Contributors

Lise Aaboen is Professor of Technology-Based Entrepreneurship in the Department of Industrial Economics and Technology Management at the Norwegian University of Science and Technology, Norway. Her research interests include incubators, new technology-based firms, and entrepreneurship education.

Torgeir Aadland is Associate Professor of Entrepreneurship in the Department of Industrial Economics and Technology Management at the Norwegian University of Science and Technology, Norway. His research interests include entrepreneurship education and entrepreneurial careers.

Ali J. Ahmad is a Senior Teaching Fellow at WMG, University of Warwick, UK. He is the author of a textbook on entrepreneurship, and regularly publishes in academic journals. Ahmad is a Senior Fellow of the UK Higher Education Academy, and holds a fellowship of Enterprise Educators, UK.

Alberto Albahari is an Associate Professor at the University of Malaga, Spain, where he teaches management and innovation. His main research interests deal with innovation policies, knowledge intensive environments and academia–industry relations.

Nasir Ali is a venture capitalist and the CEO and co-founder of Upstate Venture Connect (uvc.org). Ali launched the Syracuse Technology Garden incubator in 2004 and is the Managing Director of StartFast Venture Accelerator. He received his BS from Princeton University and an MBA from Yale University.

Wassim J. Aloulou is an Associate Professor in Entrepreneurship in the College of Economics and Administrative Sciences at Imam Mohammad Ibn Saud Islamic University, Riyadh, Saudi Arabia. He is an article editor of Sage Open and has published in several entrepreneurship journals.

Chaffik Bakkali is a Senior Lecturer in Entrepreneurship and Management Control at the University of Montpellier, France. His research focuses on the development of management control systems for business incubators. He has published in various high ranked academic journals.

Jasmina Berbegal-Mirabent is an Associate Professor at the Universitat Internacional de Catalunya, Spain. Her research interests are in the areas of strategic planning and management of higher education institutions, academic entrepreneurship, knowledge and technology transfer.

Dzamila Bienkowska is an Associate Professor in Industrial Organization at Linköping University, Sweden. Her main areas of research are academic entrepreneurship, regional development, and support systems for innovation and entrepreneurship within entrepreneurial ecosystems.
Martin Bliemel is the Director of Research at the TD School at the University of Technology Sydney (UTS), Australia. His research covers entrepreneurship, innovation and technology management, innovation systems, and entrepreneurship education.

Johan Braet is a Professor of Innovation Management and Environmental Management in the Faculty of Business and Economics and the Faculty of Design Sciences at the University of Antwerp, Belgium. His research covers entrepreneurship, innovation, sustainability, and risk management.

Bart Clarysse holds the Chair of Entrepreneurship at ETH Zurich, Switzerland. His research interests focus on evolution of technology ventures and corporate entrepreneurship. He has taught for multinationals and is a founder of several high-tech start-ups in digital cinema and mobile internet.

Steven D’Alessandro is the Associate Head of Research in the School of Management and Marketing at the University of Tasmania, Australia. His research is motivated by helping companies make better decisions regarding consumers and governments in setting policies to assist consumer welfare.

Sven H. De Cleyn is the Managing Director of Imec.istart Fund and manages its accelerator program. De Cleyn specializes in the areas of technology transfer, entrepreneurship, academic spin-offs and their performance assessment.

Michael D’Eredita is the Director of the Keenan Center for Entrepreneurship, Innovation and Creativity at the Madden School of Business, Le Moyne College, Syracuse, New York, USA.

Kari Djupdal is a Senior Researcher at the Department of Industrial Economics and Technology Management, Norwegian University of Science and Technology, Norway. She holds a PhD from Nord University. Her research interests include student entrepreneurship, studies of small firms and sustainability.

Cornelis Eldering is Head of the Space Solutions Section of the Innovation and Ventures Office at the European Space Agency (ESA). He is responsible for ESA’s Business Incubation Centers. He is also a part-time PhD student at Rotterdam School of Management, Erasmus University in the Netherlands.

