ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This Guide to the Anti-Tax Avoidance Directive is the latest collaborative effort of a network of European and international tax experts, which includes renowned academics, leading tax practitioners, and relevant governmental bodies. This network, assembled by the ATOZ Chair for European and International Taxation at the University of Luxembourg, was established to facilitate dialogue among the critical actors in the area of European and international taxation and grew out of collegial relationships between the ATOZ Chair and esteemed colleagues from the Johannes Kepler University of Linz, the Vienna University of Economics and Business, and the ECJ Task Force, an expert group on EU Tax Law from CFE Tax Advisers Europe, to which the editors are grateful.

We would also like to express our sincere gratitude to all the contributors for their commitment to this book’s publication and for their diligent adherence to the guidelines set for the chapters by the editors. Moreover, we want to thank the ATOZ Foundation for its generous sponsorship of the research coordinated by the ATOZ Chair, which made publication of this book possible.

We further owe thanks to our publisher Edward Elgar and, especially, Stephanie Tytherleigh and Luke Adams, for their professional and kind assistance through the publication process. Finally, the timely publication of this book in its current form would not have been possible without the dedicated copy-editing work of Suzanne M. Larsen.
