 323
subject matter jurisdiction 304 uncertainties surrounding following _Kiobel_ 238, 246–250, 318
Alito, Justice Samuel 407
Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) 429
_American Business Abroad_ (1969) 21
American Law Institute, principles of 74
Anner, Mark 238
anthropology 9
anti-discrimination law, global see global anti-discrimination law antitrust claims, US and arbitration clauses 77
second-look doctrine 79–81, 82
antitrust law
arbitrability of 31, 76, 77, 78, 79, 81
contracts 77
second-look doctrine 79, 80
statutes 78, 80
in the United States 79, 80, 81
violations of 76, 77
arbitrage 5, 137
regulatory 139, 217, 218, 280
arbitration
see also _Aguinda v. ChevronTexaco_ (2012);
_Mitsubishi Motors Corp. v. Soler
Chrysler-Plymouth, Inc_ (1985) antitrust law, arbitrability of 31, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81
arbitrability and second-look doctrine 91 arbitration-friendly jurisdiction, building 77–81
autonomy of 88 balancing arbitrability and court control 82–91
importance of court control 89–91
limited scope of court control 84–89

Horatia Muir Watt, Lucia Bíziková, Agatha Brandão de Oliveira and Diego P. Fernandez Arroyo - 9781788119238
Downloaded from Elgar Online at 07/16/2019 11:12:39AM via free access maximalist doctrine 82, 83–84
minimalist doctrine 82–83, 86, 87–88 refusal of enforcement of awards violating ordre public 82 Carriage of Goods by Sea Act 78 case management stay 340–341 clauses and antitrust statutes 78 broad drafting of 80, 81
unconscionability 188
competence-competence principle 337–338
and competition law 88
Conciliation and Arbitration Boards (CABs) 186, 192, 193, 197, 198
Court of Arbitration for Sport (CAS) 153, 154 decisional harmony 336–341 decisions of arbitral tribunal to interfere in a national court case where only one party in proceedings involved 61–62 error of law in award 88 examination of compatibility of arbitral awards with competition law 90 exclusive jurisdiction 338–339
of federal statutory claims 77–79
intentions of parties 81
London Court of International Arbitration (LCIA) 192
ordre public see ordre public paideic 182–190
arbitration as a paideic institution 183–187
Garcia v. Church of Scientology (Scientological arbitration and contract of adhesion) 188–190
Rebmann v. Rohde (Jewish arbitrator and descendant of Nazis) 187–188
Permanent Court of Arbitration (PCA) 57
powers of arbitral tribunals to adopt interim measures 61 and religion see religion and arbitration restrictive approach towards arbitrability 91 Scientological, and contract of adhesion 188–190 scope of 88
shift from judicial to arbitral adjudication 57
UNCITRAL (United Nations Commission on International Trade Law) 57, 60
Rules 65
Argentina v. NML Capital, Ltd. (2014) 255–270
broad view of significance of case 268–269 declaration of Argentina in ‘selective default’ 258 legal enforcement in modern sovereign debt markets 263–270
broad view of significance of case 268–269
changes in legal enforcement 266
determining whether requiring extraordinary remedies 265–266
litigation 264–269, 270
management of litigation risk in sovereign debt markets 267–268 private market for sovereign debt 4 resolution of Argentina’s default 256–258 retrospective examination of 262–263 strength of contract, measuring against sovereign immunity 256–263 bankruptcy rule 259
debt restructurings of 1980s 259–260, 262
intermediary conclusions 258
negotiation of IMF with sovereigns 261–262
pari passu clause 256–258, 265, 266, 269
resolution of Argentina’s default 256–258
retrospective examination of case 262–263
Stand-By Agreement 261
summary of facts of case and judgment 255, 263 assisted reproduction see posthumous insemination and consent to treatment; surrogacy asylum seekers, relocation from Greek camps to the Netherlands 558–561 ATS Statute see Alien Tort Statute (ATS), US autonomy of parties see also Bremen v. Zapata Off-Shore Co. (US, 1972); forum selection clauses centrality of party autonomy and financial markets 278–280 and conflict of laws scholarship 23 financial denationalisation, facing 462–464 implications of choice of forum clauses 27 limitations on since 1972 17–18 limited scope of 464 and non-discrimination 201–210 policy framework 28–29
procedural facet 26

Horatia Muir Watt, Lucia Bíziková, Agatha Brandão de Oliveira and Diego P. Fernandez Arroyo - 9781788119238
Downloaded from Elgar Online at 07/16/2019 11:12:39AM via free access
570  Global private international law

and questions of scale 22 significance of The Bremen 24, 26 substantive facet 26
US courts changing position on 16–17

Badin, Michelle 378
Banco Santander v. Transport Companies (2016) 456–471 choice of law in domestic contracts 464–471
concept of a domestic contract 467–469
market access for domestic actors 470–471
origin of distinction between domestic and international contracts 465–467
right of access to foreign financial markets 464–471 facilitating or co-producing logic of financial markets, by private international law 5 global post-crisis markets, balancing between domestic and international contracts 457–464 contract market architecture, global dynamics 460–462

legal certainty and financial innovation 458–460 party autonomy facing financial denationalisation 462–464 inter-systemic arbitrage 5
summary of facts of case and judgment 456

Bang, Naomi Jiyoung 238–239, 240 bankruptcy
Argentina v. NML Capital, Ltd. (2014) 259
Lehman Brothers v. BNY Corporate Trustee (2010) 274–276

Barrientos, Stephanie 238
Baudrillard, Jean 8
Becker Lorca, Arnulf 377, 378
Berman, P.S. 8, 9
Blair, Jennifer 238
Blas, Jeremy 238

Bomhoff, Jacco 25
Borrows, John 147
see also forum selection clauses; free trade broad application, impact 32–33 and Carnival Cruise v. Shute 32 and classical analysis 16–18

complexity of 24
and CompuServe v. Paterson 33 deferral policy 26
Fifth Circuit, Court of Appeals 16, 18, 19 forum non conveniens assessments in land-based courts 17 global perspective for resolution of jurisdictional conflicts 22 and global turn 3, 25 hypothetical norms 26–29 imagining the real 18
inter-nationalist comparison of contracts and interests 19, 22 as lacking critique or self-reflection 23 legal certainty, quest for 27–28 and legal modernism 22–24 local connections, importance of 19 matters of scale 19–22 and Mitsubishi v. Soler Chrysler-Plymouth 31
ouster doctrine 16, 19
overturning of decisions by US Supreme Court 16–17, 18 and party autonomy see autonomy of parties placing in time 25, 34 reading of as laying down a rule of federal common law 21 reasonableness test 17, 20 revisiting, reasons for 22 and Scherk v. Alberto-Culver 30 scope and status issues 28–29 significance of 24
summary of facts of case and judgment 15 transnational and global perspectives, need for 21 and world markets/world making 18–21
prior to critique 22–24
Bretton Woods Conference 260
Brussels regime
see also judicial discretion; Owusu v. Jackson (2005) applicability of Article 2 of 1968 Convention 35, 38–40 Cambodian ‘blood sugar’ scandal and Brussels I Recast Regulation 119–121, 123–124

Harrods judgment (1991) 38 incompatibility with forum non conveniens doctrine 40–41 Jenard Report (1968) and 1968 Convention 38
Index 571

and judicial discretion 35–41 mandatory nature of Article 2 of 1968 Convention 40
and objectives of single market 46 preamble to Convention 38 private international law questions and Brussels I Recast Regulation 120, 121
reflexive effect doctrine 41, 49–52, 123 ‘reform’ of EU jurisdiction and Articles 33 and 34 of Brussels I Recast Regulation 44–54
problematic scope of Articles 33 and 34 46, 47–48
scope of Regulation itself 48–49 uncertain status of Articles 33 and 34 49 scope of Convention 39 transformation of Convention into a European Regulation 43
Brussels School of Jurisprudence (BSJ) 420
Burger, Chief Justice Warren Earl 16, 18, 19, 21, 22, 24

Cambodia
agricultural mobility 143
ambiguities of 2001 Land Law 144–145
‘blood sugar’ scandal see Cambodian ‘blood sugar’ scandal evictions in 146
French Protectorate (1863–1953) 142, 146 genocide 142
Khmer Rouge regime (1975–79) 142–143, 144
Khmers, traditional ownership system
141–142
Land Clearance Agents 132
Land Law 131, 132, 137, 138
of 2001 144–148 accompanied by a Systematic Land Registration (SLR) programme 148
Land Management and Administration Project (LMAP) 148
land title systems 122, 129 mobility as way of life/for survival 143–144
pre-colonial codes 141
Cambodian ‘blood sugar’ scandal 118–150
see also Song Mao & Tate & Lyle (2013)
global supply chain, regulatory potential 120, 125–127, 129
global value chain analysis 130–140 background and context 131–134
choice of law 130, 134
civil procedure 138
foreign host country involvement 139 identity of investing capital 133–134 private-law 134–138
public/private divide, crossing 139
structure of chain 132–133
human rights concerns 128, 129 indigenous norms/rights 4, 145, 147
land rights, concern with 119
blurred frontiers and actors 146 Communication to International Criminal Court (2014) 128
dealings as crimes against humanity 128
dispossession of land, crime of 128–129
economic land concessions (ELC) 146 foreign land and sovereignty 122–124
Land Clearance Agents 132
Land Law 131, 132, 137, 138, 144–148
land-grabbing 130, 140, 146–149
preclusive jurisdiction 124
publicity 128
systems of land title in Cambodian law 122, 129
title considered ‘non-justiciable’ 124 litigating in English courts 119–130 Brussels I Recast Regulation and jurisdictional issues 119–121, 123–124
foreign land and sovereignty 122–124
private international law questions 120–122
prospects and limitations of ‘private’
litigation 127–129
supply chain, regulatory potential 125–127, 129
oral customary principles, integrating in private international law 140–150
coeexistence of two types of ownership (property and possession) 145–150
historical background 141–145
injunction of analogy 148–150
legal form 147–148
scale, setting 140–141
private international law questions 120–122
Brussels regime 119–121, 123–124
choice of law 119, 122
human rights violations 128
prospects and limitations of ‘private’
litigation 127–129
regulatory technique concern 127
Rome II Regulation 121, 122
private-law analysis 134–138
property 119–120, 136–138
tort of conversion 122, 135–136
572  Global private international law

