Acknowledgments

Editors: Jana Schmutzler is grateful for the financial support for this research received from Colciencias through grant 121577657885 as well as the financial support from Colciencias-DAAD through grant 58955.

Chapter 2: Guilherme de Oliveira Santos and Antonio Pedro da Costa e Silva Lima greatly appreciate the support of CAPES (Brazil) – financing code 001. The funding was indispensable for the continuity of the studies and research.

Chapter 4: Jana Schmutzler is grateful for the financial support for this research received from Colciencias through grant 121577657885 as well as the financial support from Colciencias-DAAD through grant 58955.

Chapter 5: The authors gratefully acknowledge the funding from the VLIR IUC program with Universidad Católica Boliviana (UCB), which made possible the visits to Bolivia to conduct field research. The authors also thank colleagues from the UCB who facilitated the links with local contacts in Bolivia during the data collection across the country. Separate thanks for the founding partners of the VUB Chair of Social Entrepreneurship in Belgium (Close the Gap, Euroclear and BNP Paribas Fortis) for their trust, support and funding of the research activities.

Chapter 6: Jon Mikel Zabala-Iturriagoitia is indebted to the European Commission for the funding provided to develop the Advancing Knowledge-Intensive Entrepreneurship and Innovation for Economic Growth and Social Well-being in Europe (AEGIS), Grant Agreement number 225134. In particular, the author would like to thank Slavo Radosevic and Esin Yoruk for their support and commitment during the execution of the AEGIS project in general, and the development of the work package “Knowledge-intensive entrepreneurship and national innovation systems” in particular. The chapter is based on the results of this work package.

Chapter 8: The authors thank Dr. Sara Amoroso, Joint Research Centre European Commission, Sevilla, Spain and Dr. Lebene Soga at University of Reading for helpful comments and support at the earlier stage of this project.

Chapter 9: The authors are very grateful to Professors Jana Schmutzler, Alexandra Tsvetkova, Miguel Atienza and an anonymous reviewer for the constructive and helpful comments and suggestions. Félix Modrego thanks the Chilean National Commission of Scientific and Technological Research for the financial support through the Fondecyt Initiation in Research Fund 2019 (Grant: 11190112).

Chapter 11. The authors thank Economic Development Secretary Office at the Mayor of Bogotá for the financial support to this research developed between 2009 to 2014, in particular to Adriana Montenegro for her government auditor role in the administrative support process. The authors also thank to Oliver García, David Pescador, Rafael Vesga, Jorge Hernandez, Martha Hernandez, as members of the research team.
