
Contents

List of contributors vii

Introduction to the relationships between economic geography and industries:
theory, empirics and modes of analysis 1
Frank Giarratani, Geoffrey J.G. Hewings and Philip McCann

PART I HEAVY INDUSTRIES

- 1 Steel industry restructuring and location 11
Frank Giarratani, Ravi Madhavan and Gene Gruver
- 2 The evolving geography of the US motor vehicle industry 38
Thomas Klier and James M. Rubenstein
- 3 The changing geography of the European auto industry 67
Gill Bentley, David Bailey and Stewart MacNeill

PART II CREATIVE AND CULTURAL INDUSTRIES

- 4 Project-based industries and craft-like production: structure, location and performance 99
Peter B. Doeringer, Pacey Foster, Stephan Manning and David Terkla
- 5 Innovation, industry evolution and cross-sectoral skill transfer in the video game industry: a three-country study 152
Yuko Aoyama and Hiro Izushi
- 6 Spatial divisions of labor: how key worker profiles vary for the same industry in different regions 171
Ann Markusen and Anne Gadwa Nicodemus
- 7 Museums in the neighbourhood: the local economic impact of museums 191
Stephen Sheppard

PART III HIGH-TECHNOLOGY SECTORS

- 8 Spinoff regions: entrepreneurial emergence and regional development in second-tier high-technology regions – observations from the Oregon and Idaho electronics sectors 207
Heike Mayer
- 9 Location, control and firm innovation: the case of the mobile handset industry 230
Ram Mudambi
- 10 How has information technology use shaped the geography of economic activity? 253
Chris Forman

11	R&D, knowledge, economic growth and the transatlantic productivity gap Raquel Ortega-Argilés	271
----	--	-----

PART IV RESOURCE-BASED SECTORS

12	The changing structure of the global agribusiness sector Ruth Rama and Catalina Martínez	305
13	Social capital and the development of industrial clusters: the northwest Ohio greenhouse cluster Michael C. Carroll and Neil Reid	341
14	Computational structure for linking life cycle assessment and input–output modeling: a case study on urban recycling and remanufacturing Joyce Cooper, Randall Jackson and Nancey Green Leigh	355
15	The importance of the water management sector in Dutch agriculture and the wider economy Frank Bruinsma and Mark Bokhorst	371

PART V KNOWLEDGE- AND NETWORK-BASED ACTIVITIES

16	The geography of research and development activity in the US Kristy Buzard and Gerald Carlino	389
17	Offshore assembly and service industries in Latin America Elsie L. Echeverri-Carroll	411
18	The global air transport industry: a comparative analysis of network structures in major continental regions Aisling Reynolds-Feighan	430
19	Innovation in New Zealand: issues of firm size, local market size and economic geography Hong Shangqin, Philip McCann and Les Oxley	459
20	They are industrial districts, but not as we know them! Fiorenza Belussi and Lisa De Propris	479
	Index	493