About the editors

Vida Škudienė is Professor in Management, Head of the MSc programme Innovation and Technology Management at ISM University of Management and Economics and serves as a visiting professor at Nagoya University of Commerce and Business, Japan. She conducted her PhD research at University of South Carolina, USA. Her research concentrates on organizational behaviour, innovation management, and relationship marketing. Professor Škudienė has presented her research at international conferences in France, Japan, Israel, USA (Hawaii, Chicago), Greece, Croatia, France, Spain, Norway, Jamaica, Sweden, Portugal and Italy (Boccioni) and published over 40 articles. She has taught and done research at EDHEC university in France, IPAM Instituto Portugues de Administracao de Marketing and Catholica University in Portugal, Zagreb School of Economics and Management in Croatia, Reykjavik University in Iceland, Aarhus University in Denmark, Salento University in Italy, and University of Northern Colorado, USA. Professor Škudienė is a member of editorial review boards of Baltic Journal of Management, Business and Economics Journal and Organizations and Markets in Emerging Economies and is a recipient of several research awards such as ISM Distinguished Scholar Award, Best Paper Award from Clute Institute, The International Academy of Business and Public Administration Disciplines and Marketing Management Association Awards, USA.

Jason Li-Ying is Professor in Corporate Entrepreneurship and Innovation and the director of research at the Centre for Technology Entrepreneurship, Technical University of Denmark. He has research interests in technology and innovation management, entrepreneurship in Big Science organizations, strategic management, and technology transfer. His work has been published in scientific journals such as Long Range Planning, Journal of Product Innovation Management, Asia Pacific Journal of Management, Technovation, Technological Forecasting and Social Change, R&D Management, Journal of Knowledge Management, Journal of Technology Transfer, and Management and Organization Review, among others. He is also a member of the journal ranking expert committee for the Danish Ministry of Education and Research. Besides his teaching and research excellence, he also serves as a board member at China-Denmark Innovation House and advisory board for FOM Technology Co. Ltd.

Fabian Bernhard is Associate Professor of Management and part of the Family Business Center at EDHEC Business School in Paris, Lille, and London. He is a research fellow for family business at the University of Mannheim in Germany and previously at Stetson University in Florida. Equipped with the insights from his own family's business, he worked for several years for a renowned financial consulting company in New York. In his academic work he specializes in the emotional dynamics in family businesses, the preparation of next generational leaders, and psychological attachment to the family business. His articles have been published in various academic and practitioner outlets as well as in the public media. He is a recipient of several honours and awards for his work on family businesses, such as The Best Dissertation Honorable Mention by FFI at Harvard. Since 2014 he has been serving on the editorial review boards of the Family Business Review and the Journal of Family Business Strategy. Since 2017 he has been a member of the Board of Directors of the Family Firm Institute in Boston.