

Contents

List of contributors	vii
Acknowledgements	x
Introduction Susy Frankel	1
PART I CULTURAL OBJECTIVES AND DEVELOPMENT GOALS
1. From ‘Oomoo’ to ‘Oro’: nostalgia labels and cultural policy on the Australian trade marks register Megan Richardson, Julian Thomas and Jill Klein	7
2. A successful recalibration of patent law vis-à-vis mātauranga Māori ? A case study of Mānuka (Leptospermum scoparium) Jessica C. Lai	30
3. A TWAIL-Constructivist critique of the IP and development divide in the age of innovation – has the protection of place-based goods changed the narrative for the Caribbean? Marsha S. Cadogan	57
4. New frameworks for the ownership and licensing of traditional knowledge associated with genetic resources in Africa Enyinna Nwauche	90
PART II DESIGNS AND PACKAGING AND THE PURPOSE OF INTERNATIONAL AND REGIONAL FRAMEWORKS
5. Designing disclosure: disclosure of cultural and genetic resource utilisation in design protection regimes Margo A. Bagley	110

6. Lost in communication: a few thoughts on the object and purpose of the EU design protection Anna Tischner	154
7. Tobacco plain packaging, human rights and the object and purpose of international trade mark protection Genevieve Wilkinson	182
PART III INNOVATION AND ENFORCEMENT OBJECTIVES IN THE EUROPEAN UNION
8. Patents, supplementary protection certificates and data exclusivity at the service of pharmaceuticals Žaneta Pacud	218
9. Developing policies that leverage research and innovation to retain socio-economic benefits – the strategic use of intellectual property Helen Yu	240
10. Patent invalidation and legal certainty Christoph Ann	268
11. Intellectual property rights in a digital environment: an EU-wide mapping of available legislative enforcement measures Ana Nordberg and Knud Wallberg	281
PART IV ASPECTS OF COPYRIGHT AND THEIR RELATIONSHIP TO OVERALL PURPOSE
12. Use and abuse of neighbouring rights and the growing need for a sound understanding: the case of online news protection in Europe Valentina Moscon	308
13. Making derivative works without authorisation and the interpretation of originality and creativity under Thailand’s copyright law Chongnang Wiputhanupong	333
14. The collective management system of copyright and related rights in Europe: competitive aspects Maria Letizia Bixio	358
Index	383