Henry Etzkowitz is Founding President of the Triple Helix Association and Editor of its journal, Triple Helix. Former academic positions include: Chair of Innovation, Creativity and Enterprise, Newcastle University, UK and Lecturer in STS, Stanford University, USA.

Klaus Fichter is Adjunct Professor of Innovation Management and Sustainability at the Carl von Ossietzky University of Oldenburg, Germany. He founded the Borderstep Institute for Innovation and Sustainability and directs research on sustainable innovation and green start-ups.

Aline Figlioli is a Research Fellow at the Centre for Change, Entrepreneurship, and Innovation Management (CENTRIM) at the University of Brighton, UK. Her research interests are innovation intermediaries including science and technology parks, incubators, accelerators, and innovation habitats.
Contributors

Ricardo Flores is an Assistant Professor in the Gustavson Business School at the University of Victoria, Canada. He received his PhD from the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. His research explores organizational adaptation and innovation across contexts.

Nobuya Fukugawa is an Associate Professor in the Graduate School of Engineering at Tohoku University, Sendai, Japan. His research focuses on the policy and management aspects of innovation and entrepreneurship.

Maribel Guerrero is an Associate Professor at Newcastle Business School, Northumbria University, UK and a Professor of Entrepreneurship at the School of Business and Economics Universidad del Desarrollo, Chile. She is associate editor of the Journal of Technology Transfer and an officer at the Academy of Management, ENT Division.

Dag Håkon Haneberg is Associate Professor of entrepreneurship in the Department of Industrial Economics and Technology Management at the Norwegian University of Science and Technology, Norway. His research interests include student venture incubators, entrepreneurial learning, and entrepreneurial careers.

Geoff Harrison is an Associate at Cultivating Leadership. His research and practice focus on entrepreneurship, entrepreneurship assistance, learning and education. He received a PhD in Management from Victoria University of Wellington, New Zealand.

Syed Zahoor Hassan is Professor Emeritus and former Vice Chancellor of Lahore University of Management Sciences, Lahore, Pakistan. He serves on the boards of several Pakistani companies and consults with various organizations and universities in technology management and entrepreneurship.

J. Piet Hausberg is a Senior Consultant at Ramboll Management Consulting and holds the Chair of Technology and Innovation Management at the University of Osnabruck, Germany. His research interests, besides incubation, cover open innovation and crowdfunding. He holds a PhD from LUISS University, Rome, Italy.

David Hochman is a consultant in technology-based economic development. He served as the founding Executive Director of the Business Incubator Association of New York State, USA. Hochman holds an AB from Princeton University and an MBA from New York University. He held an adjunct faculty appointment at NYU’s Wagner School.

Willem Hulsink is Associate Professor Strategic Management and Entrepreneurship in the Rotterdam School of Management at Erasmus University, the Netherlands. His research interests include new venture creation, entrepreneurial networking, and entrepreneurship development in different contexts.

Karsten Hurrelmann is Senior Researcher in the Department of Business Administration, Economics and Law at the Carl von Ossietzky University of Oldenburg, Germany. His research focuses on strategic management, corporate social responsibility, sustainability, and climate adaptation strategies.

Saskia de Klerk is the Higher Degree Coordinator in the School of Business and Creative Industries at the University of the Sunshine Coast, Australia. She is also an Extraordinary Fellow and Associate Professor at the North-West University, South Africa.
Africa. Her research includes transitioning entrepreneurship, innovation, and regional entrepreneurial ecosystems.

Magnus Klofsten is Full Professor and Founding Director of the Centre for Innovation and Entrepreneurship (CIE) at Linköping University, Sweden. He is an internationally recognized scholar for his research on young and emerging firms, entrepreneurial intentions, academic entrepreneurship, and the support of entrepreneurial processes.

Mirjam Knockaert is an Associate Professor at Ghent University, Belgium, and Visiting Professor at Technical University of Munich, Germany. Her research interests include entrepreneurial teams, corporate governance, academic entrepreneurship and technology transfer.