capitalism 3, 95
borderless 101
co-constitution of global and late capitalism 101 contracts-based, taking seriously 237–244 development 101
derounding 170
explanations of 232 financial global contemporary forms 276 corruption 234–235
and late capitalism 101 loopholes 102
'golden age' of 25
keeping in check 170
late 101
'legal disaster' 106, 116 models 452
monopolistic 212
see also monopolies platform capitalism 483
and private international law 237–243
contracts-based capitalism, taking seriously 238–239
'dark value,' production of 237–238
supply chain capitalism 239–242
supply chain capitalism see supply chain capitalism transnational 244
variety of (VoC) 233
'case-book failures' 1 and Cassis de Dijon 448 economic integration perspective 449–450
freedom of establishment 437–446
diagonal conflict 444–446
fraud exception 441–444
lex societatis 447
purely domestic situations 439–440 significance for 438
and TFEU 439, 445, 446
U-Turn tactics 438, 440, 443, 444
functions of corporate law for host State 451–453 nationality of corporations issue in public international law 453–455
plaintiffs 441
summary of facts of case and judgment 436
Chander, Anupam 221
charismatic authority 10
Chevron Texaco/Ecuador case see Aguinda v. ChevronTexaco (2012) children see also family and parenthood issues; posthumous insemination and consent to treatment; surrogacy Anti-Trafficking Directive 563, 564
balancing surrogacy, interests of a child and parenthood 504–509 Committee on the Protection of the Rights of All Migrant Workers 563–564
Committee on the Rights of the Child 563
Convention on the Rights of the Child (UNCRC) 531, 565
Hague Child Protection Convention 564
‘Separated Children in Europe Programme’ (SCEP) 565 slavery case see Doe. v. Nestle (2014);
global supply chains
'transnational' child, defining status of 5
unaccompanied migrant 561–565 China, social responsibility standard 176 choice of forum clauses see forum selection clauses
choice of law
agency law overriding any clause 87 arbitration of antitrust claims, US 80, 81 domestic contracts
concept of a domestic contract 467–469
market access for domestic actors 470–471
origin of distinction between domestic and international contracts 465–467
right of access to foreign financial markets 464–471 global value chains, problems of designing a legal infrastructure to 130, 134 methodology in use 195
class actions
and class arbitration 429 dispute arbitration in consumer protection, comparative perspective 428–429 Federal Rules of Civil Procedure (FRCP), US 428 migration context 557–565 asylum seekers, relocation from Greek camps to the Netherlands 558–561 unaccompanied migrant children 561–565 transnational law 3
Index 573

waiver clauses 430
codes of conduct and standards
see also corporate social responsibility (CSR); Kasky (Mark) v. Nike (2002) behavioural analysis 177–179 ‘constitutional’ emergence of 180 corporate social responsibility (CSR) 253 French Social Responsibility Code 170 globalisation, dual privatisation of law in 162–171 implications of adoption by a corporation 176, 177 International Organization for Standardization 167
ISO 26000 (Social Responsibility) 167, 168
market of standards 175–177
Nike Code of Conduct 167, 168
OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises 167, 176
private codes of conduct as an instrument of global law 172–180
public codes 167
‘Ruggie Principles’ 167
sweatshops in Asia, problem of 162, 173
comity, interference of 274–276
commercial speech and dual privatisation of law 164–165
Committee on the Rights of the Child 563
Common European Asylum System (CEAS) 563, 564 comparative law 9 competence, international and extraterritoriality 319–331 negative effect of competence-competence principle 61 competence-competence principle 337–338
competition law see also arbitration; Mitsubishi Motors Corp. v. Soler Chrysler-Plymouth, Inc (1985); ordre public accurate application of 89 arbitrability of claims 78, 82, 91 compliance with 88 and Eco Swiss judgment 86–87
economic transplants 364 effective enforcement principle 90 examination of compatibility of arbitral awards with 90 firms and nations competing through IP law 213–223 firm competition alongside State competition 214–216
travelling corporations 216–222
importance in EU law 88 Mitsubishi and arbitrability of competition law matters 82, 83 and ordre public 82, 83, 86, 88, 90 review of arbitral determinations by national courts 79–80 and travelling corporations 216–221
in the United States 168
violations of 82, 87, 88, 90
Conciliation and Arbitration Boards (CABs) 186, 192, 193, 197, 198 conflict see also conflict of laws diagonal 444–446 features of global law 7–8 ideal types 7 identifying the conflict 9
interlegality 7
interminglings between social systems 8 mainstreaming of conflicts 9 mutual irritation resulting from globalisation 7, 8, 9
nation-state boundaries, legal impregnability of 7 normative interaction 8, 9 pervasiveness of conflicts 9 type of 7–10
conflict of laws 8–11, 13, 23
and ‘foreign situations’ 538–547 pitfalls of method of recognition of situations 543–547 recognition method, extending to situations abroad 539–542 religion and arbitration 195, 199–200 constitutionalism, societal 11 constructive indignation 173
contracts
see also global contract governance of adhesion 189
antitrust law 77
choice of law in domestic contracts
concept of a domestic contract 467–469
origin of distinction between domestic and international contracts 465–467
right of access to foreign financial markets 464–471 codes of conduct and standards incorporated into 177 contract market architecture, global dynamics 460–462
contracts-based capitalism, taking seriously 238–239
domestic 467–469
concept of a domestic contract 467–469
market access for domestic actors 470–471
origin of distinction between domestic and international contracts 465–467
right of access to foreign financial markets 464–471 domestic and international, balancing between in-post-crisis financial markets 457–464 financial governance and Lehman Bros 273–274 freedom of contract 19, 26, 201, 202, 205, 208, 209 global contract governance 5 international migrations, management 549–556 lawless 469
origin of distinction between domestic and international contracts 465–467 simple 458
sovereign immunity, measuring strength of contract against 256–262 strength of, measuring against sovereign immunity 256–263 conversion losses for 135, 136 defined 149
place of damage 135
tort of 122, 135–136
Cooper, F. 102
corporate liability
see also environmental damage; Trafigura lawsuits (re Côte d’Ivoire), 2009; threatened human rights aiding and abetting under the ATS 246–248 for environmental damage in transnational setting 92–116 blocking statutes 108
breaches of environmental laws 107–108 difficulties tracing chain of responsibilities 93–94 improved enforcement requirement 114
suing of corporate entities in jurisdiction of incorporation 108 ways in which the corporate entities can be held accountable 107
human rights violations
application of European private international law rules 250–251 global supply chains as catalysts of new adjudication strategies 252–254 corporate nationality 446–455 corporate planning 446–455
corporate social responsibility (CSR) 174, 310–318
corporation as subject of international law 311–313
extraterritorial jurisdiction 313–318
following Kiobel 318–319
private codes of conduct, as instrument of global law 174, 175 whether tragedy missed chances for 310–319 corporations
see also corporate liability; corporate social responsibility (CSR) codes of conduct, implications of adoption 176, 177 free movement see free movement of corporations nationality of in public international law 453–455 as subjects of international law 311–313
suing of corporate entities in jurisdiction of incorporation 108 transnational (TNCs) see agribusiness sector, transnational human rights litigation in travelling see travelling corporations corruption
global see global corruption and economic power Côte d’Ivoire
see also environmental damage; Trafigura lawsuits (re Côte d’Ivoire), 2009 civil war 93, 96, 100 economic success 93
hazardous waste dumped in city of Abidjan 93, 95–96, 99 medical emergencies in Abidjan 93, 95 partition of 96
sanctions for breaches of public health and environmental laws 95–96, 114 Trafigura still conducting business in 93, 102 court control
see also arbitration; Mitsubishi Motors Corp. v. Soler Chrysler-Plymouth, Inc (1985) balancing arbitratibility with 82–91 importance 89–91
limited scope 84–89
Court of Justice of the European Union (CJEU)
- arbitrability and control 82, 83, 86–87
- judicial discretion 37–40, 43, 46
- parallel proceedings and access to justice 69
Cover, Robert 185
Crittenden, Quirtina 426
- cultural identities 529–547
- continuity of personal status and family relations across borders, ensuring 530–538
- freedom of movement 530–532
- perspectives 536–538
- private and family life, protection of 530–532
- private international law 530–532
- ‘foreign situations’ and conflict of laws 538–547
- crystallisation concept 539–542
- pitfalls of method of recognition of situations 543–547
- recognition method, extending to situations abroad 539–542
- informal sub-cultures 9
- internal make-up of each legal culture 9
- private international law and human rights 530–537
- thinking outside-the-box approach to 538–547

Dagan, Tsilly 218
Dallah v. Pakistan (2010) 332–349
- case management stay 340–341
- courts talking at cross-purposes 5
- divergence in interpretation, reasons for 333–341
- case management stay 340–341
- common intention test 334
- competence-competence principle 337–338
- consent to arbitration 334
- decisional harmony in international arbitration 336–341
- exclusive jurisdiction 338–339
- opposite conclusions 333–336
- indeterminacy of legal system hypothesis 342–349
- internationality 343–344, 455

legal culture 344–345
legal indeterminacy 346–349
summary of facts of case and judgment 332

see also Google Spain Sl v. Agencia Española De Protección De Datos; Google v. Equustek Solutions;
Microsoft Corp. v. United States (Microsoft Ireland) (In re Warrant to Search a Certain E–Mail Account Controlled & Maintained by Microsoft Corp. (2016));
Public Prosecutor v. Yahoo! Inc.; Public Prosecutor v. Skype; United States v. Microsoft; In Re Search Warrant; Yahoo! Inc. v. La Ligue Contre Le Racisme (LICRA), 2001