Sabrina Korreck is a Senior Fellow at the Observer Research Foundation in New Delhi, India. Her research focuses on the digital economy. She holds a PhD from the University of Hamburg, held the position of Chair of Management and Digital Markets at the University of Hamburg and worked as a business analyst in the Berlin start-up scene.

Wadid Lamine is an Associate Professor of entrepreneurship in the Telfer School of Management at the University of Ottawa, Canada. He is an internationally recognized scholar for his research on technology entrepreneurship, entrepreneurial networks, and incubation support mechanisms.

Marnie LaVigne is President of Launch New York Inc., which she co-founded as a nonprofit venture development organization. Prior to this LaVigne served as Associate Vice President for Economic Development at SUNY Buffalo, USA. She holds a PhD from the University of Rochester.

Laura Lecluyse is a Postdoctoral Researcher at Ghent University, Belgium. Her research interests are in the areas of academic entrepreneurship and entrepreneurial support.

Hans Löfsten is Full Professor in Engineering Economic Analysis in the Department of Technology Management and Economics at Chalmers University of Technology, Gothenburg, Sweden. His main research interests are in the fields of entrepreneurship, innovation management and operations management.

Karim Messeghem is a Professor in Entrepreneurship and Strategy at the University of Montpellier, France. He founded the Montpellier Management Institute, the Labex Entreprendre, and co-directs the Jacques Coeur Chair for Entrepreneurial Support. His research interests are entrepreneurial ecosystems and SMEs.

Jasmine Meysman is a Postdoctoral Researcher and Lecturer in Management in the Faculties of Business, Economics and Applied Engineering at the University of Antwerp, Belgium. Her research expertise lies in the field of technology transfer, innovation, university spin-offs and student entrepreneurship.

Sarfraz A. Mian is Full Professor of Entrepreneurship and Management Policy at the State University of New York (SUNY), Oswego, NY, USA. Mian has 30 years of research and consulting experience in new venture development through incubation and related entrepreneurship policy issues. He is an internationally recognized researcher and the most cited scholar on business incubation and acceleration.
Morgan P. Miles is Professor of Entrepreneurship at Charles Sturt University, Australia. He holds a DBA in Marketing from Mississippi State University. His research currently is focused on using entrepreneurship for rural economic and community development.

Francesc Miralles is the Dean of the International School of Commerce and Digital Economy and Director of the Innova Institute, La Salle, Ramon Llull University, Spain. His research work focuses on innovation and entrepreneurship. He has held corporate level positions in various technology firms.

Michael Mitsopoulos is Director of Business Environment and Regulatory Affairs at the Hellenic Federation of Enterprises. He holds a PhD from Boston University. His recently co-authored book is: Who is to Blame for Greece? How Austerity and Populism are Destroying a Country with High Potential (Palgrave Macmillan).

Erik Noyes is an Associate Professor of Entrepreneurship at Babson College, USA. He is the Founding Faculty Director of the Weissman Foundry of the College. Noyes is an editor for the Learning Innovations section of the journal Entrepreneurship Education & Pedagogy (EE&P).

Claudia Pavani holds a PhD in business administration from University of São Paulo (USP), Brazil and is a Research Associate at USP’s Center for Technology Policy and Management. She is an expert in the funding and venture capital support of start-ups, small and medium enterprises.

Josep Miquel Pique is the Executive President of Technova Barcelona and is a researcher at the Innova Institute, La Salle, Ramon Llull University, Spain. He has been the CEO of @Barcelona and CEO of the Office of Economic Growth of Barcelona. He served as president of International Association of Science Parks and Areas of Innovation.

Sheila Oliveira Pires is an expert with several years of experience in business incubators, accelerators, science and technology parks and other areas of innovation. She holds a BS in business administration and an MS in scientific and technological information science from Aix-Marseille University, France.