CLOUD Act, US 397, 408–410 content regulation across borders 405–413 cyberspace exceptionalism 402, 403 Data Privacy Directive 398 deterritorialization of 393–405 dominance of, legal challenges 5, 392–414 e-mail 392, 396, 397
fight against discrimination on digital platforms 426–427 presumption against extraterritoriality 397
private international law 404–405
reputation-damaging information 398 right to be forgotten 398, 411 Stored Communications Act (SCA), US 397, 406 summary of facts of cases and judgments 392–393 territorial location 397 de Sousa Santos, Boaventura 8, 22, 100, 115, 419 de Vareilles-Sommières, Pascal 42, 43 Delaney, David 22
Deleuze, G. 8
Delmas-Marty, Mireille 419 deregulation 5, 173
derivatives 360, 421
see also International Swaps and Derivatives Association (ISDA) and Master Agreement financial markets 457, 458, 460–465, 469, 470
and Lehman Bros 271, 276
diagonal conflict 444–446
digital platforms, global anti-discrimination law on limits of domestic approach 426–427
Global private international law

point of departure 424–435

see also global supply chains ability of TNCs to profit from violations of CSR codes 253

agribusiness sector, transnational human rights litigation in 244–254

capitalism and private international law 237–243

aiding and abetting 239–241

contracts-based capitalism, taking seriously 238–239

‘dark value,’ production of 237–238

supply chain capitalism see supply chain capitalism

co-production of global supply chains 4 lessons from 244

mens rea, proving 241, 247

Ninth Circuit Court proceedings 237, 239, 241–242, 244

plaintiffs 238, 241, 243, 245–246, 248, 249, 251, 284

purported child slavery case 236–254

allegation 245–246

summary of facts of case and judgment 236

as test case for approaches to corporate liability for human rights violations application of European private international law rules 250–251

global supply chains as catalysts of new adjudication strategies 252–254

domestic contracts

choice of law

concept of a domestic contract 467–469

market access for domestic actors 470–471

origin of distinction between domestic and international contracts 465–467

right of access to foreign financial markets 464–471

concept of a domestic contract 467–469

domicile, and right of defence 71

Domingto, Raphael 419

Dominican Republic-Central America-United States Free Trade Agreement (CAFTA-DR) 65

dual privatisation of law, in globalisation commercial speech 164–165 court cases as objects of study 162–164 enforcement 166–168 between public and private 168–171

public regulatory gap, developing and developed countries 165–166 economic crisis see global financial crisis economic integration 446–455

functions of corporate law for host State 451–453

nationality of corporations issue in public international law 453–455

perspective of 449–450

economic power and global corruption 223–235

comparison of Germany, South Korea and Brazil 232–234

concentration of 232–234

‘fighting corruption’ 235

Petrobras oil scandal 224–227

Samsung and government relations 230–232

Siemens bribery system 224, 227–229

economic transplants

see also Lafonta v. Autorité des marchés financiers (2011)

background 351–355

financial markets law example 353

internalist and the externalist 352–353, 360

legal and economic transplants 353–354

as a common European language 357–358

common language of law and economics 351–361

competition law 364

conflict, theory of 9

economy theory 355

financial markets, law of as paradigm example 353 integrating into legal web 351–360 interdisciplinary borrowing 4

internalist and the externalist 352–353, 360

in judicial practice and legal acculturation 361–370 evaluation of Lafonta 365–370

from legal to economic transplants 361–365

and legal transplants 353–354

from legal to economic transplants 361–365

legal transplant theory 361

lessons from 360–361

Market Abuse Directives 368, 370

Market Abuse Regulation, and efficient capital markets hypothesis 355–358 disclosure of inside information to the market 356 expected return and change in stock prices 357

Index 577

'sensible investor' 356, 358, 368 significant price impact 356–357 Scére Report (1966) 353
total returns swap 359
use of transplant metaphor for law-economics relationship 363–364 Ecuador, Texaco/Chevron lawsuits see
Aguinda v. ChevronTexaco (2012)
Edelman, Benjamin G. 426 efficient capital markets hypothesis, and Market Abuse Regulation 355–358
enforcement
see also New York Convention on the Recognition and Enforcement of Foreign Arbitral Awards (1958)
antitrust law 80
boycott movements 169, 170 dual privatisation of 166–168 effective enforcement principle, in competition law 90
environmental damage 114
forum selection clauses 19 gap in enforcement regime of foreign arbitral awards and judicial decisions 62
legal, in modern debt markets 263–270
changes in legal enforcement 266 determining whether requiring extraordinary remedies 265–266 management of litigation risk in sovereign debt markets 267–280 privatised 169–170
public 169
refusal of enforcement of awards violating ordre public 82
environmental damage
see also Trafigura lawsuits (re Côte d'ivoire); transnational law Basel Convention on the control of transboundary movements of hazardous waste and their disposal (1989) 93, 95–96
breach of Basel Convention 95–96 converting an environmental and human disaster into a transnational case 93–102
corporate liability for in transnational setting 92–116
blocking statutes 108
breaches of environmental laws 107–108 difficulties tracing chain of responsibilities 93–94
improved enforcement requirement 114
suing of corporate entities in jurisdiction of incorporation 108 ways in which the corporate entities can be held accountable 107 denial of criminal liability for damage created by dumping of hazardous waste 99 hazardous waste, dumping of 93, 95–96, 99 medical emergencies 93, 95 sanctions for breaches of public health and environmental laws 95–96, 114 turning a human and environmental scandal into a judicial case 95–97 victims, theft identity 100 equal treatment 10, 411, 472, 488 see also global anti-discrimination law European Union (EU)
application of European jurisdiction regime vis-à-vis non-Member States, uncertainties regarding 36–44 clash of economic and social spheres, role of private international law in 479–482 European Committee of Social Rights 478, 484–493
see also Laval un Partneri Ltd v. Svenska Byggnadsarbetsförbundet (2007)
European Pillar of Social Rights 478
European Social Charter 485, 488 European system of competence, place of national law on jurisdiction in 42–44
'Everything But Arms' initiative 129, 131 labour market 473–483
case law 473–479
lessons for global labour market 482–483 private international law, role in class of economic and social spheres of the EU 479–482
social rights and fundamental economic freedoms 476–479
lis pendens (pending legal action) 43, 48 Member States courts assuming a restrictive approach towards arbitrability 91
'reform' of jurisdiction regime and Articles 33 and 34 of Brussels I Recast
Regulation 44–54
problematic scope of Articles 33 and 34 46, 47–48
scope of Regulation itself 48–49
uncertain status of Articles 33 and 34 49 extraterritoriality 282–301
see also RJR Nabisco, Inc. v. European Community (2016)
578 Global private international law

appropriateness 12

forum non conveniens doctrine 298

and international competence 319–331

Petrobras saga 380

presumption against see presumption against extraterritoriality

reach of rights, defining in other terms 4 transborder legal effects of domestic statutes and court decisions, implausibility of coordinating by international law 292–301

politics of engagement with international law 300–301

spheres of domestic jurisdiction ideal 293–295 family and parenthood issues

see also Laval un Partneri Ltd v. Svenska Byggnadsarbetareförbundet (2007); R.
v. Human Fertilisation and Embryology Authority, ex p Blood
(1997); surrogacy

balancing surrogacy, interests of a child and parenthood 504–509

continuity of personal status and family relations across borders, ensuring

530–537

international adoption in the name of protection 5 posthumous insemination and consent to treatment

dubious application of international provisions 511–519

fairness considerations and the law 511–518

and free movement 5

legal parenthood 521–523

meaning of consent and parenthood 519–528

need for consent 523–524

scientific development and the law 519–528

and surrogacy 525–527

see also R. v. Human Fertilisation and Embryology Authority, ex p Blood
(1997)

‘transnational’ child, defining status of 5

federal statutory claims, arbitration of 77–79

FIFA (International Federation of Association Football) and Court of Arbitration for Sport (CAS) 153, 154

Guide to the Building Process for the 2026
FIFA World Cup 158

Human Rights Policy 156

international responsibilities 153 jurisdiction over national associations 153 legal schemes to ensure respect for human rights 156–160 legal mechanisms available in respect of human rights obligations 157 lex fifa concept 153–154, 156 obligation to respect/ensure respect for human rights 153–156

Olympic Charter, right to respect 154

Regulation on the Status and Transfer of Players 153–154 role in global regulation 160

status under Swiss law 153 and World Cup organising association 156–157

FIFA and Human Rights in Qatar 4, 13, 151–160

conditions of Qatari construction workers 151, 154, 156, 158–159 deaths of construction workers when building infrastructures for 2022 World Cup 151–160 failure to regulate stadiums in Qatar 154 long-term sustainability for human rights in host States 159 and shortcomings of host State of the World Cup competition 157

summary of facts of case and judgment 151

financial capitalism 5 financial crisis see global financial crisis

financial governance 272–280

see also financial markets; Lehman

Brothers v. BNY Corporate Trustee (2010)

and bankruptcy 274–276

comity, interference of 274–276

by contract 276–280

centrality of party autonomy 278–280 exigencies of contract law 273–274 invisibility of private power 277–278 through private international law 272–276

financial markets

see also Banco Santander v. Transport Companies (2016); Lehman Brothers v.

BNY Corporate Trustee (2010)

autotomizing 271–281

choice of law in domestic contracts

concept of a domestic contract 467–469
market access for domestic actors 470–471
origin of distinction between domestic and international contracts 465–467
right of access to foreign financial markets 464–471 collateralised debt obligations (CDOs) 273 facilitating or co-producing logic of, by private international law 5 failure of Lehman Brothers see Lehman Brothers v. BNY Corporate Trustee (2010) Financial Services Action Plan (1999) 353
global post-crisis markets, balancing between domestic and international contracts 457–464
contract market architecture, global dynamics 460–462
legal certainty and financial innovation 458–460
party autonomy facing financial denationalisation 462–464 International Swaps and Derivatives Association (ISDA) and Master Agreement 272, 273, 276, 456–465
inter-systemic arbitrage 5 mortgage-backed securities (MBS) 273 over-the-counter (OTC) derivatives 271 private international law and global political economy, governance through 272–281 private norms, rise of 13
total returns swap 359
first-seized-court rule parallel proceedings 68, 69 proposal for a lis pendens rule counterbalanced by forum non conveniens discretion 74 Fischer-Lescano, Andreas 419
‘foreign-cubed’ cases 249
forum non conveniens doctrine access to justice and overlapping jurisdictions 67 and actor sequitur forum principle 71 American version 36–37
Bhopal case 37
and Brussels Convention 37
decreasing jurisdiction and parallel proceedings 68, 70 discretion in first-seized court 74 discretionary nature and Brussels Convention 40 enabling declining of jurisdiction 97 exclusion subject to assault 43–44
extraterritoriality 298
forum selection clauses 17
human rights litigation 309 incompatibility with Brussels Convention 40–41 inconveniences of 70–71
judicial discretion 35, 36, 43–44
jurisdictional conflict and presumption against extraterritoriality 291 known in some but not all Member States 47 as legal barrier to transnational tort claims 108 Owusu v. Jackson (2005) 35–37, 39
private international law questions 120–121 reach of rights 322, 325 rejection of 37, 40–41 reversal of 97–98
Schlosser Report 37
uncertainty regarding application 39
in the United States 36–37, 72 uses of 36–37, 40
forum selection clauses 24–34 asymmetric jurisdiction agreements 33 autonomy of parties 16–18 Bremen judgment see Bremen v. Zapata Off-Shore Co. (US, 1972) enforcement 19
and England 20
expansion of choice 29–31 federal courts giving effect to 17 forum non conveniens 17 and freedom of contract 26 and Germany 20
imagining the real 18
jurisdiction to decide on validity 31–32 justifying choice to draft 26–27 liberalising international choice of 25 and mass claims 33
and New York Convention 31 normative maze 27
and parochialism 24–33 revised history in The Bremen 16–17, 18 testing limits of 31–33 US courts changing position 16–17, 18 validity of 16, 20–21, 31–32
and world markets/world making 18–21
prior to critique 22–24
Global private international law

forum shopping issues 3
first-seized-court rule 69
France
see also Mennesson v. France (2014) data 393, 411
economic transplants 359
French law compared to English law 345, 517
French Protectorate in Cambodia (1863–1953) 142, 146
interpretation, divergence in 332–335, 342–349 misapplying the law 342, 344 posthumous insemination 511, 513, 514, 516, 517 reach of rights and Kiobel 328 Social Responsibility Code 170
surrogacy 494, 500
fraud 441–444
free movement of corporations 436–455
see also Centros Ltd v. Erhvervs-og Selskabsstyrelsen (1999)
economic integration perspective 449–450
freedom of establishment 437–446
diagonal conflict 444–446
fraud exception 441–444
purely domestic situations 439–440
functions of corporate law for host State 451–453
and liberalized capital flows 5 nationality of corporations issue in public
international law 453–455
free moving (free wheeling) judgments and awards see arbitration; Mitsubishi Motors Corp. v. Soler
Chrysler-Plymouth, Inc (1985)
free trade 217, 482
Dominican Republic-Central America-United States Free Trade Agreement (CAFTA-DR) 65
Free Trade Commissions 65
North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA) 65, 485
freedom of contract 19, 26
religion and arbitration 201, 202, 205, 208, 209
freedom of establishment 437–446
diagonal conflict 444–446
fraud exception 441–444
lex societatis 447
necessity test 441–442 proportionality test 441–442
purely domestic situations 439–440
and TFEU 439, 445, 446
U-Turn tactics 438, 440, 443, 444
Frydmann, B. 6
Geertz, Clifford 18
global anti-discrimination law see also equal treatment from American arbitration to global non-discrimination policy 432–434
class actions and dispute arbitration in consumer protection, comparative perspective 428–429
consumer protection in US and Europe 429–432
co-regulation 435
on digital platforms 424–435 establishing discrimination for religious reasons 195–196
fight against discrimination on digital platforms 426–427
limits of domestic approach 426–427 non-discrimination and party autonomy 201–207
point of departure 424–435
sovereign debt markets 256
global contract governance 416–435 determining whether a global law exists 417–435
global anti-discrimination law in digital platforms
from American arbitration to global
non-discrimination policy 432–434
class actions and dispute arbitration in consumer protection, comparative
perspective 428–429
consumer protection in US and Europe 429–432
limits of domestic approach 426–427
point of departure 424–435
global turn in law 417–424 global corruption and economic power 223–235
see also Racketeering and Corrupt Influenced Organizations Act (RICO) comparison of Germany, South Korea and Brazil 232–234
concentration of 232–234
‘fighting corruption’ 235
Petrobras oil scandal 224–227
Samsung and government relations
230–232
Siemens bribery system 224, 227–229
global financial crisis (2008) 4, 217, 256, 310, 356 and collapse of Lehman Brothers 272
financial markets 458, 461, 463, 464
and International Monetary Fund (IMF) 256, 259 violence following 310 global labour market 472–493 see also Laval un Partneri Ltd v. Svenska Byggnadsarbetareförbundet (2007) diverse standards 489–491 and European labour market 473–483 legal reasoning 476–479
lessons for global labour market 482–483
Posted Workers Directive and social implications of movement of labour 473–483 private international law, role in clash of economic and social spheres of the EU 479–482 social rights and fundamental economic freedoms 476–479
European market 5
North American Agreement on Labour (NAALC) 485

global law
see also comparative law; conflict of laws; global anti-discrimination law; global contract governance; law; private international law; public international law as aspirational 10 conflicts at core of 9–10 defining law 10–13
determining existence of 417–435 emergence of 417–424
features of 7–8
and fundamental rights 491–492 Global Administrative Law 419
global turn in law 417–424
global-pluralist legal theory 8 methodological nationalism 417–418
private codes of conduct as an instrument of 172–180
School of Dijon 418–419
global supply chains 236–254
see also Doe v. Nestle (2014) agribusiness sector, transnational human rights litigation in 244–254
corporate liability for aiding and abetting under ATS 246–248
overcoming presumption against the extraterritorial application of ATS 248–250 role of international law in context of ATS litigation 248 uncertainties surrounding ATS litigation in US, following Kiobel 238, 246–250, 318
capitalism and private international law 237–244 contracts-based capitalism, taking ‘dark value,’ production of 237–238 supply chain capitalism see supply chain capitalism transnational global production and the law 242–244 as catalysts of new adjudication strategies 252–254 co-production 4 and lobbying 242–243
regulatory potential 120, 125–127
supply chain capitalism 237, 238, 239–241, 244 ‘aiding and abetting’ at time of 239–241 cheapness at beginning and end of 241–242 economic reality test 240
Harkin-Engel protocol 242
joint-employer doctrine 240
see also capitalism
transnational global production and the law 242–244
global turn 1–3
Selden (Gregory) v. Airbnb, Inc. (2016) 417–424
global value chains see also Trafigura lawsuits (re Côte d’Ivoire), 2009 legal infrastructure design problems in globalised economic systems 130–140 background and context 131–134
civil procedure 138
foreign host country involvement 139
identity of investing capital 133–134
private-law analysis 134–138
public/private divide, crossing 139
private-law analysis 134–138
property 136–138
tort of conversion 122, 135–136
structure of chain 132–133
and Traffigura saga 93

global wealth chains 101
globalisation

see also codes of conduct and standards; global contract governance; global labour market; global law; global supply chains; global turn; global value chains; global wealth chains contract governance see global contract governance corruption and economic power 223–235 dispute resolution, exemptions from 119–120 dual privatisation of law in commercial speech 164–165 court cases as objects of study 162–164

enforcement 166–168

between public and private 168–171

public regulatory gap, developing and developed countries 165–166 emerging global giants 212–235 global political economy, financial governance through 272–281

global turn 1–3

Selden (Gregory) v. Airbnb, Inc. (2016) 417–424 imbalance of power increasing from 5 internationalism and hegemonism 25

labour market 472–493

regulation of global world 179–180 sovereign debt, global market for 255–270 supply chains see supply chains, global transforming of legal methods and content 6–7

Hague Child Protection Convention 564

Hale, Robert 23

Hart, H.L.A. 352

Harvard Research on International Law (1935) 294

Hayashi, Dennis 239

human rights

see also Cambodian ‘blood sugar’ scandal; corporate liability for environmental damage, transnational setting; litigation agribusiness sector, transnational human rights litigation in corporate liability for aiding and abetting under ATS 246–248

overcoming presumption against the extraterritorial application of ATS 248–250

role of international law in context of ATS litigation 248

uncertainties surrounding ATS litigation in US, following Kiobel 238, 246–250, 318

in Cambodia 128, 129 demise of international litigation in US courts, whether 303–309 litigation in a European forum 309–310

litigation in State courts 308–309

moral and hegemonic dimension of ATS litigation 305–306

presumption against extraterritoriality of federal statutes 306–308 rise of litigation in US courts 304–305

Doe v. Nestle as test case for approaches to corporate liability for violations 250–254 fundamental 320, 326, 491–492 global protection of, extraterritoriality in service of 327–331

international law 154

litigation see under litigation non-discrimination see global anti-discrimination law

private and family life, protection of 515–516, 525, 530–532, 535

and private international law 530–537

in Qatar see FIFA and Human Rights in Qatar transnational litigation in agribusiness sector 244–254

UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights 75, 318

Universal Declaration of Human Rights (UDHR) 531

violations of 4, 128

Song Mao & Tate & Lyle (2013) 140, 147

hyper-reality 8

IMF see International Monetary Fund (IMF)

indigenous norms/rights

see also Song Mao & Tate & Lyle 2013

Song Mao & Tate & Lyle (2013) 4, 145, 147

indignation, constructive 173

injunction of analogy 148–150

Particulars of Claim 149
insider trading 356, 364, 366–367 intellectual property (IP) law see also monopolies; Samsung Electronics Co Ltd litigation (2016) competing of firms and nations through 213–223
firm competition alongside State competition 214–216
travelling corporations 216–222
interlegality 7, 100
International Chamber of Commerce (ICC) 192
International Convention on the Settlement of Investment Disputes (ICSID) 454 International Federation of Association Football see FIFA and Human Rights in Qatar International Law Association, Leuven/London Principles on Declining and Referring Jurisdiction in International and Commercial Litigation 74
International Monetary Fund (IMF) Articles of Agreement 260 and global financial crisis (2008) 256, 259 Letter of Intent 261
negotiation with sovereigns 261–262 proposal to establish Sovereign Debt Restructuring Mechanism (SDRM) 262, 263
Stand-By Agreement 261
International Swaps and Derivatives Association (ISDA) and Master Agreement 272, 273, 276, 456–465 contractual architecture 461, 464
Local Currency-Single Jurisdiction version 459, 469 Multicurrency-Cross Border version 459, 469 normativity 460, 462
inter-nationalist comparison of contracts and interests 19 global perspective replacing 22 interpretation, legal 332–349 see also Dallah v. Pakistan (2010) at cross-purposes 5, 332–349
indeterminacy of legal system hypothesis 342–349
internationality 343–344, 455
legal culture 344–345
legal indeterminacy 346–349 reasons for divergence 333–341 case management stay 340–341
common intention test 334
competence-competence principle 337–338
consent to arbitration 334
decisional harmony in international arbitration 336–341
exclusive jurisdiction 338–339
opposite conclusions 333–336
Investor-State Dispute Settlement (ISDS)
complex nature of 57
failures of judicial system, solving 58–59
as a remedy against State courts’ decisions 59–62 Ismailism (Islam branch) 192–193 and Aga Khan 184–185, 193, 201 ethos 199
Islamic Sharia, role of religion in appointing arbitrator 203–204
Ismaili Constitution 193
Jääskinen, Niilo (Attorney General) 90, 91 Jessup, Philip 419
see also religion and arbitration absence of specific sanctions and characteristics in international trade instruments 207–208 alternative reasoning in applicable norms 198 application of State law 195, 198–199 characterization (using ‘as-if’ technique) 194
characterization (using ‘as-if’ technique 198 foreign elements 194, 197–198 internal conflict 198–199 international public policy exception 195, 208–210
conflict of laws 195, 199
consequences of including religious factors in international commercial arbitration 202–207 courts’ decisions in appeal 196–197 in first instance 195–196 at Supreme Court level 197 example of in Western countries 206–207
informal sub-cultures 9
issues undermining safety of international commercial transactions 208–210