Guilherme Ary Plonski is full professor at University of São Paulo (USP), Brazil and is the Director of USP’s Institute of Advanced Studies. He oversees USP’s Center for Technology Policy and Management and is the Deputy-Coordinator of its Innovation Center. He is the past President of ANPROTEC, Brazil.

Shahid Qureshi is Associate Professor and Program Director of the Center for Entrepreneurial Development at IBA Karachi, Pakistan. Qureshi is engaged in various national and international initiatives to promote poverty alleviation through entrepreneurship. He holds a PhD from the Technical University Berlin.

Tiago Ratinho is Associate Professor of Entrepreneurship at IÉSEG School of Management, Paris, France. He holds a PhD from the University of Twente. He maintains a global profile conducting research and teaching in the USA, Brazil and France on incubation, effectuation, and technology entrepreneurship.

Mark P. Rice is a Professor of Entrepreneurship at Babson College, USA. For over 35 years, he has participated in the development of university-based entrepreneurship ecosystems at three universities. He served as the Director of the RPI Incubator Program and Chairman of the National Business Incubation Association. Rice previously held leadership positions as WPI Business Dean and Babson College Provost.

Sylvie Sammut is a Professor in Entrepreneurship and Strategy at the University of Montpellier, France. Sammut is the Director of Montpellier Research in Entrepreneurship and Co-director of research programs in the LabEx Entreprendre. She is Vice President of the French Academy of Entrepreneurship and Innovation.

Supriya Sharma is a Partner and Research Head at the Centre for Innovation, Incubation and Entrepreneurship (CIIE), Indian Institute of Management, Ahmedabad, India. She has published her incubation and entrepreneurship research in scholarly journals and presented her work on various professional platforms.

Vetle Slagsvold Oien holds an MSc in entrepreneurship from the NTNU School of Entrepreneurship, Norway. He is the co-founder and CMO of Cosgear (Cosgear.com).

Danny Soetanto is Associate Professor of Entrepreneurship and Innovation at Lancaster University Management School, UK. His research contributes to the domains of entrepreneurship, innovation with specific interests on start-ups, academic entrepreneurship, and incubators.

Roger Sørheim is Professor of Entrepreneurship in the Department of Industrial Economics and Technology Management at the Norwegian University of Science and Technology and Nord University, Norway. The focus of his research is early-stage finance, commercialization of technology and entrepreneurship education.

Abdelaziz Swalhi is a Lecturer at the University of Montpellier, France, and member of the Montpellier Recherche in Management Laboratory and Labex Entreprendre. His research work currently focuses on human resources management and performance of SMEs.

Jana Thiel holds a PhD from Ecole Polytechnique Federale de Lausanne (EPFL) and is currently a Senior Researcher at ETH Zurich, Switzerland. Her research areas are entrepreneurial strategy and technology-market choices in technology ventures as well as processes and dynamics of entrepreneurial teams.

Jonas Van hove is currently an Innovation Manager at Vinçotte, Brussels, Belgium, where he has been leading several innovation projects, for example building a traceability platform for food supply chain solutions. Jonas holds a PhD from Ghent University on the topic of accelerating deep-tech ventures.

Neharika Vohra is a full-time Faculty at the Indian Institute of Management, Ahmedabad, India. She serves on the board of the Centre for Innovation, Incubation and Entrepreneurship (CIE). She has a PhD in psychology from Canada. Her research interests include entrepreneurship, incubation, and governance.

Cunjun Wang is a PhD student in the Business Administration School at South China University of Technology, Guangzhou, China. Her research focuses on technological entrepreneurship and entrepreneurial ecosystems.

Li Xiao is Associate Professor at the University of Leicester School of Business, UK. Her publications reflect her research interests including entrepreneurial finance, early-stage high-tech ventures, institutional change and network ties.

Zhi Xu is Professor and Associate Dean of the Business Administration School at South China University of Technology, China. His research areas include government R&D subsidies, technological entrepreneurship, and technological business incubators.