Horatia Muir Watt, Lucia Biziková, Agatha Brandão de Oliveira and Diego P. Fernandez Arroyo - 9781788119238
Downloaded from Elgar Online at 07/16/2019 11:12:39AM via free access necessity to refine the truly international public policy 208–210
non-discrimination and party autonomy 201–210
paideic arbitration 182–190
arbitration as a paideic institution 183–187
Garcia v. Church of Scientology (Scientological arbitration and contract of adhesion) 188–190 Rebmann v. Rohde (Jewish arbitrator and descendant of Nazis) 187–188
plaintiffs 188, 189
private international law, whether using to deal with ‘unsolvable’ cases 190–200 religious identity 201–210
summary of facts of case and judgment 181
Judgment Project, The Hague 74–75
judicial discretion 35–54
see also forum non conveniens doctrine; Owusu v. Jackson (2005) application of European jurisdiction vis-à-vis non-Member States, uncertainties regarding 36–44
and Brussels Convention 1968 35–41
European system of competence, place of national law on jurisdiction in 42–44 exclusive jurisdiction of a non-Member State 43
forum non conveniens 35–37
general jurisdiction, attributing to European legal space 42–43 incompatibility between forum non conveniens exception and Brussels Convention 40–41 inherent jurisdiction to stay proceedings 36
reflexive effect doctrine 41, 49–52
‘reform’ of EU jurisdiction regime and Articles 33 and 34 of Brussels I Recast Regulation 44–54
problematic scope of Articles 33 and 34 46, 47–48
scope of Regulation itself 48–49
uncertain status of Articles 33 and 34 49
Juenger, Friedrich 23 jurisdiction
applicable law 195
application of European jurisdiction regime vis-à-vis non-Member States, uncertainties regarding 36–44
declining 68–70, 97
dépeçage’ process and applicable law 195 equivalence between jurisdictions principle 73 exclusive 43, 338–339 of FIFA over national associations 153
forum selection clauses and asymmetric jurisdiction agreements 33 validity, jurisdiction to decide on 31–32 general, attributing to European legal space 42–43 global perspective for resolution of jurisdictional conflicts see Bremen v. Zapata Off-Shore Co. (US, 1972) inherit, to stay proceedings 36 jurisdictional conflict and presumption against extraterritoriality 291–292 monopolies see monopolies national law and European system of competence 42–44 overlapping 67–68
Owusu, ECJ decision on jurisdictional issues 98
‘reform’ of EU jurisdiction regime and Articles 33 and 34 of Brussels I Recast Regulation 44–54
Kamasae v. Commonwealth & Ors (2014) 548–566
see also migrations, international class actions in current migration context 557–565
asylum seekers, relocation from Greek camps to the Netherlands 558–561
unaccompanied migrant children 561–565
corporating with migrants 554–556 with private companies 553–554
between States 551–552
management of international migrations by contract 549–556 Manus Island class action 549–556 migratory flows management consequences 554–556 outsourcing 551–552
privatisation 553–554
summary of facts of case and judgment 548
unaccompanied migrant children 561–565
see also codes of conduct and standards corporate social responsibility (CSR) 174, 175 dual privatisation of law, in globalisation 162–171 commercial speech 164–165 court cases as objects of study 162–164
enforcement 166–168
between public and private 168–171
public regulatory gap, developing and developed countries 165–166 free speech 164–165
global deregulated market vs. minimal moral ethic 175 misleading advertising allegation invoked 178 Nike Code of Conduct 167, 168
plaintiffs 171
private codes of conduct, as instrument of global law 172–180
behavioural analysis 177–179
constructive indignation 173 marketing of standards 175–177 and regulation of global world 179–180 struggle between modes of regulation 173–175
private norms, rise of 13
regulatory effect of norms in private codes of conduct 172
summary of facts of case and judgment 161, 162
sweatshops in Asia, problem of 162, 173
Kennedy, David 277
Kingsbury, Benedict 419
Kiobel v. Royal Dutch Petroleum Co. (2013)
corporate social responsibility (CSR)
corporation as subject of international law 311–313
extraterritorial jurisdiction 313–318
following Kiobel 318–319
whether tragedy missed chances for 310–319 corporate social responsibility, whether tragedy missed chances for 310–318 and corruption 229
and Daimler litigation 307–308 demise of international human rights litigation in US courts, whether Alien Tort Statute (ATS) 246–250, 304–306 complexities of US law and European simplification 303–309 human rights litigation in a European forum 309–310
litigation in State courts 308–309

moral and hegemonic dimension of ATS litigation 305–306
presumption against extraterritoriality of federal statutes 306–308 and rise of human rights litigation in US courts 304–305 uncertainties surrounding ATS litigation in US, following Kiobel 238, 246–250, 318
extraterritorial application of domestic statutes 319–331 arguments in favour of presumption against extraterritoriality 320–327 global protection of fundamental human rights 327–331 ‘foreign-cubed’ cases 304, 305, 307–309, 311, 314, 317, 321
plaintiffs 306–307, 311, 318, 319, 321, 322 political economy of legal tools, understanding 4 presumption against extraterritoriality, arguments in favour of 320–327 and reach of rights 302–331
summary of facts of case and judgment 302 ‘touch and concern’ standard 307 transnational class actions, limitations of 3 and transnational global production 243
Kjaer, P.F. 9
Knop, Karen 192, 194
Krisch, Nico 419

Lafonta v. Autorité des marchés financiers (2011) 4, 9, 350–370 see also economic transplants ‘creeping-in’ situation 358 and economic transplants 365–370 and inside information 366–367
internalist and the externalist 352–353, 360
legal certainty 369
lessons from 360–361
scenarios 365, 367
summary of facts of case and judgment 350–351 violation of rules 359 Lambert, Edouard 418

see also global labour market aftermath 484–489
diverse standards 489–491
and European Committee of Social Rights 478, 484–493 European labour market 5 lessons for global labour market 482–483 Posted Workers Directive and social implications of movement of labour 473–483
private international law, role in clash of economic and social spheres of the EU 479–482
social rights and fundamental economic freedoms 476–479
legal reasoning 476–479
summary of facts of case and judgment 472–473
Swedish Les Laval before European Committee of Social Rights 484–492 response of CJEU 486–487 response of the European Committee of Social Rights 487–489
and Viking (2007) 473–478, 481

Global private international law

choice of law see choice of law ‘close reading’ in literary analysis 163 community of laws 11 comparative 9
conflict of laws see conflict of laws definition of content 10–13 dual privatisation of law 162–171 economic transplants, integrating into 351–356
fairness considerations 511–518 global see global law intellectual property see intellectual property (IP) law law-likeness of statutes 11, 12 legal modernism and The Bremen 22–24
Mestizo international law see Petrobras (Brazilian oil giant) micro-legal approach to 420 private corporate codes as 12 private international law see private
international law
public international law see public international law
rule of law 381–391
and scientific development 519–528 State-centric conception 179 transnational see transnational law Le Meur, Oona 122, 127
Lebanon, and confessional systems 205–206 legal certainty 369, 458–460
legal pluralism, global 4 global-pluralist legal theory 8 legal sociology 8–9
legal transplants 353–354
see also economic transplants
insider trading 364
from legal to economic transplants 361–365 theory 361
Lehman Brothers v. BNY Corporate Trustee (2010) 271–280
bankruptcy, backfiring 274–276 collapse of Lehman Brothers 4, 272
comity, interference of 274–276 contract law, exigencies of 273–274 financial governance 272–280
by contract 276–280
private international law, shadow of 272–276
and Insolvency Act 1986 (UK) 274
International Swaps and Derivatives Association (ISDA) Master Agreement see International Swaps and Derivatives Association (ISDA) and Master Agreement
Lehman Bros Special Financing Inc
(LBSF) 273
lex mercatoria 276
over-the-counter (OTC) derivatives 271
private norms, rise of 13
summary of facts of case and judgment 271
Leuven/London Principles on Declining and Referring Jurisdiction in International and Commercial Litigation, International Law Association 74
lex loci delicti 555
lex loci rei sitae 136, 137, 138
lex mercatoria 153, 271, 276, 418, 419, 460, 469
lis pendens (pending legal action) arbitral tribunals and judicial courts 61 declining jurisdiction and parallel proceedings 68, 69
judicial discretion 43, 48
proposal for a rule counterbalanced by forum non conveniens discretion 74
litigation
see also adjudication, international; jurisdiction; specific cases of Cambodian ‘blood sugar’ scandal in English courts 118–130
foreign land and sovereignty 122–124
private international law questions 120–122
prospects and limitations of ‘private’
litigation 127–129
supply chain, regulatory potential 125–127, 129
demise of international human rights litigation in US courts, whether 303–309 Ecuador litigation, US involvement 62–66 foreign defendants 249, 296, 311 foreign plaintiffs 71, 296, 298, 299, 311
human rights
Daimler litigation 307–308 moral/hegemonic dimension of ATS litigation 305–306 presumption against extraterritoriality of federal statutes 306–308 rise of in US courts 304–305 in State courts 308–309 transnational, in agribus sector 244–254 implosion, in Trafikura Lawsuits 97–99, 100 Leuven/London Principles on Declining and Referring Jurisdiction in International and Commercial Litigation, International Law Association 74 moral and hegemonic dimension of ATS litigation 305–306
parallel proceedings 67–75
public international law, Trafikura litigation seen as problem of 105, 106, 115 rule of law, role in ATS litigation context 248 sociological research on transnational litigation 95–96 tort actions and financing of transnational litigation 111 transnational human rights, in agribus sector 244–254 corporate liability for aiding and abetting under ATS 246–248
overcoming presumption against the extraterritorial application of ATS 248–250 role of international law in context of ATS litigation 248 uncertainties surrounding ATS litigation in US, following Kiobel 238, 246–250, 318
UK professional market for transnational litigation 97
London Court of International Arbitration (LCIA) 192
Luca, Michael 426
Mance, Lord Jonathan 333–335, 341, 357–358
Manus Island class action see Kamasaee v. Commonwealth & Ors (2014); migrations, international Market Abuse Regulation disclosure of inside information to the market 356
and economic transplants 355–358
as a common European language 357–358
and efficient capital markets hypothesis 355–358 expected return and change in stock prices 357 ‘reasonable investor’ 356, 358, 368
significant price impact 356–357 markets, financial see financial markets Marks, Susan 237
Mennesson v. France (2014) 494–509
see also surrogacy
cross-border effects of international reproductive agreements 495–499 commercial surrogacy as an unregulated transnational activity 496–498 regulatory blind spots in international surrogacy agreements 498–499 discouraging intended parents from hiding surrogacy services abroad 502 and ECHR decisions international surrogacy in practice following 501–504 obligation for States to recognise the civil status resulting from foreign birth certificate 499–500 possibility to disregard links that are not genetically established 500–501 harmonisation of private international law acts of foreign public authorities 507–508 determination of applicable law 508–509 foreign court decision 504–507
future solutions 509 grounds for non-recognition 505 international surrogacy in practice following ECHR decision discouraging intended parents from hiding surrogacy services abroad 502 improvement in governance 502–504 refusal of recognition not efficiently preventing conclusion of surrogacy agreements 502–504
summary of facts of case and judgment 494–495
surrogacy and private international law 495–504
commercial surrogacy as an unregulated transnational activity 496–498
cross-border effects of international reproductive agreements 495–499 ECtHR decisions, framework resulting from 499–504
harmonisation of private international law 504–509
regulatory blind spots in international surrogacy agreements 498–499
‘transnational’ child, defining status of 5
Mestizo international law see Petrobras
(Brazilian oil giant)
Michaels, Ralf 12, 192, 194
Microsoft Corp. v. United States (Microsoft Ireland) (2016) 405–415
CLOUD Act 408–410
and Google Spain 410–413
summary of facts of case and judgment 392
migrations, international 6, 548–566 see also Kamusae v. Commonwealth & Ors (2014)
class actions in current migration context 557–565
asylum seekers, relocation from Greek camps to the Netherlands 558–561 unaccompanied migrant children 561–565
Committee on the Protection of the Rights of All Migrant Workers 563–564 Common European Asylum System (CEAS) 563, 564
contracting with migrants 554–556
with private companies 553–554
between States 551–552
migratory flows management consequences 554–556
outsourcing 551–552
privatisation 553–554
‘Separated Children in Europe Programme’
(SCEP) 565
Mitsubishi Motors Corp. v. Soler
Chrysler-Plymouth, Inc (1985) 76–91
see also arbitration adjudication of claims arising under a different body of national law 80 arbitration-friendly jurisdiction, building 77–81
arbitrable claims arising under US antitrust laws 77 arbitration of federal statutory claims 77–79 broadening of arbitral claims subject to arbitration 80, 81
choice of law clauses 80, 81 dissent by judges 78–79 hospitality of Court towards arbitration of federal statutory claims 78–79
intentions of parties 81
second-look doctrine 79–81, 82
balancing arbitrability and court control 82–91
German Supreme Court (BGH)
involvement 83–84, 90, 91
importance of court control 89–91
limited scope of court control 84–89
maximalist doctrine 82, 83–84
minimalist doctrine 82–83, 86, 87–88
refusal of enforcement of awards violating ordre public 82
critique 80
and Eco Swiss v. Benetton International judgment 82, 87, 90
free moving (free wheeling) judgments and awards 3, 76–91
and Genentech v. Hoechst and Sanofi-Aventis judgment 87, 89, 90 and Ingar v. Eaton Leonard Technologies judgment 87
ordre public see ordre public
second-look doctrine
arbitration-friendly jurisdiction, building 79–81
court control and arbitrability 82 flaws 91
setting aside of awards 83 Sherman Act claims 76, 77, 78
summary of facts of case and judgment 76
Supreme Court
broadening of arbitral claims subject to
arbitration 80, 81
hospitality towards arbitration of federal statutory claims 78–79
second-look doctrine 79–81, 82
modernity, legal modernism and The Bremen 22–24
monopolies 102
oral customary principles, integrating in private international law 140–150
coeexistence of two types of ownership (property and possession) 145–150
injunction of analogy 148–150 ‘law’s pen’ 147–148
replacing ‘acquisition by the plough’ with ‘acquisition by the pen’ 147 written form 147–148
historical background 141–145 domestic legal framework 144–145
Khmer Rouge regime 142–143
Land Law of 2001 144–145, 146 land ownership issues 141–143 mobility as way of life/for survival 143–144 possession 141–143
injunction of analogy 148–150
legal form 147–148
scale, setting 140–141
ordre public
antitrust laws, enforcement 80 applicability of rules 89
and competition law 82, 83, 86, 88, 90 manifest infringement of 87
and New York Convention 85, 88 violation of 82–83
and competition law, violations of 88 defence 85–87, 88
establishing 85–86, 88–89 narrow scope of defence 86–89
ouster doctrine 16, 19
Owasu v. Jackson (2005) 3, 35–54 see also Brussels Convention (1968); forum non conveniens doctrine; judicial discretion application of European jurisdiction regime vis-à-vis non-Member States, uncertainties regarding 36–44
Brussels Convention (1968) 35, 37 applicability of Article 2 38–40 criticism of literal interpretation of 41 consistency issues 50 and Coreck Maritime GmbH v. Handelsveem BV 49 Court of Justice on 43, 46
European system of competence, place of national law on jurisdiction in 42–44 and Ferrexpo v Gilson Investments 52, 53
forum non conveniens doctrine 35–37, 39
jurisdictional issues 98
and Konkola Copper Mines v. Coromin 51, 53 possible role for 49–53 reasoning 46
‘reform’ of EU jurisdiction regime and Articles 33 and 34 of Brussels I Recast
Regulation 44–54
problematic scope of Articles 33 and 34 46, 47–48
scope of Regulation itself 48–49 uncertain status of Articles 33 and 34 49 relevance issue 45, 47–49 scope and critique 45–47
significance of 44–45
stay of proceedings
case comparison 52–53 compatibility with EU regime issue 50 inherent jurisdiction to stay 36 and relevance of Owusu 48 stay on the facts, whether compatible with underlying principles 46–47
summary of facts of case and judgment 35
and third state proceedings 48, 49, 50, 53, 54 unresolved controversy 44, 53 pacta sunt servanda principle 460, 463
paideic arbitration 182–190
arbitration as a paideic institution 183–187
Garcia v. Church of Scientology (Scientological arbitration and contract of adhesion) 188–190 Rebmann v. Rohde (Jewish arbitrator and descent of Nazis) 187–188 terminology 185
parallel proceedings
see also Aguinda v. ChevronTexaco (2012) and access to justice 66–75 declining jurisdiction 68–70
lessons from Chevron/Ecuador 70–74
overlapping jurisdictions 67–68 cooperative approach to 75 due process rights 66
first-seized-court rule 68, 69 international litigation with national remedies 67–74
Judgment Project, The Hague 74–75 lis pendens rule and forum non conveniens doctrine 74
‘reform’ of EU jurisdiction regime and Articles 33 and 34 of Brussels I Recast
Regulation 48
related actions 69
shortcomings of applying internal remedies to international parallel litigation 67 turning parallel litigation into a game play 74–75
parochialism 15–34
see also Bremen v. Zapata Off-Shore Co.
(1972)
fear of 18
opting out of 24–33
party autonomy see autonomy of parties Perlmutter, Howard V. 21
Petrobras (Brazilian oil giant) 5 and alternative rule of law in investment dispute settlement issue 389–391 in Bolivia 381–391
expropriation of hydrocarbons in Bolivia 386–388
public-private interaction in design of Bolivia-Brasil legal relations, unveiling 382–386
distribution of oil benefits in Brazil 373–375
establishment (1953) 373 investment dispute settlement as alternative rule of law 389–391
and New Developmental State 375 oil exploitation and mestizo international law 371–391
concept of a mestizo international law 377
and extraterritoriality 380
Mestizo trajectories and international adjudication 371–380
and Morrison decision 380 Petrobras as a Mestizo intervention in international law 375–378 oil policy from 2003 to 2015 374–375 oil scandal 224–227 ‘Operation Car Wash’ 224–226 ownership of oil issue 370–380 politics of international adjudication 378–380
‘primitive’ rule of law 391
rule of law 377, 381–391 pluralism, legal 10
global 12
global-pluralist legal theory 8 methodology 11
pluralist framework of current private international law 65–66
Posner, Richard 23
post mortem artificial insemination 517–518 see also posthumous insemination and consent to treatment; R. v. Human Fertilisation and Embryology Authority, ex p Blood (1997)

Posted Workers Directive (PWD)
case law 473–476
and Posted Workers Enforcement Directive (PWED) 480, 481 private international law, role in clash of economic and social spheres of the EU 479–482 revision 478, 479
social implications of movement of labour 473–483
social rights and fundamental economic freedoms 476–479
posthumous insemination and consent to treatment 5, 517
case-based reasoning, uncertain implications analogising the line of reasoning to surrogacy 518–519 parentage, consequences of reasoning in 517–518 dubious application of international provisions 511–519
case-based reasoning, uncertain implications 516–519
dubious grounds 514–516
supranational norms as argument of equity 512–516
fairness considerations and the law 511–519 in France 511, 513, 514, 516, 517
and free movement 5
legal parenthood 521–523
meaning of consent and parenthood 519–528
implications 528
legal parenthood and posthumous conception 521–523
need for consent 523–524
period of storage 524–525 surrogacy and posthumous conception 525–527
need for consent 523–524
scientific development and the law 519–528
and surrogacy 525–527
presumption against extraterritoriality 283, 285–291 arguments in favour of 320–327 international comity principle 323–325 reluctance to intervene in diplomatic relations 325–327 weakened interests of the State 320–323 ATS, extraterritorial application of 248–250
data 397
of federal statutes (Kiobel) 306–308 and jurisdictional conflict 291–292
Racketeering and Corrupt Influenced Organizations Act (RICO)
applying presumption to private cause of action 288–291 applying presumption to substantive provisions 285–288
background 283–285
extraterritorial application rebutting presumption 283–291
and Morrison decision 286–287, 296–300
private and family life, protection of 515–516, 525, 530–532, 535
private codes of conduct, as instrument of global law 172–180
behavioural analysis 177–179
constructive indignation 173
corporate social responsibility (CSR) 174
market of standards 175–177
and regulation of global world 179–180
struggle between modes of regulation 173–175
private international law
see also global law; public international law; transnational law and capitalism 237–243
contracts-based capitalism, taking seriously 238–239 ‘dark value,' production of 237–238
supply chain capitalism 239–242 cross-border disputes involving parties/events in different jurisdictions 120
data 404–405
and deterritorialization of data 393–405 European rules, application to human rights violations 250–251 financial governance through 272–281 financial markets, facilitating or co-producing logic of 5 harmonisation issues 46, 504–509
and human rights 530–537 integration of oral customary principles in see oral customary principles, integrating in private international law Mestizo international law, questioning existence of 5 pluralist framework of current law 65–66 questions in Song Mao 120–122

Horatia Muir Watt, Lucia Biziková, Agatha Brandão de Oliveira and Diego P. Fernandez Arroyo - 9781788119238
Downloaded from Elgar Online at 07/16/2019 11:12:39AM via free access Global private international law

renvoi 538–539, 541 role in clash of economic and social spheres of the EU 479–482 rules as legal barrier to transnational tort claims 108
and surrogacy 495–503
harmonisation issues 504–509
thinking outside-the-box approach to 538–547 ‘unsolvable’ cases 190–200 alternative reasoning in Jivraj 197–199 context (Ismailis/Nizari Isma'ili) 192–193
intermingled rationalities 190–192
techniques of private international law for re-mastered legal reasoning 194–195 Probo Koala disaster see environmental damage property
see also Cambodian ‘blood sugar’ scandal; intellectual property (IP) law; Song Mao & Tate & Lyle (2013) coexistence of two types of ownership (property and possession) 145–150
injunction of analogy 148–150 ‘law’s pen’ 147–148
replacing ‘acquisition by the plough’ with ‘acquisition by the pen’ 147
written form 147–148 immovable, title to 119–120 lex loci rei sitae principle 136, 137, 138 private-law analysis, global value chains 136–138 as ‘soft’ category of law 146 public interests, adjudicating by private means 56–66 public international law see also private international law; transnational law constraints imposed by legal framework 7 nationality of corporations issue 453–455 Trafigura litigation seen as problem of 105, 106, 115 and transnational law 115 public policy see ordre public Purcell, Edward 23

Qatar, human rights in see FIFA and Human Rights in Qatar bioethics 5

case-based reasoning, uncertain implications 516–519
analogising the line of reasoning to surrogacy 518–519 parenthood, consequences of reasoning in 517–518 consent and parenthood, rethinking meaning 519–527 need for consent 523–524
period of storage 524–525
posthumous insemination and legal parenthood 521–523 dubious application of international provisions 511–518
case-based reasoning, uncertain implications 516–519
dubious grounds 514–516
supranational norms as argument of equity 512–516
fairness considerations and the law 511–518
implications 528
posthumous insemination and consent to treatment 5, 510–528
dubious application of international provisions 511–519
fairness considerations and the law 511–519
and free movement 5
legal parenthood 521–523
meaning of consent and parenthood 519–528
scientific development and the law 519–528
and surrogacy 525–527
scientific development and the law 519–528
summary of facts of case and judgment 510 supranational norms as argument of equity circumventing national requirements 512–514
dubious grounds 514–516
Racketeering and Corrupt Influenced Organizations Act (RICO) 282, 283–291 see also extraterritoriality; global corruption and economic power; presumption against extraterritoriality and arbitration 78
background 283–285
presumption against extraterritoriality applying 285–291 extraterritoriality application rebutting 283–292
and Morrison decision 286–287, 296–300 private cause of action, applying presumption to 288–291 substantive provisions, applying presumption to 285–288 private cause of action, applying presumption against extraterritoriality to 288–291 ‘revenue rule’ 284–285 substantive provisions, applying presumption against extraterritoriality to 285–288 unique structure 288 rationalities, ‘unsolvable’ cases 190–192 reach of rights see Kiobel v. Royal Dutch Petroleum Co. (2013) reasonableness test 295
reflexive effect doctrine
Cambodian ‘blood sugar’ scandal 123
discrimination, establishing 195–196
enlightened theocracy 184, 185
international public policy exception 195, 208–210
Ismaili Constitution 186
issues undermining safety of international commercial transactions 208–210
necessity to refine the truly international public policy 208–210
Nizari Ismailism 184, 185, 192–193, 199
role of religion in appointing the arbitrator in Islamic Sharia 203–204
non-discrimination and party autonomy 201–210 normative systems 191–192
paideic arbitration 182–190
arbitration as a paideic institution 183–187
Garcia v. Church of Scientology (Scientological arbitration and contract of adhesion) 188–190
Rebmann v. Rohde (Jewish arbitrator and descendant of Nazis) 187–188 terminology 185
religious identity 201–210
sub-rationalities 190, 191 ‘unsolvable’ cases, using private international law to deal with alternative reasoning in Jivraj 197–199
from case to theory 199–200 context (Ismailis/Nizari Ismailis) 192–193
court decisions 195–197
intermingled rationalities 190–192
techniques of private international law for re-mastered legal reasoning 194–195
from theory to case 195–199
see also Jivraj v. Hashwani (2010) reproductive agreements, cross-border effects 495–503
see also surrogacy
commercial surrogacy as an unregulated transnational activity 496–498

consequences of including religious factors in international commercial arbitration 202–207 Arab-Islamic countries 203–205 confessional systems 205–206 example of Jivraj case in Western countries 206–207 informal practices 206
diaspora 183–185
discrimination, establishing 195–196
enlightened theocracy 184, 185
international public policy exception 195, 208–210
Ismaili Constitution 186
issues undermining safety of international commercial transactions 208–210
necessity to refine the truly international public policy 208–210
Nizari Ismailism 184, 185, 192–193, 199
role of religion in appointing the arbitrator in Islamic Sharia 203–204
non-discrimination and party autonomy 201–210
normative systems 191–192
paideic arbitration 182–190
arbitration as a paideic institution 183–187
Garcia v. Church of Scientology (Scientological arbitration and contract of adhesion) 188–190
Rebmann v. Rohde (Jewish arbitrator and descendant of Nazis) 187–188 terminology 185
religious identity 201–210
sub-rationalities 190, 191 ‘unsolvable’ cases, using private international law to deal with alternative reasoning in Jivraj 197–199
from case to theory 199–200
context (Ismailis/Nizari Ismailis) 192–193
court decisions 195–197
intermingled rationalities 190–192
techniques of private international law for re-mastered legal reasoning 194–195
from theory to case 195–199
see also Jivraj v. Hashwani (2010)
reproductive agreements, cross-border effects 495–503
see also surrogacy
commercial surrogacy as an unregulated transnational activity 496–498 regulatory blind spots in international surrogacy agreements 498–499 RICO see Racketeering and Corrupt Influenced Organizations Act (RICO)
Riles, Annelise 192, 194, 462
RJR Nabisco, Inc. v. European Community (2016) 282–301 as 4-3 decision 292
jurisdictional conflict and presumption against extraterritoriality 291–292
plaintiffs 289, 296, 298, 299
reach of rights, defining in other terms 4 RICO’s extraterritorial application and presumption of extraterritoriality 283–292 applying presumption to private cause of action 288–291
applying presumption to substantive provisions 285–288
background 283–285
summary of facts of case and judgment 282
transborder legal effects of domestic statutes and court decisions, implausibility of coordinating by international law 292–301 politics of engagement with international law 300–301 scholarly debates 296–300
spheres of domestic jurisdiction ideal 293–295

Role of U.S. Enterprise Abroad (Vernon) 21
rule of law
Petrobras and mestizo international law 381–391 investment dispute settlement as alternative rule of law 389–391 ‘primitive’ 391
in ‘primitive’ world, questioning 381–391 role in ATS litigation context 248 competition

firm competition alongside State competition 214–216 through intellectual property law 213–223
and travelling corporations 216–222
global corruption and economic power 223–235
comparison of Germany, South Korea and Brazil 232–234
concentration of 223–235
government relations 223–235 and Petrobras oil scandal 223–235 and Siemens bribery system 224, 227–229 government relations and Samsung 230–232 intellectual property law, competing through 213–223 firm competition alongside State competition 214–216
travelling corporations 216–222 mobile phone market 214
plaintiffs 225
shortcomings of literal reading 213 South Korea, Samsung’s influence on 219, 224, 231, 232, 234
summary of facts of case and judgment 212
Santander v. Transport Companies see Banco Santander v. Transport Companies (2016)
Sassen, Saskia 243
Saudi Arabia, arbitration laws 204–205
Schiff Berman, Paul 419
Scientology, arbitration and contract of adhesion 188–190
second-look doctrine 79–81, 91
Selden (Gregory) v. Airbnb, Inc. (2016) 416–435 see also global contract governance Airbnb platform and collaborative economy 424 determining whether a global law exists 417–435 experimental contract governance in 5 global anti-discrimination law on digital platforms, point of departure 424–435 from American arbitration to global non-discrimination policy 432–434 class actions and dispute arbitration in consumer protection, comparative perspective 428–429 consumer protection in US and Europe 429–432
co-regulation 435
limits of domestic approach 426–427
plaintiffs 429
summary of facts of case and judgment 416
Shteyngart, Gary, Super Sad True Love Story 221
Song Mao & Tate & Lyle (2013) 4, 9, 118–150
see also Cambodia; Cambodian ‘blood sugar’ scandal Brussels I Recast Regulation and jurisdictional issues 119–121, 123–124 contribution to private international law 119 distribution of regulatory competence 119 final developments unknown 150 global supply chains, regulatory potential 120, 125–127 global value chains, problems of designing a legal infrastructure to background and context 131–134
choice of law 130, 134
civil procedure 138
foreign host country involvement 139
in globalised economic systems 130–140
private-law analysis 134–138
public/private divide, crossing 139
structure of chain 132–133
immoveable property, title to 119–120 indigenous norms/rights 145, 147
land rights, concern with 119
ambiguities of 2001 Land Law 144–145
blurred frontiers and actors 146 Communication to International Criminal Court (2014) 128 dealings as crimes against humanity 128
dispossession of land, crime of 128–129
economic land concessions (ELC) 146
foreign land and sovereignty 122–124
Land Clearance Agents 132
Land Law 131, 132, 137, 138
Land Law of 2001 144–148
land-grabbing 130, 140, 146–149
preclusive jurisdiction 124
publicity 128
systems of land title in Cambodian law 122, 129
title considered ‘non-justiciable’ 124 litigation of the Cambodian ‘blood sugar’ scandal in English courts 118–130 foreign land and sovereignty 122–124
private international law questions 120–122
supply chain, regulatory potential 125–127, 129
oral customary principles, integrating in private international law 140–150 coexistence of two types of ownership (property and possession) 145–150 historical background 141–145
injunction of analogy 148–150
legal form 147–148
scale, setting 140–141
paradox of 146
plaintiffs 134–136, 138
private international law questions 120–122
Brussels regime 119–121, 123–124
choice of law 119, 122
human rights violations 128
prospects and limitations of ‘private’ litigation 127–129 regulatory technique concern 127
Rome II Regulation 121, 122
scarcity of information on case 127 sovereignty and foreign land 122–124
summary of facts of case and judgment 118, 119
sovereign debt markets
see also Argentina v. NML Capital, Ltd. (2014) Brady Plan 259
collective action clauses (CACs) 268
debt restructurings of 1980s 259–260, 262 global market for 255–270
legal enforcement in modern sovereign debt markets 263–270
changes in legal enforcement 266
determining whether requiring extraordinary remedies 265–266 management of litigation risk in sovereign debt markets 267–268 litigation risk management 267–268
pari passu clause 256–258
injunction 265, 266, 269
private market for sovereign debt 4
Sovereign Debt Restructuring Mechanism, IMF proposal for 262, 263 strength of contract, measuring against sovereign immunity 256–263
bankruptcy rule 259
debt restructurings of 1980s 259–260, 262
intermediary conclusions 258
negotiation of IMF with sovereigns 261–262
pari passu clause 256–258, 265, 266, 269
resolution of Argentina’s default 256–258
retrospective examination of case 262–263
Stand-By Agreement 261
vulture funds 256
sovereignty bifurcation of 101, 102 defensive 109
and foreign land 122–124
by-passing of 101
Global private international law

and transnational law 103 speech, commercial 164–165
Spiro, Herbert 21
Springer, S. 146
standards see codes of conduct and standards Stewart, Richard 419
sugar case see Cambodian ‘blood sugar’ scandal; Song Mao & Tate & Lyle (2013)
supply chain capitalism 237, 238, 244 see also capitalism; Doe v. Nestle (2014);
global supply chains
‘aiding and abetting’ at time of 239–241
cheapness at beginning and end of 241–242
economic reality test 240
Harkin-Engel protocol 242
joint-employer doctrine 240
Supreme Court of the United States see under United States
surrogacy 494–509
see also Mennesson v. France (2014) balancing surrogacy, interests of a child and parenthood 504–509
ECHR decisions, framework resulting from 499–504
international surrogacy in practice
following 501–504 obligation for States to recognise the civil status resulting from foreign birth certificate 499–500 possibility to disregard links that are not genetically established 500–501 harmonisation of private international law acts of foreign public authorities 507–508
determination of applicable law 508–509
foreign court decision 504–507
future solutions 509 grounds for non-recognition 505 international reproductive agreements, cross-border effects 495–503
international surrogacy in practice following ECHR decision 501–504 discouraging intended parents from hiding surrogacy services abroad 502 improvement in governance 502–504
refusal of recognition not efficiently preventing conclusion of surrogacy
agreements 502–504
and posthumous insemination 525–527
and private international law 495–504
commercial surrogacy as an unregulated
transnational activity 496–498
cross-border effects of international
reproductive agreements 495–499
ECHR decisions, framework resulting from 499–504
harmonisation 504–509
regulatory blind spots in international
surrogacy agreements 498–499
Teubner, Gunter 8, 11, 180, 419
Texaco/Chevron lawsuits (re Ecuador) see Aguinda v. ChevronTexaco (2012)
Tomuschat, Christian 294 tort actions building a tort case as transnational law 107–114
administrative barriers to claims 110 Anglo-American common law systems 108 blocking statutes 108
contingency fees 110
innovation in tort law 109–110
legal barriers to claims 108
suing of corporate entities in jurisdiction
of incorporation 108 ways of financing and organising transnational litigation 111
tort of conversion 122, 135–136
Tortuous Evolution of the Multinational Corporation, The (Perlmutter) 21
Traficura lawsuits (re Ivory Coast), 2009 3, 92–116
see also environmental damage bifurcation of sovereignty 101, 102 and British legal system 97–98 as business model 112–113 creating of scandal 96
criticism of Ivorian government and court system’s responses 106
denial of criminal liability for damage created by dumping of hazard waste 99 evaluation of 115–116
framing as substance or approach, doctrine or process 114–116
‘gate-keeper’ state 102
Greenpeace involvement 96, 97
hazardous waste dumped in city of Abidjan 93, 95–96, 99
implosion of litigations 97–99, 100
interlegality 100
Leigh Day & Co. (UK firm) complexity of role 113 embezzlement of settlement funds secured by Leigh Day 100
innovation in tort law 109
as pioneers in transnational litigation 97 resources 96–97 ‘messiness of landscape’ in 100 NGO claims and reports 105, 107, 113, 114 by-passing of sovereignty, reading of case as 101
plaintiffs 106, 111, 112
profit, opportunity to 112–113 public international law problem, Trafigura seen as 105, 106, 115 seeing as example of failure of domestic legal proceedings 105–106 seeming as example of failure of international arrangements 105, 106 size of lawsuit 94 socio-political perspective 93–102 benefits of 94–95
law, politics and economics articulation in Trafigura case 100–102 State failure 106, 107
summary of facts of case and judgment 92, 93, 104 tort case, building as transnational law 107–114 administrative barriers to claims 110
Anglo-American common law systems 108 claims in Trafigura actions 107–108
contingency fees 110
innovation in tort law 109–110
legal barriers to claims 108
ways of financing and organising transnational litigation 111 Trafigura still conducting business in Côte d’Ivoire 93, 102 transnational law in actions as problems 102–116 articulation between law, politics and economics 100–102 building a tort case 107–114
cases as method 103–107
complexity of 94
converting an environmental and human disaster into a transnational case 93–102 corporate liability related to environmental damage in 92–116 determining in whose interest shift to transnational litigation occurs 106 group claims 97, 98
legal loopholes and political resistance concerning hazardous waste 93
Leigh Day & Co. as pioneers in litigation 97 need for trans-jurisdictional litigation 106 tort claims 107–108
UK professional market for transnational litigation 97
turning a human and environmental scandal into a judicial case 95–97 transnational corporations (TNCs), human rights litigation against see agribusiness sector, transnational human rights litigation in transnational law see also global law; private international law; public international law access-to-justice gap 72–73 building a tort case as 107–114 cases as method in 103–107
class actions 3
emergence of 417–424
group claims 97
human rights and agribusiness sector 244–254 need for transnational perspectives 21 sociological research on litigation 95–96 and sovereignty 103
status of ‘transnational’ child 5 Trafigura lawsuits (environmental damage) actions as problems 102–116 articulation between law, politics and economics 100–102
building a tort case 107–114
cases as method 103–107
complexity of 94
converting an environmental and human disaster into a transnational case 93–102 Leigh Day & Co. as pioneers in litigation 97
tort claims 107–108
598 Global private international law

UK professional market for transnational litigation 97

and transnational global production 242–244

ways of financing and organising transnational litigation 111

travelling corporations see also competition law; intellectual property (IP) law; monopolies; Samsung Electronics Co Ltd litigation (2016) and competition 216–221 intellectual property and the State 221–222

Tsing, Anna 243

UNCITRAL (United Nations Commission on International Trade Law)

see also arbitration

arbitration proceedings 57, 60

ordre public, violation of 85

Rules 65

unconscionability 188, 189, 429

United Kingdom/English law

Brussels Convention, introducing to 37

Cambodian ‘blood sugar’ scandal 119, 122, 123, 135, 136

financial markets 456, 462, 465, 467, 469

financial scandal 273–275

forum non conveniens doctrine see forum non conveniens doctrine free movement of corporations 436, 439

global supply chains 252

insolvency regulation 274

interpretation, divergence in 334, 340, 344, 345

judicial discretion and forum non conveniens doctrine 44

legal personality 439

party autonomy 24, 27

posthumous insemination and consent to treatment 513

religion and arbitration 182, 183, 188, 191, 196, 197

transnational litigation market 97

United Nations

Agenda for Sustainable Development (2030) 538

Commission on International Trade Law see UNCITRAL (United Nations Commission on International Trade Law)

Convention on the Rights of the Child (UNCRC) 531, 565

Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights 75, 318

United States

see also Alien Tort Statute (ATS), US;
Microsoft Corp. v. United States (Microsoft Ireland) (In re Warrant to Search a Certain E–Mail Account Controlled & Maintained by Microsoft Corp. (2016))

Alien Tort Statute (ATS) see Alien Tort Statute (ATS), US

American Constitution 190

Faith and Credit Clause 395

First Amendment 161–165, 190, 394–396, 401–402

American Law Institute, principles of 74

Anglo-American common law systems 108

antitrust law 79, 80, 81

arbitrable claims arising under US antitrust laws 77

The Bremen see Bremen v. Zapata Off–Shore Co. (US, 1972); forum selection clauses

CLOUD Act 397, 408–410

competition law 168

complexities of law, in ATS 303–304

demise of international human rights litigation in US courts, whether 303–309

Dominican Republic-Central America-United States Free Trade Agreement (CAFTA-DR) 65

Ecuador litigation, involvement in 62–66

federal statutory claims, arbitration of 77–79

First Amendment to Constitution
codes of conduct and standards 161–165

data dominance 394–396, 401–402

religion and arbitration 190

forum non conveniens doctrine in 36–37, 72 informal codes see codes of conduct and standards; Kasky (Mark) v. Nike (2002) and insider trading 364–365

New York Convention

forum selection clauses 31

ordre public exception 80 ratification of 62, 84 recognition and enforcement obligations of US courts 80

second-look doctrine 80

Horatia Muir Watt, Lucia Biziková, Agatha Brandão de Oliveira and Diego P. Fernandez Arroyo - 9781788119238

Downloaded from Elgar Online at 07/16/2019 11:12:39AM via free access